ALDERMEN MEET

Long Debate on Public Garage on Commonwealth Avenue and Permit Refused

A large number of hearings and a long debate on granting a permit for a public garage on Commonwealth avenue were the principal feature of the regular meeting of the aldermen last Monday night, at which President Blanchard presided and all the members were present.

No one appeared at hearings on underground conduits for the Boston Elevated Co. in Tremont, Park, Washington and Centre streets, or on pole petitions of the Edison Co., Crafts street, Derby street, Tremont street, and for conduits in Church street and of the Telephone Co. for poles on Woodland road all of which were subsequently granted. No one appeared on the matter of Edison poles on Brooks avenue.

Strong objection was voiced by Messrs. E. G. Perry, Robert Chapman, Jr., and H. G. Frederick on the matter of Edison poles on Waltham street, and by Messrs. E. H. Ruby, J. E. Lewis, E. J. Smith, H. H. Skelton, H. W. Colby and G. H. Woolley against Edison poles on Hyde street, by Mr. W. H. Zoller for the Newtonville Universalist Church against Edison poles on Washington park, and by Mr. W. C. Appleton against poles of the Edison and Telephone Companies on Nobscot road.

Mr. F. J. Southwick spoke in favor of concrete sidewalks under the betterment act on Collins road and there was no objection. No one appeared on the matter of concrete sidewalk under the betterment act on Broadway.

Mayor Childs sent in the appointments of Stephen H. Whidden to succeed himself as a member of the Board of Appeals and the appointment was immediately confirmed. He also appointed James Kingman as a member of the Planning Commission in place of Howard P. Converse resigned.

The Mayor also sent in recommendations for various small matters regarding finances, the most important being an addition of $3500 for Water Services, and all of which were subsequently authorized. The Mayor also sent in a recommendation of $85 for urinals at the Hyde school house, and reports of the Street Commissioner of the completion of Beech street, at a cost of $343.60, curbing on Beech street at a cost of $510.27, curbing on Adams street at a cost of $2653.60, construction of Barnstable road at a cost of $196.79 and sidewalk on Lincoln street at a cost of $100.12.

The Mayor also transmitted a communication from the Buildings Commissioner that the conditions in the Old Claffin school house where a school for backward children was being maintained in the second story, were extremely dangerous in case of fire, that screens were needed under the glass skylights at the Technical High School and that stalls were needed for urinals at the Hyde School.

Petitions of the Edison Co. for attachments on Walnut street, Cross street, Wiswall street, Parsons street, Washington street, Central street, and Woodland road, for a relocation of pole on Fuller street, and of the Telephone Co. for removal of pole on Waverley avenue and for attachments on Pearl and Bacon streets were granted. Other petitions were received from R. T. Fowler for relocation of drain from Upland road, Lilla C. Bourne for damages to building by blasting, for sewer in Commonwealth avenue, ward 6, Eva Thurman for common victualer license at 255 Washington street, Burns et al for the laying out of Charlesbank road, and a protest of the Newton Improvement Society against change of name of Newtonville avenue.

The School Committee requested $40 for payment of tuition of Alvin Soul at the Bristol County Agricultural school and there was a strong petition from Newtonville residents headed by Mr. A. M. Lyon for removal being an addition of $3500 for Water

THE SERENADE

Newton Amateurs to Give Opera in Players' Hall

Players Hall will open its dramatic season of 1915-16 with Victor Herbert's popular light opera "The Serenade" as produced by the Newton Amateur Opera Association.

This association, like the Players, has a list of regular subscribers that absorb the only available tickets but it is still possible to procure a few more whole, or half, memberships if applications are sent in this week to Mr. Joseph B. Ross, Treasurer, care of First National Bank, West Newton.

This opera has been successfully coached by Mr. Derby Brown, who played in the production of "The Serenade" during its season's run on the professional stage. As a consequence, the formations and work of the chorus are especially well executed and effective, and the principals throw themselves into their parts with a dash and spirit that are seldom outdone on the real stage.

One of the leading parts of the opera will be sung by Miss Alice Reese of the Harvard Church choir of Brookline, whose beautiful contralto voice is in admirable contrast to the high soprano of Mrs. Joseph B. Ross of the choir of Central Church, Newtonville.

A name that will be new to the theatre-going public of the Newtons is that of the tenor, Mr. Everett Clark, who comes all the way from Quincy, Mass., to sing in the cast.

Mr. William Hambleton, who has been associated with the previous operas presented in Players Hall and has had entire charge of this season's music, will again conduct.

Three performances of the opera will be given on the evenings of Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, Nov. 9, 11, and 12.

Four tickets are sent on a whole membership at the rate of one dollar a ticket.

HAS 2506 MAJORITY

Senator George H. Ellis Re-Elected by a Handsome Vote

Senator George H. Ellis of West Newton was given a handsome endorsement by the voters of the First Middlesex District on Tuesday, his plurality of 1298 and majority of 314 of last year being increased to a majority of 2506, the total figures being 8991 for Mr. Ellis, and 6485 for his Democratic opponent, Edward Carr.

The detailed figures follow.

LARGE VOTE CAST

Increased Majority for McCall and Heavy Vote Against Suffrage

Newton cast a fine vote on Tuesday, 6845 voters showing deep interest in the election and the questions submitted for their decision. 86 per cent of the total registration came out, as compared with 84 per cent at the election one year ago.

Mr. McCall, as was expected, received a large majority having 4026 votes to 2351 for Governor Walsh, both gentlemen increasing the vote they received last year, of 3411 and 2131 respectively. Mr. Shaw, the Prohibition candidate received but 277 votes and Mr. Clark, the Progressive candidate but 79.

Mr. Coolidge for Lieutenant governor received 4300 votes to 2044 for Mr. Barry, while all the Republican candidates on the state ticket received handsome majorities, the average Republican vote exceeding 4300 while the Democratic vote was about 2000. Attorney General Atwill led the state ticket in the city with a vote of 4368. Councillor Mulligan had 4215 to 2111 for Mr. McNally, while Senator George H. Ellis led Mr. Carr by 2120, the vote being Ellis 4278, Carr 2158.

The Republican candidates for representatives were all elected by heavy majorities. Representative Allen having a total of 4268, Representative Weston 4194 and Alderman Jarvis, 4046. The Democratic candidates polled 1808 for Higgins, 1757 for Waters and 1610 for Tierney.

The County officers had even larger majorities, Sheriff Fairbairn with 4423 leading the entire Republican ticket. His opponent had 1804, while Cutting for County Commissioner had 4282 to 1646 for O'Connor. For County Treasurer, Hayden had 4080 to 1761 for Keefe, the Democratic candidate.

Possibly the greatest interest outside of the vote for governor centered in the result of the vote for and against Woman Suffrage. The advocates of suffrage made a gallant fight but were overwhelmed by a vote of 4290 No to 2138 Yes, both figures curiously enough almost approximating the Republican and Democratic vote, although the Democratic precincts cast the heaviest No vote in the entire city.

The Income tax amendment was favored by a vote of 4325 Yes to 1465 No and the Homestead act was likewise approved by a vote of 3924 Yes and 1934 No.

The voting was very heavy in the morning hours, probably 50 per cent of the entire registration being cast by 11 o'clock.

There was no trouble with the election machinery and everything passed off in a remarkably smooth manner.

The returns were slow in coming in, largely due to the heavy vote, Pre-

EDITORIAL

The two interesting features of the state election on Tuesday were the remarkable large vote which was polled and the heavy anti-suffrage vote in the city and state. Few of the advocates for woman suffrage believed that it would be adopted at this election, but a much closer vote was anticipated.

The election of Mr. McCall as governor marks the return of the Republican party to full power in this state, and with a chief executive and legislature working together, the party must accept the entire responsibility for its government.

Friends of Senator Ellis in this city and elsewhere will find great satisfaction in the splendid vote which he received, not only in this city, but in the district. A majority of over 2500 in this district, and serves to indicate to some degree the regard in which Senator Ellis is held.

The Republican candidates for the Legislature received the strong Republican endorsement always given in this city.

The vote to accept the amendment to the constitution on the taxation question was most satisfactory, but is somewhat offset by the equally strong endorsement given the doubtful question of state homesteads. It is very evident that outside of matters which receive considerable discussion and agitation, the average voter will vote Yes on almost any matter placed on the ballot for his decision.

The tragedy last week at Peabody gives considerable emphasis to the reports made by the Building Commission during the past three years on the condition of our school buildings, and in particular to the dangerous conditions existing at the Old Cladin School house. The school committee should at once remove the class of backward and deficient children from the third floor of this building to a room where it would be easier to lead them outside in case of fire. It is bad enough to have normal children on the third floor of a fire trap and it is incomprehensible that the school committee should take such a room for children of this nature. This class should be removed to a safer location at once or it should be immediately discontinued.

For the benefit of those persons who may be inclined to be hysterical on this subject, it can be said that, as a rule, the school buildings in this city are in a fairly safe condition, and that a thorough investigation is now going on to determine just what changes should be made to safeguard the lives of our children. When that report is complete it is safe to predict that our city government will provide the necessary appropriations.

During the thirty years Mrs. Helen H. Jaynes has made her home in West Newton, she has endeared herself to the entire community by her cheerfulness, sympathy and energy in all her relations to the life of the village. Always active in the affairs of the Unitarian Church, it only served as a center for a wider circle of work which included all churches and all creeds. Cheerfulness, sympathy and energy always radiated from her presence, and she was an inspiration for good to everyone within the sphere of her influence. Fragrant memories of her presence will be fondly cherished by a wide circle of friends in this community.

While the experiment of stopping the local street cars a few feet short of the usual terminal in Nonantum square was over almost as soon as it was begun, it lasted long enough to prove that it was not the right solution of the traffic troubles of that vicinity.

The action of the West Newton Savings Bank in opening on Saturday evenings is a step towards accommodating the public which will be appreciated by many.

One acute observer of the times has suggested that the secret ballot had considerable to do with the tremendous vote against suffrage.

We are no sooner by the state election, when city politics engages the attention.

CLIFF—PEMBERTON

The most notable society event of the week was the wedding on Wednesday evening of Miss Gladys Pemberton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Pemberton of Auburndale, and Mr. William Holyoke Cliff, son of Dr. L. A. Cliff, a prominent Boston physician. Guests numbering 500 assembled at the Church of the Messiah, which was beautifully decorated with palms and white chrysanthemums.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. John Matteson of Whitman, a former rector of the church assisted by Rev. Harry Beal, the present rector.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Henry A. Pemberton of Chicago, was exquisitely gowned in ivory white satin with point lace, and wore a tulle veil fastened with a spray of orange blossoms and a diamond bar pin, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a full showery bouquet of lilies of the valley, and orchids.

As the bridal procession approached the altar, Wagner's Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" was played by the organist. The bride was preceded by a little flower girl, Miss Catherine Cliff, a niece of the bridegroom, wearing a dainty gown of white mull and filmy lace, and carrying a French basket of pink rose buds. The bride was attended by Miss Louise Merrill of Haverhill, as maid of honor, who was attractively attired in rose colored tulle and gold lace trimmings, and carried pink Killarney roses.

The bridegroom was assisted by Dr. Thomas Cliff of Boston as groomsmen and the ushers included Dr. Frank A. Pemberton of Boston, Mrs. E. C. Waterman of Newtonville, Mr. Gordon Campbell of Roxbury, and Mr. Joseph V. Santry of Boston.

A large and brilliant reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the Woodland Park, which lends itself so admirably to a social function of the kind, was transformed into a veritable bower of beauty, a scheme of white, pink and green, being carried out to perfection in the decorations, which were under the supervision of Mrs. Harry T. Miller. A profusion of pink and white chrysanthemums were used in artistic combination with pine boughs and greenery in the foyer, reception rooms and dining-hall and the electric globes were partly hidden by festoons of greenery.

The bridal party stood under a floral bell of white chrysanthemums in the parlor during the reception, and in the receiving line with the bride and bridegroom were Mr. Henry A. Pemberton of Chicago, Dr. Frank Pemberton of Boston, and Mrs. Baldwin McCreery of New York, who was handsomely gowned in orchid colored embroidered chiffon with corsage bouquet of orchids and maiden hair fern, and more diamond ornaments.

There was a magnificent display of beautiful and costly wedding gifts in the green room at the hotel. A supper was served at 9.30 after which the guests enjoyed dancing in the main hall. The hotel orchestra was in attendance during the reception and for the dancing and furnished a delightful program of music.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff left on an extended wedding trip; the bride's going-away suit was of black velvet and as she donned her bridal bonnet it was caught by Miss Mabel Weld Stearns, an intimate friend, who came over from Cincinnati especially for the wedding. On their return from their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Cliff will reside on Commonwealth avenue.

More than 200 guests of social prominence were present at the reception from New York, Boston, Haverhill, Chicago, Roxbury, Wellesley and the Newtons, among them being Dr. Thomas Cliff and Mrs. Cliff, Dr. L. A. Cliff, Mr. and Mrs. Vinson, Mr. and Mrs. Yrxa, Miss Sears, Mr. Roger Allen, Mr. Fred Gooding, Dr. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Preston Rice and the Misses Rice, and Mr. A. Shuman of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy and the Misses Hardy of Wellesley, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Priest, Mrs. Henry A. Priest, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dana Priest, Miss Helene May Priest, Mrs. E. B. Haskell and Miss Margaret Haskell, Rev. and Mrs. Harry Beal, Miss Gladys Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. William Kirke Corey, Mrs. William E. Plummer, Mr. Fred Sumner, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Topf, Mr. Miller, Mr. Winifred U. Sternberg, Mr. Paul Ingraham, Mr. Donald Ingraham of Auburndale, and Rev. John Matteson and Mrs. Matteson of Whitman, Miss Mabel W. Stearns of Cincinnati, and Mr. Henry A. Pemberton of Chicago, Mrs. Baldwin McCreery of New York.

RECEPTION

A reception was tendered Rev. Harry Lutz, pastor of Channing Unitarian Church, and Mrs. Lutz, on Friday evening, by the members of the Women's Alliance. The church parlors were made very attractive for the occasion with palms and cut flowers and Mr. and Mrs. Lutz received from 8 until 10.30. They were assisted by Mr. George M. Nash, and Mrs. Nash, vice-president of the Alliance, and by Mrs. Frank P. Scofield, chairman of the standing committee.

Delightful music was furnished by the Young Ladies' Mandolin Club, composed of Miss Leah Bailey, Miss Winifred Kimball, Miss Helen Jewett and Miss Florence Bacon.

Refreshments were served by a committee of ladies, under the chairmanship of Miss Maud Henry.

There was a large attendance of guests, and the affair was delightfully social and informal.

CATHOLIC UNION BANQUET

On Wednesday evening, November 17, the Catholic Union of Newton will hold its second annual banquet in Temple Hall, Newtonville.

All who, in any way, aided the Union at its Field Day in September will be the guests of the club and Mayor Edwin O. Childs and other prominent citizens will address the gathering.

It is expected that over two hundred members and guests will be present. The union hopes that all of its members will cooperate in making the banquet a success. Tickets may be procured from the Banquet Committee which is composed of Warren Clear, Edward Gray and Thomas Hickey.

The people of Trinity Parish will hold an informal reception on Monday evening, November 8, at 7.45, in the parish house. It is under the auspices of the Men's Club, and will be the first ladies' night of the season.

Last Tuesday evening the members of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church held their monthly social in the parlors. After the supper a musical entertainment was given which proved of great interest to all present.

Next Sunday evening at the Methodist Church the service will be in charge of the young people. It is expected that this will be very interesting, as all of the workers are going to take part. In addition the usual good music will be rendered by the vested choir of boys.

"The Mother Goose Market," in preparation by the ladies of the Unitarian parish, will hold attention on Friday, November 12, from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night, and on Saturday, November 13, from 10 in the morning until 6 in the evening. On Friday evening a turkey supper will be served, and on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock an especially attractive program of dancing will be the feature. The "market" will be conducted in costume, and all the Mother Goose features will be there, from "Little Jack Horner" and his Christmas pie to the "Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe," with all her children, and the merry spirit of a festival season.

BRETZ—CRAM

The marriage of Miss Helen Ingersoll Cram, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Cram of Newton, to Harold Brewster Bretz, of Brooklyn, N. Y., took place Monday evening in St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville. Rev. C. Campbell Walker of St. Ann's Church, Brooklyn, officiated, assisted by Rev. Richard T. Loring of Newtonville. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Robert Vincent Cram, Harvard, 1907, instructor at Lafayette College, Easton, Pa. She had two attendants, Miss Ruth C. Anderson, of Newtonville, and Miss Margaret L. Bretz, of Brooklyn, sister of the bridegroom. Stephen Van Cullen Hopkins of Brooklyn, N. Y., a classmate of the bridegroom, Yale, 1910, acted as best man, and the ushers were Robert J. Keller, Jr., of New York; Gilbert B. Browne of Newton, Harvard, 1910, F. Ward Paine of Boston, Yale 1910, and C. Oliver Wellington, of Belmont, Harvard, 1907. A reception, which followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cheney L. Hatch on Cabot street, was small and limited to relatives and intimate friends, owing to the recent death of the bride's mother. After a motor trip through the White Mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Bretz will live in Belmont.

Newton Centre

—Mrs. Annie E. Higgins of Walnut street is ill at her home with the grip.

—Messrs. Howard Emerson and Chase Eastman are in New York to attend the dinner and reunion of Co. B of the Plattsburg military camp of last August, to be held at Delmonico's this evening.

At the recent annual meeting of the Massachusetts Bar Association, Mr. Frank M. Forbush of Summer street and Mr. James A. Lowell of Chestnut hill were elected members of the executive committee.

A poster exhibit of the charitable and beneficent organizations of Newton will be held in the chapel of the Unitarian church on Sunday afternoon, November 7, at 4 o'clock, when addresses will be made by Rev. S. M. Crothers, D.D., of Cambridge, and Miss Margaret E. Rich of the Newton Welfare bureau.

The Men's Club of the First Church held its second meeting of the season Monday evening, with a large attendance at the supper which was served at 6.15. The speaker of the evening was Dr. E. St. John Ward, professor of surgery at the American University at Beirut, Syria, who spoke on "The Unspeakable Turk." Mr. Edwin L. Gardner sang several selections in a most enjoyable manner.

A party of society people motored to Billerica Saturday evening and enjoyed a Halloween Dance and supper at the Billerica Inn. The room were decorated for the occasion in the Halloween colors black and yellow, with similar decorations, yellow flowers and emblems on the dining table. An orchestra was in attendance and furnished delightful music during the supper and for the dancing which followed.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Augustus T. Beatty, Mr. and Mrs. Morton E. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Crompton, Mr. and Mrs. George Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic F. Cutler, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bowman Stratton of Newton Centre, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dana Priest of Auburndale, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Ayer of West Newton, Mr. and Mrs. James E. White of Newtonville and Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Warren of Newton.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

John Heffernan of Natick was injured about the head and body Saturday noon when a horse which he was driving became frightened at the corner of Cherry and Washington streets, West Newton, threw Heffernan to the street, demolished the buggy and ran away.

When the horse became frightened, the buggy crashed against the curbing and overturned, throwing Heffernan head foremost to the street. Dr. F. M. Lowe, city physician, was summoned, and after treating the man sent him to the Newton Hospital.

WASH CLOTHS NEEDED

A nurse who has just returned from the French Hospitals is authority for the statement that there is a great need of wash cloths to use on wounded soldiers from the front. If those who may be interested in helping to supply this need will send them to Miss Janie Hobart, 123 Sargent street, Newton before December 1st, they will be forwarded at that time.

DEATH OF MRS. JAYNES

Mrs. Helen Neil Jaynes, the wife of Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, pastor of the West Newton Unitarian Church, died last Friday night at her home on Prince street. Mrs. Jaynes has been in poor health for the past two years but returned from her summer home in Prince Edwards Island, about the first of October, apparently much improved. She was taken ill a few days later and was unable to rally.

Mrs. Jaynes, who was in her sixty-first year, was born in Skowhegan, Me., and was before her marriage Miss Helen Neil Haynes, the daughter of Frank Haynes, a noted portrait painter, and Harriet (Williams) Haynes. Her father died when she was a child of two and her mother removed to St. Paul, Minn., with her young daughter. Mrs. Jaynes became teacher of English literature in the high school in St. Paul, where her daughter received her education and began also the study of music, continuing her musical education when, as a young woman, she came to Boston for that purpose.

She was married in December, 1884, in St. Paul, by Rev. Dr. W. C. Gannett, to Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, who had just been ordained as minister of the church at West Newton.

Mrs. Jaynes has always been active in the work of her husband's church, as she was in general Unitarian interests. She was a life member of the American Unitarian Association and belonged to numerous clubs in the Newtons. She is survived by her husband and a daughter, Ethel Jaynes Macomber, the wife of Dr. Donald Macomber of West Newton.

The love and esteem in which she was held in the community was strikingly evidenced by an attendance of about four hundred representative men and women of the city at the funeral services held Monday afternoon in the Unitarian Church. Rev. Dr. William Channing Gannett, pastor emeritus of the Unitarian Church at Rochester, N. Y., and who married Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Jaynes, officiated. The services included reading of the Scriptures, a poem, a prayer and a brief eulogy, with singing of two hymns which had been favorites with Mrs. Jaynes.

The body was cremated at Mt. Auburn.

HELEN HAYNES JAYNES

A woman can hardly be given a richer opportunity for human service than a minister's wife who is well fitted for her position. If he is the head, she becomes the heart, of the church life, and double whatever power he may have to meet the life needs of his people. Her womanhood will take her into confidences that he cannot easily, if at all, reach, and often his best word will be spoken better through her. Wisdom and courage and cheer as well as love must be hers; and when the equipment is perfect, face and manner and tact to interpret with charm the sympathies felt. Such a helpmate was Mrs. Helen Jaynes, whom the church at West Newton has just lost. Thirty years her husband and she have ministered together among them. Children and women and men and beyond her church circle the town's people long ago learned to look for her quick smile, her wise counsel. She was the presence of a beautiful friend among them,—now to become a beautiful memory. Their thought, the thought of all who knew her, will be: A radiant spirit has gone into the invisible to carry love and joyousness wherever she passes.—W. C. G., in the Christian Register.

ADAMS—GOLD

The wedding of Miss Maggie May Gold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Gold of Lexington, and Charles Maxwell Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Adams of North Natick, took place Saturday evening at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Charles Alfred Peck, 25 Paul street, Newton Centre. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Albert A. Felch, pastor of the Methodist Church, Cohasset, a cousin of the bridegroom. The bride was attended by Mary E. Irving of Wayland as maid of honor and her bridesmaids were Miss Grace Clark of Newtonville, Miss Frances Roach of Newton Centre and the Misses Belle and Marie Adams of North Natick, sisters of the bridegroom. The wedding march was played by Archibald M. Gardner, organist of the Cambridge Congregational Church, a cousin of the bride. The best man was Waldo Hammond of Natick.

The house was decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums and the couple, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Peck, received the several hundred guests under a canopy of flowers. The ushers were Frank Tuttle of North Natick, Norman R. Thompson and Charles E. Roach of Newton Centre. After an extended wedding trip the couple will make their home in North Natick.

AN ODD SUIT

An unusual suit entailing damages of 14 cents was heard before Judge Frank M. Copeland in the civil session of the Newton Police Court Tuesday morning. The plaintiff, Charles R. Darling, a lawyer, who lives at 51 Everett street, Newton Centre, sought to recover 12 cents in car fares and 2 cents for postage from the Norumbega Park Company and Middlesex & Boston Street Railway.

His reason for this unusual action was as follows: One day last July Mr. Darling, picking up a newspaper, found that an attractive show was on the card at Norumbega Park, and although it was raining, decided to visit the resort. On the car he paid 20 cents for a round trip ticket, including passage to and from the park and admission. On his arrival here the park was in darkness and a sign was displayed stating that the show had been called off for the night.

When he asked that the 20 cents he had expended be refunded, he was given eight cents, the employees of the street railway claiming that his ride both ways, which is a six-cent fare, must be paid for.

Mr. Darling conducted his own case while the street railway and park were represented by Pitt F. Drew. There were no witnesses. Counsel Drew, in his argument, stated that the railway was merely an agent for the Norumbega Park Company, and that therefore the company was not liable, owing to the fact that Mr. Darling had ridden both ways upon its cars, and that he had been given back the eight cents which would have paid for his admission to the park.

Mr. Darling, in summing up the case, stated that this attitude was "picking a man's pocket of 20 cents." He further stated that he did not get what he paid for, as his sole reason for getting on the car was to see the show, and that the ride itself was a discomfort. Judge Copeland, after hearing both sides, reserved his decision.

DECLARES 22ND DIVIDEND

The 22nd regular dividend of the Boston Electric Associates will be paid November 10th, 1915, to shareholders of record November 1st, 1915. The companies owned by the Boston Electric Associates have reported many extensions to their service and good increase in business. On Cape Cod their main power plant is located at Falmouth from which transmission lines extend to Sandwich, 23 miles to the north, and to Hyannis, about 25 miles to the east. Active work is being done to continue the transmission lines to Chatham connecting that town with the Falmouth plant about 50 miles distant. A temporary plant was recently installed at Chatham which will be displaced when their line to the Falmouth plant is complete.

DISTINCTIVE PORTRAITS

There is no place where artistic skill is more desirable than in the art that preserves for the future the likenesses of our friends. And this, of course, applies alike to the photographer and the painter. In the former class we find the famous Litchfield studio, of Arlington, and the Marshall studio, in the Brattle building, Cambridge. Both are under the personal management of Mr. Marshall, who has for years managed the Litchfield studio. Many of the best known people of Boston and Newton are among his patrons. The Marshall studio is very complete in every photographic essential. Mr. Marshall has few peers in America in his chosen profession. While volume of business is more or less an object of every man in business life today, at the Marshall studio this object is never allowed to take precedence over that more important and more lasting realization—quality. That this is true is gladly attested to by thousands of satisfied customers from every section of Greater Boston and even beyond the confines of this district. Advt.

DANCING PARTY

Miss Ethel Gardner and Mr. Samuel Gardner entertained at a very delightful dancing party on Saturday evening at their residence on Lake avenue, Newton Highlands.

The rooms on the first floor were converted into an ideal ball room and were very attractively decorated with corn-shocks, pumpkins, Autumn leaves and crepe paper festoons.

Music was rendered by the Stone orchestra of Medford. During the evening novel amusement was furnished by a Gypsy fortune teller who happened in for the Halloween occasion.

During intermissions, refreshments were served in the dining room which was decorated with autumn flowers and foliage. On the table, frappe was served from two large pumpkins, and the border of candlesticks around the table gave a delightful Halloween effect.

About forty guests were present from Winthrop Highlands, Jamaica Plain, Wellesley, Barnstable, Waterville, Maine, Moline, Ill., Newton, Newton Centre, Newtonville, Auburndale and West Newton.

MILITARY DRILL

At the meeting of the School Committee, held on Wednesday evening, Oct. 27, Mr. J. Coolidge Coffin, Commander of Charles Ward Post 62, Mr. George M. Fiske, Patriotic Instructor, Mr. S. P. Putnam, Chaplain, and Mr. C. C. Patten, Adjutant, came before the Committee to present the question of the advisability of resuming military drill in the high schools. All four spoke in favor of so doing, and urged that steps which would lead to this be taken at once. The members of the Committee discussed the question at length, but finally voted to lay the matter on the table for one month, with the understanding that everything possible be done in the meantime to give the matter publicity, in the hope that the feeling of parents of pupils in the high schools and of the public in general may be expressed on a question of such grave importance.

DANCE AT HUNNEWELL CLUB

Mrs. Donald Wise Perin and Miss Bernice A. Barrows are to be the hostesses at a very pretty dancing party to be given at the Hunnewell Club tomorrow evening November sixth. The matrons will be Mrs. S. S. Barrows, Mrs. G. L. Perin and Mrs. C. E. Beane. Many guests from out of town as well as from the various Newtons are expected. Mr. A. E. Sweet assisted by Mr. S. A. Gardner, Mr. D. W. Perin, and Mr. A. L. Donahy will be the ushers.

—Mr. Morris Solomon of Boston has moved into the lower apartment at 144 Harvard street.

—Mr. L. T. Coombs of Winthrop formerly of Newtonville, is building a new house on Rossmore road.

—Mr. Marcus Morton, Jr., of the Senior Class at Yale, spent the week end at his home on Highland avenue.

—The November meeting of the Woman's League will be held next week on Thursday in the parlors of the Church of the New Jerusalem.

—Rev. G. H. Kaltenbach and Mrs. Kaltenbach of Paris, France, who have been guests at the Woodland Park hotel have taken a house at 25 Washington park.

—The Deaconess Aid Circle of the Methodist Church will have a Toy Table at the Deaconess Fair on the 9th, 10th and 11th of November at Tremont Temple.

—Rev. Ora Samuel Gray will deliver the sermon next Sunday morning at the Methodist Church. Mr. W. C. Weedon, evangelistic singer will assist in the musical program.

—The Young Woman's Club of St. John's Church held a meeting Tuesday evening at the residence of the secretary, Mrs. Harlan H. Ballard, Jr., of Mount Vernon terrace.

—The Layman's Convention, the most important religious event in many respects that will be held in Boston this winter will be held November 14 and 15th in Tremont Temple.

—The Clafin Club members are bowling Monday and Wednesday evenings at the Newton Club. Any member of the Clafin Club will be assigned to a team upon giving his name to Mr. W. H. Timbie.

—Mr. Perry Smith of Lawrence gave a dinner Saturday evening at the Copley Plaza, followed by a theatre-party in honor of the wedding anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Perry Smith of Lowell avenue.

—The Woman's Auxiliary will hold all day meetings for the present in the choir rooms at St. John's Church, and preparations are being made for the fair which will be held at the Newton Club House on Thursday and Friday, December 9 and 10th.

—On the four Sundays in November the ministers of Newtonville will cooperate in an endeavor to arouse the religious life of the community by a simple and direct re-statement of the essentials of the Christian message in the terms of today. In all churches the same subjects will be discussed and in each, there will be a special effort to have the services largely attended.

—Rev. Mr. Sheldon, who has just returned from a trip to the west where he visited many of the home missionary stations, gave an interesting address at the meeting of the Home Department of the Woman's Association on Wednesday at Central Congregational church, and told of the conditions, need and encouragements of the work of the Woman's Association in the homeland.

—The Pianoforte and Theory Student's Association gave an interesting exhibition of the First Grade Class work on Thursday afternoon at the studio on Bowers street. The parents and friends present were greatly pleased with Miss Douglas' method for beginners in music; for the pupils are given a thorough musical training in a new and interesting way. Those who took part in the program included Winslow Auryansen, Frederick Burnham, Thelma Cunningham, Vesta Goodwin, Chester Hill, Josephine Lawrence, Marion Maxim, Mary Quinn, Katherine Sheldon, Marion Sumner and Eleanor Tracy.

Newtonville

—Miss Katharine Kimball of Newtonville avenue has entered her Junior course at the Quincy Mansion School.

—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lowell (Merle Swain) of Needham are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

—Mrs. Albion C. Brown entertained Miss Ella Lenseft of Holliston, at luncheon on Tuesday at the Highland Villa.

—Mrs. Thomas C. Clay of Washington terrace is spending a few weeks in New York city, where she is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Clay.

—Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kimball arrive this week on Saturday from Honolulu, and will be guests of Mr. Kimball's mother, Mrs. George F. Kimball of Walnut street.

—A complimentary dinner was given last Saturday to Mr. Mark C. Taylor of Walnut street and his partner, Mr. Orin E. Sands of the firm Sands, Taylor & Co., in honor of the 50th anniversary of Mr. Sands entrance into the flour trade.

—John Dooley of Bates' Market and Walter Butler escaped serious injuries Sunday afternoon while bicycling in the vicinity of Dedham, when they were run down by a reckless automobile driver. Both bicycles were badly damaged and the owners left them in a repair shop and returned by trolley.

—The second in the series of meetings for presenting the important causes represented in the benevolent budget, will be held this evening in Central Church. Dr. W. W. Leete, who will be the speaker, has an important message to bring, and will present the work of missions in our own country, particularly that of erecting new churches. It is hoped that every one will make an earnest effort to attend.

—The guests at the Highland Villa and their friends were delightfully entertained at a Halloween party on Saturday evening. The rooms were decorated attractively with Halloween colors and emblems and an enjoyable entertainment was arranged for the children, which included all sorts of games for which prizes were given. After the entertainment refreshments were served, and dancing was enjoyed until midnight. There was an attendance of about forty.

POLICE NOTES

A fine of $30 was imposed upon Miss Jessie E. Corliss, aged 20, a student in Boston, who resides at 11 Tetlow street, Boston, in the Police Court Saturday morning by Judge J. C. Kennedy, on a charge of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

The girl, driving a high-powered runabout, was arrested Friday night on Commonwealth avenue, near Boston College, by Patrolman Sartwell.

A young man, who was with her at the time, saw the officer coming and ran away, leaving the young woman to get out of the mixup the best way possible.

She told the officers that she went to a Halloween party, and that the punch was a little strong, which, after she had two glasses, resulted in her condition. She was able to drive her car to headquarters, where she was bailed early Saturday morning.

LECTURES

A comprehensive picture survey of present day conditions in the British Isles, without reference to war, politics, or other subjects of immediate controversy, will be offered by Dwight Elmendorf, the gifted artist and raconteur, when he opens his new season of illustrated travel talks at Symphony Hall this evening and Saturday afternoon, November 5th and 6th.

Mr. Elmendorf knows these countries well enough to make his descriptions and observations of them authoritative; and his illustrations, which have all been made and colored by himself, will prove a delight to the eye because they serve to mirror in the true colors of nature the best of everything to be seen.

Other lectures in the course of five will be, "Holland, from Flushing to the Helder," "Switzerland," "Northern Italy, from the Trentino to Rome" and "Southern Italy and Sicily."

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

Wednesday morning, November 10, Rev. Laurens McClure of Grace Church, Newton, will address the upper classes at Assembly.

The English Club will hold its first open meeting in the Assembly Hall, Friday afternoon, November 5. All the pupils are urged to attend. Miss Judith Matlack, the president of the club, made an announcement to the upper classes Wednesday morning, stating that the entertainment would be furnished by "Uncle Remus."

At Assembly Wednesday morning Mr. Adams addressed the upper classes on the subject of "Preparedness." In the course of his remarks, he showed that the unexpected sometimes happens, and that preparedness for emergencies is very necessary. He then explained the purpose of the rules governing the fire drill in the school, and pointed out that in order to prevent a panic in case of a real fire, the students should pass quickly from the building in a quiet, orderly manner.

A fire drill was held the same day shortly before the noon recess. Mr. Adams expressed the opinion that it was the most satisfactory drill of the year.

The football game Friday with Dorchester Art was nothing more than a farce from start to finish. The Dorchester team put in an appearance about forty minutes after the scheduled time, but as they brought along only ten players, Coach Dickinson was forced to loan Stubbs, a substitute center, in order that the game might be played.

The Cambridge Latin game Friday, November 5, will probably be one of Newton's most decisive contests, as well as the closest battle of the season. Although this is the first game of the Triangular League series, it is very possible that this contest may really decide the championship, for Brookline and Wellesley, the other contenders, have recently shown that they are not quite in a class with the powerful Cambridge Latin eleven.

The girls' cheering section was disappointingly small at last Friday's game. It is hoped that they will try to be on hand for the all-important clash this week.

The call has been issued for candidates for the Senior football team. The interclass series have already started, as last Friday morning the Freshmen eleven defeated the Sophomores 27 to 0 score. As soon as the Seniors and Juniors organize their teams, these two will meet, and the winner of this contest will later play the Freshmen.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

A very successful candy sale was held in the Technical School Hall last Thursday afternoon. There was also a short entertainment, and dancing later. Mr. Kidger, head of the history department, estimates the total proceeds to be about forty-seven dollars. This money will be used to purchase material for the current events branch of the history department.

Miss Mabel Bragg, the new assistant superintendent of schools, addressed the Freshman Assembly Tuesday morning, October 26, on the subject of story telling, and told several stories.

At the Freshman meeting Tuesday, November 2, eleven members of the class read poems and stories to their classmates.

The history department of this school is starting a course in Community Civics. They have already taken up the subject of health, and of the protection of life and property, both by the city and by the state, as carried out by the police and fire department in purifying and inspecting the water supply of the cities and towns.

Charles Brady, 15, who recently entered Boston College from this school, played a strong game against Holy Cross last Saturday. It is rather unusual for a boy to make the first team so soon after entering college.

BRAE BURN CLUB

Brae Burn, always beautiful, is at its best in the Autumn, and fortunate is the man or woman who can spend a part of the cool invigorating interlude between summer and winter at this attractive resort.

In October the bright colored foliage over the surrounding woodland viewed from the picturesque Club House on the hill, presents such scenery as no artist has yet been able to reproduce, and the visitor at Brae Burn finds a world of sport as he motors over the Boulevard, or enjoys himself on the golf links and tennis courts.

Many guests entertained and were entertained at Brae Burn during the past month; last week on Thursday Mrs. George A. Butnam of Brookline, was hostess at a luncheon followed by cards, and Mrs. Herbert I. Ordway of Newton Centre entertained recently at a luncheon bridge.

Mrs. Harold Greene of Newton Centre gave a dinner at the Club this week on Monday evening. Among the house guests arriving recently are Mr. J. C. Tomlinson of Brookline, and Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Robinson of Burnham road, West Newton.

GENEHEAUX-SMITH

Miss Ada F. Smith of Auburndale was married Monday evening by Rev. Dudley Hays Ferrell of the Church of the Unity to Henry L. Geneheaux of Newton at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. McLellan, 387 Warren avenue, Brookline.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. William E. Mortimer as best man and matron of honor. Miss Irma Taylor was flower girl. Piano selections were played by Chester Brigham of Boston.

The groom is in the automobile business and is closely identified with fraternal circles. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith of Hantsport, N. S.

OPEN TRAINING CLASS

For S. S. Teachers of All Denominations

More than 50 Sunday School workers have enrolled in the Training Class which is being taught Tuesday nights in the Eliot Church by Mrs. Willena Browne Reed of Winthrop. Teachers of the various denominations and coming from as far as Brookline, Newton Highlands and South Lincoln are attending.

The general plan of the course is six lectures on Child Study and six lectures on Methods of Teaching.

A cordial invitation is extended to anyone to come next Tuesday evening and if interested to join the class.

MISS COBB'S LECTURE

Miss Cora Stanwood Cobb of Boylston street, Newton Upper Falls, will open the season of the Boston Scientific Society on Tuesday evening with her new lecture entitled, "A Study of Flemish Art." This will be of especial interest since it discusses the art of a district of a goodly part of which has been devastated by war and in which no one really knows the fate of the art treasures. Beautiful illustrations will accompany the lecture and the occasion is the fourth in which the speaker has been scheduled to begin a season at this society. The artistic accomplishments of the family and Miss Cobb's enthusiasm and diligent study together with the wealth of personal experience in her investigations makes her stories attractive to cultured companies.

SARAH HULL CHAPTER

The Sarah Hull Chapter, D.R., met at the Hunnewell Club on Thursday, Oct. 28 at 3 P. M. for its first meeting of the season, with the Regent, Mrs. Franklin Ganse in the chair.

After a small amount of business and discussion of the winter's work, the program was placed in the hands of Mrs. Elmer L. Gibbs, chairman of the entertainment committee.

Miss Marjorie Holmes of Newton and well known to most of the Chapter gave two piano selections, Liszt's "Liebestraum" and Ravel's "Jeux d'Eau" in a very finished and pleasing manner before and after the lecture, which was given by Dr. Charles W. Wendte, who has lived much in Paris and gave a most interesting account of Madame Lyson's Hospital for convalescent soldiers there; he also read several letters from her which gave a much better idea of the generous work than any mere description could do, as the letters were personal and not intended for the public.

The hostesses were Miss Gertrude Ensign, Mrs. Elmer L. Gibbs, Mrs. William F. Hammett, Mrs. Willard L. Sampson, Mrs. Samuel L. Whittemore, Mrs. Walter C. Whitney.

POMROY HOME

M. C. A. Auxiliary, food; Mr. William Ball, pears; Junior Department, First Church Sunday School, Newton Centre, $2.00; Mrs. Paine, Brighton, shoes; Mrs. J. P. R. Sherman, bag flour; Mrs. Morse, suit, hat, shoes; Mrs. F. A. Day, suit, cut flowers; Mrs. Charles Riley, beautiful plant; Miss Mabel Louise Riley, hats.

WILBUR THEATRE—One of the most important events of the season is the production of Bernard Shaw's latest invention, "Androcles and the Lion," which Lillah McCarthy, Granville Barker and Percy Burton are presenting at Ye Wilbur Theatre for three weeks only. The third and last week begins next Monday, Nov. 8. "Androcles and the Lion" has as a basis for its plot the story of Aesop's fable of the lion who was a thorn in the lion's paw and was later rewarded when the lion recognized him in the arena where the lion had been thrown as a Christian martyr to the lion's jaws. But as Shaw himself might say, he has only used this plot as did Shakespeare, the many he lifted from Plutarch, and as is the case with most of the Shavian plays, the greatest interest and entertainment lies in the dialogue, characters and arguments the author advances. Preceding the performance of Shaw's Fable play, Anatole France's short comedy "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," will be acted.

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE

There have been some very wonderful demonstrations of popularity in the extraordinary runs of theatrical attractions in Boston but nothing quite so remarkable as the run of "Experience" which had an engagement of two months at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, with crowded attendances at each of the eight performances every week, and then had to be transferred to a larger theatre, the Boston Opera House, with its capacity of 3000 seats, because the public of New England simply insisted upon having further opportunities to see it, although other engagements at the Shubert Theatre prevented its remaining there any longer. Although having nearly twice the capacity of the Shubert Theatre the Boston Opera House has been filled at every performance, and there is every indication that during this last week of its remarkable success in Boston, beginning next Monday evening, November 8th, the same condition will prevail. "Experience" could easily remain at the Boston Opera House a good many weeks more, did not other engagements interfere. As a matter of fact the season of grand opera and ballet begins on November 15, and the coming week must necessarily be the last at this grand edifice.

SHUBERT THEATRE

"Maid in America," the New York Winter Garden's most spectacular musical production since its inception, will be shown at the Shubert Theatre (Boston) for a limited engagement commencing next Monday night with the same original company and elaborate production has been creating theatrical history in Chicago during the past summer, and which has also to its credit a run of four months at its original home on Broadway. The cast of 125 includes the names of more well known players than have ever been assembled at any one time for productions of the sort. The roster includes Florence Moore, America's greatest comedienne, Mlle. Dazie, the most famous dancer in musical comedy, Margaret Calvert, the dancing violinist, Rita Gould, one of vaudeville's best known headliners, Minerva Coverdale, Louise Mink, John Sparks, Sam Adams, Thomas McGuire, Jack Coogan, Svor and Mack, Harold Robe, Eddie Cox, Will Stanton, William Halligan, Mabel Hill and a chorus of sixty girls of exceptional beauty. Matinees will be given on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

because it has always given our customers lasting satisfaction. We cannot recommend cheaper roofings because they will not wear as RU-BER-OID wears.

RU-BER-OID cannot rot, crack, melt or run. It is permanently waterproofed. Put on RU-BER-OID roof and you will not have to worry about troublesome and expensive repairs.

RU-BER-OID Roofs applied more than 20 years ago look good today for many years more service.

We stand back of RU-BER-OID. We're right here to see that the roofing you buy is all a roofing ought to be. We have never had a complaint regarding RU-BER-OID, but many have told us that it is a perfect roofing.

You get the genuine RU-BER-OID here. The "Ru-ber-oid Man" (shown above) is on every roll. We can also supply Colored RU-BER-OID (Ka-lor-oid) in permanent Tile Red and Copper Green.

WOMEN'S CLUB

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

While the result of the Tuesday's election was in a way no surprise to the Suffragists, yet the full measure of the sentiment of the State does come as such. But they are in no way dismayed or discouraged for they are used to being in the minority. It merely goes to show that they must work harder next time and possibly in some different ways, but the time is coming, and some of those who voted against admit it, when women will be given the justice which is theirs and in no far distant day.

A complete account of the State Federation meeting held today at Beverly will be given next week.

Local Announcements

The Newton Highlands Monday Club will meet with Mrs. J. V. Beekman, Jr., 21 Monadnock road, Newton Centre, on Nov. 8.

Mrs. A. F. Hayward will be the hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. on Monday next.

The next meeting of the Newton Parliamentary Law Club will be held at the Newton Library on Tuesday, Nov. 9, at 10.15 A. M. Subject: "Preparedness."

On Tuesday afternoon at 2.45 Mr. Horace C. Dunham will speak before the Home Economics department of the Newtonville Woman's Guild on "Period Furniture."

Members of the Needlework Guild are reminded that the annual exhibition of articles will occur on Nov. 16 in connection with the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Guild, at which all members of the former will be guests.

There will be a slight change in the program of the meeting of the Auburn-dale Woman's Club next Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Woolman being unable to speak upon the topic announced. Her place will be taken by Mrs. Elsie K. Chamberlain, whose subject will be, "Making the Best of What We Have." Mrs. L. B. Miller will speak on "The Business of Spending Money for Clothes." The Methodist Parish house is the meeting place for this time.

On Wednesday morning Miss E. P. Thurston will speak before the Social Science Club on "The Newton Library." Members may invite guests.

At the meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Thursday, Nov. 11, 10 A. M. Prof. George Herbert Palmer will give an address on "Robert Browning."

The West Newton Women's Educational Club will meet on Nov. 12 at 2.30. The program is in charge of the Art committee, Mrs. H. B. Gibbs, chairman. Mrs. William I. Lawrence of Auburndale will tell of "Life and Art in Japan."

Local Happenings

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club on Oct. 30 continued the study of Othello in charge of Miss Edith McCann. She brought out the tragic preparation of the previous act showing that the main passion and proceedings of the play take their start from Iago and retributive justice was well shown. The club were unable to sound the depths of Iago's cunning. Sleepless, unrelenting, inexhaustible with an energy that never flags and alertness that nothing can surprise, he outwits every obstacle. Through his villainy, jealousy has done its worst. Desdemona is killed by Othello. The social and refreshment hour was especially pleasing with Mrs. S. L. Eaton as hostess. Her dining room was mel-low with Halloween decorations.

The members of the Newton Highlands Monday Club had a most interesting afternoon on Nov. 1st at the home of Mrs. Charles T. Bartlett, when Mrs. Harry N. Milliken gave her illustrated talk entitled, "Vacation Memories," which has been enjoyed by several of the Newton clubs. In addition to her slides Mrs. Milliken showed her camping outfit. Tea was served afterwards during the social hour.

On Monday afternoon the Newton Mothers Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Ernest F. Lovejoy of West Newton. Miss Mary A. Willcox spoke upon the Problem of Immigration in Massachusetts, basing her talk upon facts gained through her service upon the Commission on Immigration of which she was a member. Mr. Ernst Hermann spoke of the work at the Stearns Playground to which the club gives an annual contribution. The social hour closed an interesting afternoon.

November first the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. met with Mrs. Darius Cobb and began the study of Belgian architecture. Mrs. Richards was in charge of the work, taking up Brussels, Liege, Louvain and Ghent, and placing emphasis on the architecture of these cities as exhibited in the cathedrals, town halls and hotels, in all which may be detected the influence of the German, French and Spanish.

On Nov. 2, the Waban Woman's Club held its first meeting of the current season at the residence of Mrs. William H. Gould, 1704 Beacon street. After a brief address of welcome by the president, Mrs. Herbert S. Kimball, and a short business meeting, Mr. Charles Swain Thomas lectured on "Literature and Art." Mr. Thomas believed that while some people found in reading merely an amusement, there were many others who found in it an appeal to their love of nature and who felt a deep appreciation of such lines as may be found in Wordsworth, Coleridge, and Shakespeare. Others were helped through literature to a better understanding of human nature and experience. Literature enables many students to understand better the other fine arts and in analysis, certain words, such as rhythm, color and proportion are used correlatively. Mr. Thomas particularly recommended Lessing's Laocoon as an analysis of varying arts. Literature is of paramount importance in inspiring patriotism, and too much cannot be said in regard to the value of teaching national songs and poems to foreign-born pupils and to children of foreign-born parents. Orations such as Webster's "Bunker Hill" should be faithfully studied. Literature's final appeal, however, is in its power to solace and strengthen the soul and aid in its moral uplift.

Following Mr. Thomas' lecture, tea was served with Mrs. Pietro Isola and Mrs. C. Adrian Sawyer presiding at the table.

The Auburndale Review Club met on Tuesday, Nov. 2, at the Congregational Chapel. After the business there was a lecture by Mr. C. Bailey Ellis on "The Making of a Statue" which was illustrated by the modelling of a statue in clay. Mr. Ellis, who has a studio in Boston, has studied in Europe. He told of a visit he and some fellow students made to Rodier's studio where the celebrated sculptor himself drew the coverings to show them many of his models.

The first meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Guild was a pleasant beginning of the season's work. Miss Adelaide Patterson gave a program of dramatic readings of wide variety and of high excellence. The report of the annual meeting of the State Federation at Marion was given by Miss Louise Sherman. An art class has been organized under the leadership of Mrs. A. D. Salinger and a music club composed of the many musicians among the members of the Guild with Mrs. A. L. Wakefield as leader.

On Wednesday morning the members of the Social Science Club gathered at the Hunnewell Club House for the first meeting of the season. After a brief word of welcome by the new president, Mrs. Sterling Elliott, the business was taken up. Among the reports of committees may be mentioned that of the Education committee, which is particularly interested just now in improving the condition of the teachers' rooms in both the Underwood and Bigelow schools. The work done on the grounds of the Lincoln school to prevent water from going into the basement was mentioned. Mrs. F. H. Tucker urged as the best work for the Conservation committee this year, co-operation with the Newton branch of the Massachusetts Forestry Association. The report of the annual meeting of the State Federation was given by the delegates, Mr. Hornbrooke and Mrs. Ivy. After thorough discussion of the vexed question of the amendments to the State Federation By-laws it was voted to instruct the delegates to vote for the spirit of the amendments. It was announced by the Social committee that an informal tea will be held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Weston on November 18.

The Pierian Club met with Mrs. Titus on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. W. S. Everett, who was in charge, took up the Polar Seas and what they contain and told of the Arctic and Antarctic discoveries and what they have accomplished. The usual social hour followed the reading of the paper.

Miss Frances Nevin, whom many of the Newton Clubs have heard with pleasure, on various occasions, gave the first of two dramatic recitals of a rather new order at Jordan Hall, Boston, on Monday afternoon of this week when she presented Richard Wagner's opera "Die Meistersinger." After brief explanatory remarks by Miss Nevin the overture of the opera was rendered by Miss Marion Lina Tufts, pianist, who ably assisted throughout the performance; then the libretto was read by Miss Nevin, passing at intervals for the musical rendering of some of the main themes while she gave others to musical accompaniment. This arrangement differs in a measure from Mr. Hubbard's opera talks, which have been so much enjoyed in recent years, in that his were more of dramatic and musical criticisms of the opera, while Miss Nevin's are a presentation of the dramatic side of the opera itself combined with the musical setting. On Nov. 15 Miss Nevin will treat in a similar manner, "Hansel and Gretel." The experiment proved a most interesting one and furnished a delightful afternoon's entertainment. They are given for the benefit of the Armenian Fund.

Thursday, November 4th, the Newton Centre Woman's Club held a meeting of the Current Events Course, in the chapel of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. W. C. Crawford lectured on three topics of great interest to all women of today; the platforms, of the recent elections, the United States and the Mexican problem, and a brief review of the European situation. This was the part of a series of current events meetings to be continued throughout the winter on the first Thursday of each month.

In the afternoon of the same day a very attractive silver tea was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. H. Bundy for the benefit of the scholarship fund.

The autumn meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in the Newton Technical High School Hall at 2.30, Wednesday afternoon, November 10th. Mr. M. W. Murray, Principal of the Vocational High School is to speak on Vocational Education in Massachusetts, and illustrate the talk with colored lantern slides following the work in our local school.

LODGE OF ELKS

The institution of Newton Lodge of Elks, No. 1327, took place last night in the State Armory, West Newton, in the presence of about 400 members of the Order from various parts of New England. James R. Nicholson, G.E.R., of Boston Lodge, conducted the ceremony, assisted by Charles F. J. McCue of Cambridge, Grand Esquire.

LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Healing by Prof. Hermann S. Hering, C.S.B. in Players' Hall is Largely Attended

The growing interest in the subject of Christian Science Healing was further attested by the large attendance at Prof. Hermann S. Hering's lecture on this subject at Players' Hall, West Newton, Sunday afternoon, last. An audience estimated at over 900 of Newton and Waltham's representative people closely followed the gifted speaker, Prof. Hering, formerly of Johns Hopkins University was well qualified to present this subject to such an audience.

He was fittingly introduced by Mr. George H. Moore, First Reader of the Newton Church. The lecture in full is as follows:

Christ Jesus, the great physician, the divine healer, has for all time set the standard of perfect healing before humanity, and that many do not yet believe in his gospel results from a lack of understanding of the true nature and philosophy of the so-called miracles which he performed.

The gospels record many instances of the healing of physical disease by Christ Jesus and his disciples; he restored a withered hand, he healed an impotent man and a man born blind; he healed paralysis, dropsy, hemorrhage, leprosy, epilepsy and violent insanity, and he raised the dead.

In St. Matthew we read: "And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people. And his fame went throughout all Syria; and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatick, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them."

"And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed."

Furthermore he specifically commanded his disciples that they should continue his healing work, counseling them,

"And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils; freely ye have received, freely give."

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do, because I go unto my Father."

Peter, John, Philip, Paul and other followers healed paralysis, deformity, insanity, lameness, and also raised the dead, in connection with their missionary work; in fact healing was practiced quite generally among the early Christians.

Scriptural teachings not understood. Many have always believed these teachings and works but they have not presumed to understand them, much less have they thought to even undertake to repeat them. They have accepted the Bible blindly and evidently have not practically apprehended its inspiring truth. From the inception of Christianity, however, some have striven to obey its teachings and to manifest the Christ spirit which brings salvation from both sickness and sin.

This spirit was strongly in evidence in the healing works which characterized the early church, until the time when Christianity was engulfed in ritualism and formalism and its vital spirit was quenched.

Even a partial recognition of the demands made by the Master's teachings upon our life and conduct reveals their redemptive greatness and supreme importance, and these questions must appeal to every thoughtful Christian, viz., whether or not it is possible to obey these teachings; whether they are true or not; if not true, where is the basis of Christianity, and, if true, why are not their demands fulfilled? May it not be because they are not understood?

Many thinking people are beginning to see as they have not before that the healing work of the early church is possible today, although this healing work rebukes the generally accepted supremacy of material law. They perceive that there is such a thing as spiritual law, a law apart from physics, and begin to comprehend that this divine law is and should be sovereign over so-called physical law, that it has dominion over what is termed matter; and that in spite of the prevailing educational bias of materialistic thought which declares that any existence apart from the material cannot be conceived, it is high time that the church awakened out of its sleep and asserted its right to the freedom of the children of God. To the materially minded, matter and material law are supreme, and they have little belief in any power beyond and apart from physics and less understanding of it. Metaphysical power is thought of as belonging to the supernatural which the majority of intellectual people reject, associating it as they do with mysticism and superstition. Asserted believers in the Bible, however, cannot ignore the fact that Christian healing was accomplished in Jesus' time, by himself and by his disciples, and later by his followers for several centuries.

Scientific Basis of Healing

Admitting that this healing occurred, we can but see that it was effected through the operation of law, and that there must have been a Principle and a Science back of it. Moreover it is very evident that if these were known and applied today, the same healing effects would follow.

Non-believers in the Bible and in what are called miracles deny the possibility of spiritual power over material things because they do not understand spiritual law, the Principle and rule involved. Some good people believe that the spiritual healing of the early church was a mere phenomenal exhibition of divine or super-human power, and therefore make no effort to relate spiritual power to present human needs. Could they but realize that there is a Principle underlying all existence, which operates according to law, and quite regardless of time and place, they would see that the physical changes accompanying Christian healing are due to the operation of this Principle, in accordance with law; and that such Principle, law and operation constitute Science.

It is evident that Christ Jesus considered this healing work a very essential factor of his ministry; indeed he made it a test of Christian discipleship, for he said, "He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also"; which means that he who is a Christian shall be able to heal spiritually. Surely every Christian must desire to believe in and to practice Christian healing and thereby to accomplish much more than drugs and surgery now do, while freeing men from the fear, pain, and risk of death, too often attending surgical operations and the use of drug nostrums.

Most right minded persons, too, would like to overcome evil with good if they only knew how; most of us would like to overcome our failings, and be right toward our neighbor. What we have not known is this, that such results follow from the knowledge that good has more power than evil. Few realize that the logical, the inevitable, sequence of an understanding of the Master's teachings and strict obedience thereto would bring about a cessation of all sorrow and sickness in the world.

All those who admit that Christian healing is even desirable can but welcome a consideration of what it would involve, what it would depend upon. Let us consider, therefore, whether there is a Science, a Principle and law which can be applied, and how its application can be made. Let us inquire also what we can and must do with the prevailing belief in matter, that greatest stumbling block to belief in the Bible and the fulfillment of its promises.

Phenomena of Nature

To the student of nature, it becomes very evident that there is an intelligence operating through law, which explains the marvels of mineral, vegetable and animal formation, that there is a power or creative force, which is materially interpreted in adhesion, cohesion and attraction; that there is a law whose activities are intimated in growth, atomic aggregation, structural formation and other phenomena of the world about us. To human sense there is a creative, governing, controlling power or influence, called force or energy, and a substance called matter, in which this force seems to inhere and through which it acts. Even in the most minute of matter, there are essentially different forces visible to the material senses, force is not matter; matter has mass, force has none; matter occupies space, force does not. In fact, matter is that which is actuated or brought into evidence by force. They seem to co-exist.

Matter was formerly believed to be an entity separate from force or energy but recent researches and discoveries have rendered this view untenable. The unit called the atom which was supposed to be the smallest possible division of matter, substance, is now affirmed by physicists to be composed of thousands of what are called electrons. These electrons are infinitesimal particles of electrical energy, composed of positive and negative charges of electricity, which are vibrating with very great velocity. It is thus disclosed that the atom is a manifestation of force, and that atomic aggregation or so-called material substance and growth, is therefore a form or manifestation of energy or force. In short matter is now regarded as the appearance, externalization or projection of force or energy, and consequently what we touch, taste, smell, see or hear, is in fact force.

This then brings us to the view point of materialistic philosophy and psychology, from which it further appears that the mental faculties which we call sight, hearing, etc., are different forms of vibration, and consequently what we see, hear, feel, taste, or smell is a mental impression. In every case it is not matter or an object which cognizes or is cognized but a mental phenomenon experienced in consciousness. Thus we see that we are conscious of existence mentally and the things we are conscious of are mental impressions objectified—sense phenomena. It is evident, therefore, even from the point of view of modern physicists, although perhaps not yet admitted by them, that existence is consciousness and that our present universe is our individual impression or concept of the universe, the way it appears to us through the five physical senses. This existence is wholly mental. All its activities, appearance and phenomena are mental and must be dealt with mentally. Christ Jesus proved the mental nature of matter and existence when he walked on the water, stilled the tempest, healed the sick, raised the dead and overcame other material conditions.

Sense Impression Not Absolute But Relative

It is further evident that the character of our existence depends upon the character of our consciousness. We cannot avoid this conclusion when we think of the differences in personal characteristics, in educational bias, environment, association and experience and what a widely varying sense of existence these differences produce in different individuals. Sense phenomena are, therefore, not absolute since they depend upon the character of the perceptive faculties, both native and educated, which vary greatly with different people. For example: Let a tree be viewed by a botanist, an artist and a lumberman. The botanist views it from the standpoint of his botanical knowledge. He sees its botanical make-up and structure, and notices the character of the leaves, the flowers, the bark, etcetera.

The artist views it mainly from a purely artistic standpoint. He notes the color and form of the tree, and the way it relates itself to its setting. Coincidentally with this he analyzes his impression and thinks perchance of the combination of pigments he must use to reproduce it upon canvas.

The lumberman sees the tree as so much available building material. His estimate of its worth is not in terms of botany or beauty but in board-feet. To him a beautiful branch means a knot in the board, which reduces its value.

Furthermore, the so-called actual characteristics of the objective universe, size, shape, distance and color, are not the same to any two persons, for since the lenses of the eyes vary, the image made on the retina also varies, and the resulting mental impressions are necessarily different, showing that human perception is relative, not absolute.

Physics does not explain or account for anything beyond sense testimony, and in order to analyze causation, we must go beyond the realm of the senses, and interpret and correct our mental impressions in order to gain a knowledge of the facts.

Matter Not Substance

The chief difficulty in realizing the mental nature of matter is the belief that matter is substance. We have already seen that it is simply a form or state of energy, composed of electrons, and that it is a phenomenon of force instead of something apart from force. We know that what is called organized matter can be destroyed, for any material object can be reduced to atoms; and, if the atoms are then separated into their constituent electrons, the object as such has completely disappeared and what remains is a theoretical manifestation of force, a mental concept.

One of the fundamental properties of substance is substantiality, which is defined as being that which is lasting, that which has real existence, that which is actual and not illusory. This means that substance is indestructible and permanent, and matter cannot therefore be real substance, since it is both destructible and transitory; it is relative, not absolute; a mental concept, and not a substantive actuality outside of consciousness.

Substance is that of which anything is constituted, its body, its structure. Hence whatever exists must have substance and this must be indestructible. To illustrate, a mathematical idea, if true, has substance. This substance is not material, it is not the visible figures nor the chalk or ink with which they have been made, since these can be destroyed. Its substance is its truth; it is to be present with the Lord, never to be destroyed. It is unchanging, permanent, it has the power to remain itself. The substance of all real things is right thought, which we do not see physically but mentally. Matter, therefore, is not substance since it is not substantive. It is but an appearance of substance to physical sense.

In the analysis of being it is extremely important to perceive that there is substance apart from what is commonly called matter. This exists solely in the realm of mind or metaphysics and is conceptually of purely metaphysical, for thus only can the substantiality of truth or spirit be seen, and that which St. Paul refers to as "The substance of things hoped for" be realized.

Another difficulty in getting away from the material sense of things is the dimensional concept of existence. Physical sense can perceive only finite or physical things. For example, the dimensional concept which the senses manifest through some of their qualities. But it is not the mathematical truth which they see, for this truth is not in the figures. It is in mind and is cognized mentally through mathematical understanding.

Physical things are but symbols of reality. The ideas which they may express are not limited to the physical expression but exist everywhere. Every truth is unlimited and thus infinite for it is everywhere and indestructible. There is but one idea six and that six is everywhere, can be known and used by everyone, it can never be altered, exhausted or destroyed, and consequently it is infinite.

Life Apart from Matter

All this leads to the perception that there is no life in matter since one of the fundamental characteristics of life is the continuity of existence which, as we have seen, cannot be predicated of matter.

We cannot affect mathematical truth by anything which may be done to the figures, nor can we affect the real life of anything but what we may do to its material appearing or symbol. When figures are written down at random without regard to law, they have no meaning, no power. It is only when they are correctly used that they express truth or life. So too when human thought conceives of ideas as fragmentary, discordant, temporary, without Principle or law, this concept is without substance, truth, life or power.

It is thus seen that there is neither substance nor life in matter or material phenomena; that our existence is not material; but mental, a state of consciousness, and that truth and life can only be conceived of metaphysically. On this plane alone can we analyze existence logically and intelligently, and solve its problems.

In the preface to the text-book of Christian Science, Mrs. Eddy says: "The time for thinkers has come." This is surely true. Christian healing being contrary to the teachings of physical science, cannot be interpreted on a material basis, it can be understood only as we gain a metaphysical or spiritual view point. Mrs. Eddy makes it entirely clear that material existence is not real existence; that matter is not what it seems to be, and that we cannot safely trust the evidence of the physical senses. Her writings lead thought into the realm of the immaterial and divine, they show us that we must look beyond physics into metaphysics for causation and truth. The world is now beginning to feel this demand. Inquiry into the mental nature of things is becoming more general and the call is for an intelligent interpretation of experience, of physical phenomena, and of the nature of the human consciousness. Many of the points for which Mrs. Eddy has contended are today finding corroboration as a result of advance in physical science and in psychology.

We are now ready to concede the possibility of Christian healing, that which is effected through spiritual means, the power of divine Mind. Those who still have some lingering doubt of this possibility should bear in mind that many physicians are now admitting the mental causation of disease, the effect of the emotions upon the secretions and upon functional and organic activity having been abundantly proved.

It is further evident that the mind or intelligence which is the source of all right ideas, is the intelligence and power which may logically be looked to as a remedy for all wrong ideas or conditions of human experience. The natural healing power must be the Mind or intelligence which is the underlying Principle of being. It is obvious that Truth alone corrects error, hence the discord or disease which results from false sense, can be put away, or healed only through Truth. Many who believe in God as the creator are so illogical as to believe that although He knew enough to make all things, He does not know enough to correct our false sense of what He has made.

Body is Mental

Having seen that all the phenomena of nature are mental, the projection of imperfect human sense, and that disease is mental and must be healed mentally, it is essential for us to see clearly that body is mental.

We have seen that matter is a mental phenomenon, a state of human consciousness, hence we logically conclude that the so-called material body is mental. It is evident that this body is not the man, since he is not lessened though he lose a limb. Man's real selfhood or individuality is in consciousness, and this is obviously mental.

The appearance as well as the acts of a man express his individuality and partake of the nature and quality of his consciousness. The Scriptures say of a mortal, "As he thinketh in his heart, so is he." But man does not live in a body nor can he be controlled by it any more than mathematical truth lives in figures or is controlled by them. The body of a man is but an outward sign or means of human identification, and to encourage us to think of our existence as apart from the material body, St. Paul tells us that it is better to be absent from the body and to be present with the Lord.

Let us remember, therefore, the discordant conditions of the body are in fact due to discordant conditions of imperfect human sense, a sense which is not always expressed as conscious thought, but which is a part of the mentality that creates and governs things of which we are not conscious. For example, we are not conscious of the circulation of the blood nor of the assimilation of food, nor of the growth of tissues, yet these processes are all the manifestations of mentality, and would instantly cease were mentality removed. A wrong thought, a fear may cause a disturbance in organic or functional action and then we become conscious of some inharmonious. In other words, as a man is an individual consciousness, and as the body is an externalization of consciousness, of which discordant conditions are but a state, healing can result only as a change or transformation of this consciousness is brought about, and this must be accomplished mentally, through some action of thought, since only in this way can the quality of consciousness be changed, the morbid conditions and their causes be eliminated and a normal harmonious state be established.

Convincing Evidence

There is an old saying that, "The proof of the pudding is in the eating." When I first heard of Christian Science and began its investigation, it seemed to me necessary to determine whether the claims regarding its healing were true. I therefore made a very careful investigation of a number of cases of healing, followed up cases of abdominal tumor, of cancer, of consumption in the last stages, of shortened limb, of dislocated hip, and others, and I found in each case that the physician's diagnosis had been correct; that the patients were now well and that no healing remedy had been used except this Science. I found to my entire satisfaction that Christian Science heals. How the healing was done was still a mystery but I was at least convinced of the fact.

Especially was I convinced when I found that I could obtain these results through my own efforts, the only limitation of ability being my degree of understanding, as is the case in every science or art.

The fact that some few people do not seem to be healed through Christian Science treatment is no more to the discredit of Christian Science than is a boy's failure to solve a mathematical problem a discredit to mathematics. Both failures are explained the same way. It is said that Jesus "did not many mighty works" in his home city "because of their unbelief."

When John the Baptist sent two of his disciples to determine whether Christ Jesus was the Messiah, Jesus, according to Luke's statement, having cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits, and given sight unto many that were blind, answered them, saying:

"Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and to the poor the gospel is preached. And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me."

The fact that Christian Science heals can readily be determined by any sincere investigator, and the supporting evidence reveals its coincidence with spiritual healing, thus proving this healing to be true and possible today and establishing the fact that Christian Science is Messianic.

The Philosophy of Christian Science Healing

We are now in a position to examine into the method by which Christian healing is scientifically demonstrated. According to the Scriptural accounts, the healing wrought by the Master and his disciples, was accomplished through mental or spiritual means alone, thus through some action of thought. Christian Science healing is thought about in the same way. In both, the healing Principle and law are mental, and we are thus led to examine into the nature of Mind and mind action.

Christian Science teaches that Mind is that which thinks, that which expresses itself in ideas, intelligence, consciousness. Thus it is the basis of all manifestation, the Principle and intelligence of the universe. It discloses that Mind is infinite, and that Mind and its ideas constitute all being. Mind is that which manifests and that which is manifested. Thus it is Truth or actuality, and there can be no place where Truth is not. Infinity means without limitation or boundary, without beginning or end, without quantitative dimensions. It means omnipresence, the everywhere present. It means omniscience, the all-knowing consciousness. It means omnipotence, the almighty power. This infinite Mind is Spirit, the substance and essence of real being; it is Soul, the identity and individuality of all right ideas; it is Life, the creating and sustaining Principle of all activity; it is Truth, the actuality of being; the Love, it is substance of all goodness and harmony. This infinite, absolute, perfect, indestructible, omnipresent, omnipotent being is the incorporeal Father Mother God, the divine "Us" of the Scriptures whose true nature is revealed through Christian Science.

This divine actuality is the scientific basis on which all Christian healing is demonstrated, the divine Principle whose unlimited power is utilized in the overcoming of sin and sickness.

It follows axiomatically that perfect Principle is manifested in perfect ideas; hence man and the universe, the representation and expression of Mind, must partake of its perfect, infinite, spiritual nature. Thus we are led to accept the truth of one of the fundamental statements of Christian Science, viz.: "All is infinite Mind and its infinite manifestation" (Science and Health, p. 468). Because man is the image and likeness of God, like his Father, it follows that he must be incorporeal, spiritual, perfect, and that the universe must be harmonious, indestructible, spiritual, a realm where perfect law governs perfectly.

Christian Science maintains that divine Mind is the infinite, divine reality, which embraces and supports all real existence; constituting perfect God, perfect man, and perfect universe, which cannot be perceived through the physical senses but only through understanding.

Unreality of Evil Mind

But if reality is spiritual, perfect, there arises the question, "what of evil, material discordant conditions?" Here Christian Science explains that, as Spirit, the absolute good, is infinite, everywhere, there can be no place for either evil or matter. It therefore classes all phenomena and all experiences which are unlike perfect God and perfect man, as unreal, as false concepts projected by erroneous physical sense; as untrue beliefs, and it sustains this contention, by destroying these conditions, thus proving them untrue, for truth is indestructible. Thus it differentiates between the actual and seeming and enables us to recognize error as error, thereby making the separation between error and truth.

Christian Science shows that the so-called mind which includes the belief in evil, matter and disease, is not real Mind but a false concept of mind, the Adam dream, which St. Paul terms, "the carnal mind which is enmity against God." In other words, God's unlikeness or opposite. This carnal mind Christian Science further defines as mortal mind, since it includes all that is sick, sinning, discordant and mortal. It is the inversion or counterfeiting of the immortal divine Mind and its betraying characteristic is finity as opposed to infinity. All that is real is infinite, therefore all that is finite is unreal. The unreal beliefs of the carnal mind have neither place, location, nor power, any more than has the school boy's erroneous belief that two times two make five. It is simply a false concept.

The Initial Step in Healing

This then is one of the initial and essential steps in the Science of Christian healing—the recognition of the unreality of all that which is unlike God, that it has but a seeming and not an actual existence. Unless this stand is unequivocally taken, and maintained, Christian healing cannot be scientifically or successfully demonstrated.

The first step in the correction of any mistake is the perception of the mistake. So long as we believe error to be real and true, we cannot correct it. Christian Science reveals the untrue nature of mortal mind and its substratum, matter, and shows that material, discordant conditions must be dealt with as error, for only on that basis can truth heal them, as is the case with the correction of any other error.

The order of scientific Christian healing therefore is expressed first, in the knowing of perfect God and perfect man, followed by the recognition of the erroneous nature of disease, sin and all that is unlike God; then in the application of absolute truth to the elimination of error, so that right, harmonious conditions may be established.

Right spiritual knowing or real thinking expresses the activity of Truth in consciousness. The knowing of God is the appearing of Christ in us. This healing consciousness comforts the sorrowing, brings hope to the infidel, awakens the sinner and heals the afflicted by destroying the darkness of error with the light of Christ, Truth.

A Necessary Discrimination

It is thus seen that Christian healing is not brought about through hypnotism, will-power, or mental suggestion in any form, for these methods all involve belief in the reality of matter and evil, and simply effect the exchange of one belief for another. They depend wholly upon the influence of one human mind over another and the danger of this method becomes apparent when we recognize that the quality of the mind may be evil and may thus transmit evil. In Christian Science healing the human mind is not a factor, for the healing power is divine Truth, which dispels error and its effects. The human will does not enter therefore into the operation, even as in correcting a mathematical error we do not use will-power but perceive the error as such and apply the corrective truth.

One of the cardinal points in Christian Science healing is to recognize all disease and sin as mesmerism and as no more a part of man than it is of his Maker, the infinite divine Principle. Writing to the Roman's, St. Paul says:

"The good that I would I do not; but the evil which I would not that I do. Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me."

In conformity with this statement of the great Apostle, Christian Science teaches that the evil is not the man but is always impersonal and only acts in so far as it is believed to be true by deceived human sense, and this separation between man and false material belief has a very significant relation to the healing of sin as well as disease.

Human Sense Healed

The healing work is accomplished in the human mind by bringing about a change of consciousness wherein lies the belief in error which has to be corrected. This human mind is that quality of consciousness which embraces error and yet which can begin to know divine Truth. It is the plane on which the real can reach the unreal. It is a kind of clearing house where Truth can be known, where error can be corrected and where harmony can be established. It is a transitional stage of experience in which transformation takes place, through the renewal of the mind. It is an imperfect consciousness, still influenced by error, but one to which the saving Christ can come, healing it of its erroneous beliefs and renewing it with the mind of Christ. Mortal mind or the carnal mind is wholly evil and erroneous but the human mind, although containing much error, possesses also some good. It is this element of good which is quickened and enlarged through the appearance of the Christ in consciousness, and which will eventually be so transformed that all error will be destroyed and the perfect, spiritual, harmonious consciousness of the real man be established.

Christian Science heals sin in the same manner that it heals sickness, by recognizing the fact that evil is the opposite of good or the absence of good, and thus has neither Principle nor power; that it is no part of God's creation since in the infinity of good there can be no place for evil. It shows that evil is a lie, "a law, and the father of it," as Jesus termed it, and that it exists in the human consciousness only as a false belief of good. When Christian Science reaches the consciousness of the sinner, it shows him the deceptive character of evil, and awakens him from the mesmeric dream, the bondage in which he has been held. He is thus set free and evil no longer appeals to him. He ceases indulging in it because the desire has been destroyed by the presence and power of divine Love, he has begun to work out his salvation through Christ.

Three Modes of Healing

Christian Science healing reaches the individual in three ways. First, through reading of Christian Science or hearing it spoken. This healing is accomplished when the truth of the written or spoken word enters a receptive consciousness and brings about a change in the quality of the thought, so that there is an awakened interest, a new view point, a clearer vision, an uplifted sense, a removal of fear, a yearning satisfied, the darkness of evil dispelled, and the brightness and power of good made manifest; the majesty, glory and presence of infinite divine Mind revealed. This improved consciousness is then externalized in improved bodily conditions, and health and harmony are expressed. It surely proves the divinity of Christian Science for the healing is a sole result of the declaration of divine Truth.

Second, healing is effected through the effort made by a person to apply the Principle and rule of Christian Science to his own problem. This is accomplished by the study of the Bible and the Christian Science text-book and by the application of the Master's teaching in a scientific way, whether it be a case of disease, sin or other discord. This healing likewise results from the destruction of erroneous beliefs by the presence of divine Truth and Love in consciousness.

Third, healing is effected through the effort made by one person to apply truth to the problems of another person. The possibility of one person healing another through mental endeavor has often been doubted and misunderstood, especially in Christian Science healing where there is no transfer of mortal thought. This healing is explained by the fact that a problem presented to a practitioner for solution becomes the practitioner's problem and is affected by his thought of Truth. When one knows the truth and reflects it, that consciousness becomes more spiritual and everything included in it and to which it is directed is benefited thereby. The patient asking for treatment has at least a slight degree of faith or expectancy and if he is earnest and honest he will get the benefit of the truth which is known about him and which is brought to bear upon his problem. In Christian Science treatment there is no effort at mental manipulation for the mortal mind is not a factor in the healing.

To know the absolute divine truth about man and the nothingness of mortal mind, brings the truth to bear upon the case no matter whether the person is near by or far away. Christian Science healing results from an awakened consciousness produced by the Christ Mind and neither time, distance, matter nor evil enter into it nor can they interfere with it. Christian Science heals through the operation of divine law, the law which Principle is infinite Spirit, Life and Love, and anyone can heal through Christian Science who depend wholly upon the influence of will apply this law of God exactly and honestly.

Respecting this Mrs. Eddy has said: "To-day the healing power of Truth is widely demonstrated as an imminent, eternal Science, instead of a phenomenal exhibition. Its appearing is the coming anew of the gospel of 'on earth peace, good-will toward men.' This coming, as was promised by the Master, is for its establishment as a permanent dispensation among men; but the mission of Christian Science now, as in the time of its earlier demonstration is not primarily one of physical healing. Now, as then, signs and wonders are wrought in the metaphysical healing of physical disease, but these signs are only to demonstrate its divine origin,—to attest the reality of the higher mission of the Christ-power to take away the sins of the world" (Science and Health, p. 150).

Christian Science Treatment

A Christian Science treatment, or the scientific application of divine Principle, consists fundamentally of a clear knowing of the nature of God and the real man, and the consequent recognition of the unreality of matter and evil. It involves an analysis of that which is to be healed, a spiritual discernment of the mental causes of the trouble, and a correct application of the antidoting divine Truth which will correct and remove these causes. Although this is a mental process, it is not a mere repetition of words but rather the reflection of divine Love through spiritual consciousness. It brings about not merely a physical change but improves the patient morally, mentally and spiritually. It brings a man nearer to God and changes his standpoint from a material to a spiritual basis. It uplifts his thought, gives him power over evil and improves his whole being in the degree that he can grasp its truth. Christian Scientists know that "with God all things are possible" and that Christian Science can accomplish all the wonders of infinite Mind. Hence they are striving day by day to have in them more of the Mind that was in Christ, that they may demonstrate this healing power more and more effectually. They are deeply grateful today for the good that has already come to them and the good they have been able to do to others, especially that they have learned to know the unreality of evil and have thus begun to defend themselves against its influence or control, against every temptation and assault of evil mind, or animal magnetism. They are grateful to know that there is a perfect and complete God who will guide them and sustain them, "a very present help in trouble."

Each of us can begin today to improve our thought and life. We are thinking something all of the time and we can begin to think more of what is good and true, bearing in mind the supremacy of good and thus increasing its presence in our consciousness. We can begin to think more about life than death, more about harmony than discord, more about success than failure, more about joy than sorrow, more about love than hate, and with earnest desire and honest endeavor our faith in God will grow until we begin to experience some of the "peace of God, which passeth all understanding."

Love for Mrs. Eddy

The love and gratitude which Christian Scientists feel toward Mrs. Eddy is not to be wondered at when one takes into account the great good which has come into their lives as the result of her teachings. People are grateful to one who has helped them out of a serious difficulty, supplied some great need or rescued them from some disaster. How much more grateful would they naturally be to one who has made it possible for them to be healed of incurable disease, hopeless sorrow, the bondage of degrading sin, of anger, lust, hatred, jealousy, revenge, poverty, ignorance, superstition and fear, and more than this, who has healed them of agnosticism and atheism by revealing to them the naturalness, simplicity and truth of the Bible teachings and the possibility of their fulfillment.

The whole world is indebted to her for her scientific and spiritual interpretation of the Bible, especially the words and works of the Master, and for her demonstration of the truth of his teachings. In the face of the so-called higher criticism and the doubt respecting the correctness of much Scripture teaching and the possibility of obeying Christ Jesus' commands, Mrs. Eddy's proof that the Bible is true stands out as the greatest, most significant achievement of this age, for hereby the truth of Christianity and the rightness of its basis is scientifically established.

Mrs. Eddy early learned that the Bible is the word of God, the spiritual teacher of the ages. She turned to it for light and leading when human ways and means failed to give her health and hope. In its inspired pages she found Christian Science, the spiritual fulfillment of Jesus' teachings and practice and she thus rediscovered the Science of Christianity. The proof of the sincerity of her aspiration and of the truth of her teaching is found in her own life and works and in the lives of those who honestly study and daily strive to practice Christian Science. She did not leave her work here until it was so established as to remain intact and inviolate.

With wisdom and foresight she insured the safety of the Christian Science organization and the preservation of the purity of her teachings by establishing The Mother Church as the anchor of the Christian Science movement and by providing a Manual for the government of the church, and a Board of Directors to administer its affairs.

Christian Science is the renaissance of Christianity, the re-birth and re-establishment on a scientific, demonstrable basis, of the Christianity which Christ Jesus taught and practiced. It is the fulfillment of his mission of bringing to the world salvation from sin, sickness and death. Its modest achievements of today prove the truth of its Principle and rule and enable any sincere seeker to begin to live it. It is a clarion call to every aspiring heart, to awaken to the present privilege of freedom and spiritual authority over human ills, and to demonstrate that the day of human redemption is at hand.

Mrs. Eddy writes:

"When will Jesus' professed followers learn to emulate him in all his ways and to imitate his mighty works? It is possible,—yes, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman,—to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of truth and Life, of health and holiness. Christians claim to be his followers, but do they follow him in the way that he commanded? Hear these imperative commands: 'Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect!' 'Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature!' 'Heal the sick!' (Science and Health, p. 37).

ELECTRICAL PROSPERITY WEEK

Many people are asking, "What is Electrical Prosperity Week?" What will be done during that week?

Electrical Prosperity Week is a nation-wide opportunity for everyone to get acquainted with the new and up-to-date uses of electricity in home, store or factory.

Every possible form of advertising is being used to attract the attention of people to this week, and to prompt them to ask questions about electricity and about electrical appliances. The field is one of remarkable opportunities, and the inquirer is bound to be made enthusiastic by what he can learn.

Everyone connected with the business in any branch is ready to answer questions and people need not be afraid that they are going to be pressed to purchase something, simply because they ask a question and show an interest in electrical appliances.

The wonderful developments in the uses of electricity have come along so rapidly that it has been absolutely impossible to keep the people informed. National advertisers like the large manufacturers of appliances have done everything they could in their advertising and in the printed matter which they have sent out to inquirers, but the field is so immense, (and it seems as though all of the one hundred million people now in this country were interested), that they have not been able to keep pace with the growing interest.

The Society for Electrical Development, with its big national offices in New York city, has, therefore, undertaken to get all of the people in the electrical field talking about what they know of its great interests and talking all at the same time. That is what Electrical Prosperity Week will mean.

It will also be a "Shop Early" opportunity. Electrical Prosperity Week will be observed from November 29 to December 4 inclusive. That is exactly three weeks before Christmas, and thousands of people will welcome the opportunity to see electrical appliances under the most favorable conditions, make their selections and perhaps have their gifts all wrapped up and ready for Christmas time in ample season.

Now people have the opportunity to use electricity, especially in the territory served by The Boston Edison Company, where the rates for using appliances are so low, to do all of their housekeeping electrically. They can begin with the ringing of the front door bell from the current on their electric light wires, through all parts of the house, to the reading lamps, heating pads, curling-iron heaters, flat-irons, toasters, coffee percolators, electric chafing dishes, electrically-driven washing machines and the beautiful way of cooking by the electric range.

All of these opportunities are within the reach of everyone because nearly everyone uses electric light now.

WOOD POLLARD CO.

Dewey Square, Boston

One of the most complete, attractive and well appointed grocery stores, as near perfection as it is possible for the inventive mind of man, with modern improvements and inventions at his command to make it, has been accomplished by the Wood Pollard Company, 172 Summer street, opposite the South Terminal Station.

The work of remodeling has been going on systematically for a term of years, and only during the past 12 months has the last of the improvements been completed. The watchwords have been protection, sanitation, temperature, etc., until at the present time all the goods in the large and commodious departments of the store are on view, protected from dust, odor, heat or cold, and under the most perfect conditions.

Each department is separated with due care for protection from its neighbor, and again strengthened by special and most scrupulous means of preventing anything foreign to its nature from penetrating within the enclosure. The cheese department is free from exposure at all times. The egg department has a perfect temperature. The candy department is unlike that of any other grocery store in New England, and is arranged in specially designed show cases, compact and attractive, where no dust can penetrate, enclosed in receptacles that permit of packing without using the hands of the same utensils more than once, insuring immaculately clean delivery to purchasers. The department of canned goods is a model by itself.

The cigar department, near the main entrance on Summer street, is one of the largest, if not the largest, in New England. It includes foreign and domestic cigars, as well as their own specialties, and some not to be found elsewhere.

It sometimes happens that a woman's hair is a bit of fiction founded on fact.

QUALITY GOODS

No word in the vocabulary of business is more pregnant with significance than the one word QUALITY. You may apply it to goods, to service, to ability; this one truth is universally the same—no extravagant assertion of present advantage, no false logic of economy, can long make headway against downright merit in merchandise.

RUNAWAY AT NEWTONVILLE

Just when the Public Market at Newtonville, was in its height of business Monday morning, a horse owned by a Millis farmer and attached to a wagon containing all kinds of fruit and vegetables, took fright, and before brought to a stop more than half a mile away had scattered the contents of the wagon all along Washington street.

The farmer had removed the bridle from the horse, when the animal became frightened and started to bolt. For 50 feet the owner attempted to calm the horse, and was very lucky to jump out of the way when the horse's head became free.

At Lowell avenue the animal started its wild run and tore along at a terrific clip while drivers of teams and automobiles made attempts to check his pace. The horse, in racing past Police Headquarters, was seen by Chief Mitchell, who followed in his automobile, but the animal had been caught at the West Newton bridge by some teamsters.

The owner gathered up the fruit and vegetables and a short time later was again at his stand in the Public Market.

SUBSCRIPTION DANCE

A very delightful social affair of the past week, was a subscription dancing party on Saturday evening in Temple Hall, Newtonville, from 8 until 12 o'clock.

It was attended by one hundred and twenty-five members of the younger society set of the Newtons and Brookline and their friends, and there was no scarcity of partners as forty couples were present and forty-five "stags," all ardent disciples of Terpsichore, adorned the centre of the hall, awaiting an opportunity to indulge in the popular pastime.

The order included all of the latest dances and an excellent program of music was furnished by John Bond's colored orchestra.

It was a very enjoyable affair and considered by those in charge, the most successful dance of the season.

The matrons were Mrs. Adams D. Claffin, Mrs. Charles P. Clark and Mrs. Allen Hubbard of Newton Centre, Mrs. J. Charles Thomas of West Newton, assisted by Miss Olga Ayer of Newton Highlands.

The ushers included Mr. Edgar Burkhardt of Newton Centre, Mrs. Stearns Poor of West Newton, Mr. Ira A. Moody of Waltham, Mr. Herbert Harrington, Mr. William T. Jenney, Mr. Frank E. Fennessy, Jr., Mr. Anson M. Lyman, Jr., of Brookline, and Mr. Francis Skelton, Mr. Mortimer Prescott and Mr. Gordon W. Ayer of Newton Highlands.

WEDDING AT HOME

The leading social event of the week in Newton was the wedding reception on Wednesday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Milliken.

Four hundred guests assembled at their residence on Franklin street, which was elaborately decorated in a combination scheme of pink, white and green with roses, chrysanthemums, ferns and palms. Mr. and Mrs. Milliken received from 8.30 until 10, in the reception room. Mrs. Milliken was beautifully gowned in white princess lace and pink chiffon over pink satin, and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Music was furnished during the reception by a string orchestra of six pieces.

The dining room was decorated in pink and white with a centre piece of pink roses on the table.

After the reception the guests enjoyed dancing until a late hour. The ushers included Mr. Long of Lowell, Mr. Loring, and Mr. Alfred R. McIntyre of Newton.

50 YEARS IN BANK

In honor of his 50 years of service with the Old Boston National Bank, a dinner was held Saturday night at the Boston Athletic Association in honor of Mr. Christopher C. Patten of Crescent avenue, Newton Centre, assistant cashier of the bank, himself a veteran in the bank's service of more than 50 years' standing.

Mr. Patten entered the service of the bank as a messenger Nov. 1, 1865, and worked his way up. In 1887 he was made paying teller. In 1903 he was made assistant cashier. During the evening Mr. Patten received a set of books from the clerks of the bank.

READ FUND LECTURES

That the popularity of the Read Fund Lectures is not waning was evidenced by the large number who attended the first in the series Monday evening at the Bigelow School. The speaker was Lewis B. Allyn, the pure food expert.

Next Monday evening Mr. B. R. Baumgardt will enlighten his listeners with an illustrated talk on Astronomy.

TALK ON CURRENT EVENTS

Dr. H. H. Powers will give a series of Morning Talks on Current Events under the auspices of Stearns School Centre, at Eliot Chapel, Newton, on Fridays at 11 o'clock, beginning Nov. 12.

of the memorial to Sarah Hull on Walnut street, near the Technical High school on the ground that it excited ridicule, was unsightly and was financially injurious to surrounding property.

On recommendation of committees, leave to withdraw was granted H. L. Johnson for a public garage on Commonwealth avenue near Manet road, to E. A. Knight for bowling alley licenses, J. H. Martin for common victualer license, Edison Co. for poles on Page road, for improvement of Clark street, to Fannie W. Fogg for abatement of sewer assessment, Newton Lodge G. U. of O. F. was granted a pool table license, Emma Baldwin a common victualer license on Boylston street, Max Silverman a transfer of junk license to Chandler street, Levi Cooley, Prescott street and Edwin S. Webster of Hammond street, license to maintain private garages, the Evan Friction Cone Co. to keep gasoline on Needham street, the Telephone and Edison Co. for poles on Dedham street, and the Edison Co. for poles on Linwood avenue, a hearing was assigned on widening of Rowe street, sewers were ordered in Elliot and Centre streets, and one hour allowed city laborers to vote at regular and primary elections. The recommendation of the Mayor to purchase the Lower Falls playground was deemed inexpedient.

Alderman Hollis opposed the majority report refusing to grant a junk shop license to N. Lipschitz saying that this man was merely a junk broker. He did not collect from house to house but bought junk from the local collectors, and as the same kind of business was being done in this city every day by men who came from Boston, the aldermen thought it only fair to authorize a Newton citizen to do the same kind of business. Alderman Cabot said that 16 of the 19 junk licenses were located in this part of the city and he strenuously opposed any increase in number or any enlargement of rights of those now in the business. The report of the committee was then accepted.

There was a long debate on the matter of granting M. T. Mehan a permit for a public garage on Commonwealth avenue near Fuller street. This matter had been refused at the last meeting and came up under a notice of reconsideration given by Alderman Clark, and at whose request the board reconsidered its previous action. The permit was favored by Aldermen Clark, Alley, Early and Bartlett and opposed by Aldermen Pratt, Rice, Hagood and Cabot and was again refused by a sanding vote of 13 to 6. Orders were adopted requesting the Chief of Fire Dept. to be present at the next meeting of the board with report on fire hazard of our school buildings, and a report of the inspection of cellars and basements so far as it relates to school buildings, and for a committee to consider the advisability of placing fire alarm boxes in each school house.

A select committee was ordered appointed to look over election returns and the board adjourned at 10 o'clock.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

President's Reception

On Tuesday evening, Nov. 2nd, a reception was given to Mr. C. D. Kepner, president of the Newton Association, to Mr. Allan C. Emery the retiring president, to Mrs. I. U. Townsend, president of the Woman's Auxiliary and to Mrs. Franklin W. Ganse the retiring president of the Auxiliary.

Those in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Kepner, Mr. and Mrs. Allan C. Emery, Mr. and Mrs. I. U. Townsend and Mrs. Franklin W. Ganse. The ushers were J. Wm. Blaisdell, D. Fletcher Barber, Wm. E. Litchfield, Herbert C. Fraser, Wm. Cady and D. Webster Anders.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Willard L. Sampson, Mrs. W. B. Wolcott and Mrs. Judd W. Cone. There were exhibitions in the gymnasium and the swimming pool.

Mayor E. O. Childs, in behalf of the directors and paid officers, presented Mrs. Ganse with a bouquet of chrysanthemums in appreciation of her work as president of the Auxiliary for the past two years, and Mr. S. M. Sayford presented to Mr. Emery a beautiful picture to commemorate his seven and a half years of faithful service as president of the Newton Association.

The social committee, under the direction of Arthur Kendrick, chairman, had charge of this, the first social affair of the season.

RECEPTION

Mrs. Alvin Henry Clifford, President of the Newton Woman's Club, together with the Officers of the Club, gave a largely attended reception to the Club members and their friends at her home on Centre street, Newton, Thursday afternoon, November 4th from 3.30 to 5.30 o'clock. Mrs. Clifford was assisted in receiving by Miss Davis, Mrs. Henry A. Young, Mrs. Arthur Briggs, Miss Ruddick, Mrs. F. B. Jenkins, and Mrs. Frederick Graves. The ushers were Mrs. Louis Sanford, Mrs. Paul Clifford, Miss Tolman, and Miss Jarvis. The pourers were Mrs. Everett S. Jones, Mrs. J. W. Baker, Mrs. George A. Clapp, and Mrs. Ludwig H. A. Schwartz, Mrs. Frank Nagle, Mrs. Edward Wheeler, Mrs. Frank Grant, and Mrs. W. H. Graham assisted in the dining-room. The house was very prettily decorated; the color scheme being pink.

DEATH OF CAPT. OWEN

The death of Captain Frederick E. Owen, chief of the engineering department of the Coast Guard Service for the New England district, who had been stationed in Boston for nearly three years past, occurred on Friday, October 29, at his home, 267 Upland road, Newtonville, from a complication of diseases. He was taken ill early in the summer and had been on sick leave since July. Captain Owen had seen service on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and also on the Great Lakes. He was on the cutter Greaves, when that vessel was cut in two to enable her to pass through the canal locks from the Lakes to the St. Lawrence River, when she was ordered to service on the coast. Prior to coming to Boston, Captain Owen was stationed at New Orleans. He was an officer of wide experience in the revenue cutter service, and was within a few years of reaching the retiring age. He leaves a widow and a daughter.

APROPPOS THE ANTI-SIGN

Inasmuch as the last census showed 1,074,000 women eligible as voters, isn't it rather greedy of the "antis" to claim every last one of them? We know of two or three, ourselves, who are not "agin it."

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—"Back Home" continues to prove what a full-fledged success can be at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston. This play came plentifully heralded, and many were the good things expected of it. Written by a master playwright, Bayard Veiller, and founded upon Irvin Cobb's Judge Priest stories, the two richest of sources were tapped to bring it into being. Never before within memory were two such forces brought together to result in a play, hence the reason for bounteous expectations. These prospects have been realized to the full more generously than ordinary words can describe, for the impression it has made upon all who have witnessed it elicited only a chorus of commendations. The best of the play is that it is of the sort that makes for popularity with everybody. Humor that is provocative of hearty laughter is a sure specific for success in any play, and no dramatic offering of recent vintage has possessed more honest laughs and delectable characterizations than "Back Home." There are tense moments too, but they serve most especially as leaven for the laughs as a cloud passing across the sun makes the sunshine the brighter after. The matinees at this theatre are on Thursdays and Saturdays.

PARK SQUARE THEATRE—"Twin Beds" continues to display the stamp of permanency at the Park Square Theatre, for it is holding forth with all the assuring confidence of a visiting relative exhibiting no intention of leaving while the welcome is still strong. The welcome for this merry play does not seem to even wear as yet, nor is there the least prospect in the near future that it will see the slightest evidence of an invitation to leave. Such an entertaining guest it is that of a surety Boston will not allow it to depart until the full of its bounteous humor has been garnered. It deals with the difficulties encountered by six people—to say nothing of a paragon of a maid—who, in sets of two each, have three apartments directly above each other in a fashionable big apartment house. Matinees are given on Wednesdays and Saturdays, the Wednesday afternoon performance being popular priced. Mail orders are given prompt attention.

VOL. XLIV.—NO. 8

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1915.

TERMS, $2.00 A YEAR

(POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.)

BE SPECIFIC, MR. MAYOR.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs,
Dear Sir:—

Monday evening you stated to the Newton Board of Trade that you should be re-elected because you had been unable to correct in two years the "evils" which had flourished for the last twenty-five years. You publicly stated that your work was more difficult because the Aldermen and Mayors of the past had neglected their duty and had been "flimflammed" over and over again.

Your predecessors in office during the past twenty-five years have been Hermon E. Hibbard, John A. Fenno, Henry E. Bothfeld, Henry E. Cobb, Edward B. Wilson, Edward L. Pickard, John W. Weeks, Alonzo R. Weed, Edgar W. Warren, George Hutchinson and Charles E. Hatfield. The Board of Aldermen during that period has been composed of the leading men of every village in Newton, who have given unsparingly of their time without compensation. Will you be more specific (if you can be) and state to the voters before the primaries just wherein the Mayors who preceded you were "flimflammed" and neglected their duty? Will you state how Aldermen like Frank A. Day, Albert P. Carter, Henry B. Day, Franklin T. Miller, Edward P. Bosson and Endicott P. Saltonstall "neglected" their duty?

Is it not a fact, Mr. Mayor, that the past twenty-five years have been an era of great constructive activity, that the servants of the people, named above, have during that period built a satisfactory sewer system, built a fine and one of the only independent water systems in the Metropolitan District, constructed a modern school system with a system of technical and trade education which is a model to the entire country; that these "neglectful" and "flimflammed" officials during that period have opened up a vast territory by the building of the Newton boulevard; they lowered the railroad tracks and built Washington Street; they increased the value of our school buildings alone over a million dollars and have given us one of the best systems of modern highways in this State.

Or do you in your use of the word "flimflam" refer to the management of our city finances by these men, which has resulted in Newton bonds selling at a better rate than any other in this State, bar none, and in the paying now of the indebtedness incurred for these public improvements at the rate of $500,000 a year without financial strain.

Do you really think that you and your coterie of Democratic politicians who advise you would have managed these things any better or as well. Just what "evils" have you cured? Or was this talk of "flimflam" and "evils" merely to get votes?

I admire the achievements of the past of the City of Newton and if elected Mayor will seek to carry on their constructive work and I will never tarnish the memory of my predecessors for my own political advantage.

ARTHUR W. BLAKEMORE,
139 Park Street, Newton, Mass.

FIRE CONDITIONS

Aldermen Hear Report of Chief Randlett on Condition of School Buildings

The aldermen held a short adjourned meeting on Monday evening with President Blanchard in the chair and Aldermen Calkins, Malcolm and Rice absent.

The following traverse jurors were drawn for the coming session of the Middlesex Superior Court, Rutherford V. Lumbert, Lower Falls, Moses H. Gulesian, Chestnut Hill, Thomas Maguire, Nonantum and Walter T. Kelley, Newtonville.

Mayor Childs sent in recommendations for purchase of automobile equipment for the Forestry department, for $100 additional for legal expenses of the City Solicitor, and the offer of John T. Burns of $300 for the purchase of about 3000 feet of land on Putnam and Washington streets.

Petitions were received for a sewer in Ricker road, for the extension of Oakwood road, from the West End Street Railway Co. for slight change in order granting conduit locations thru Nonantum square and from Miss Ethel Howland that Catherine Richardson, aged 13 years be allowed to take part in an entertainment in Play-ers Hall.

On recommendation of committees the Mayor was authorized to designate public market places in this city, the Edison Co. was granted pole locations in Nobscot road, Park place and Brooks avenue and refused locations in Washington park and Park place and Hyde street, and permits were granted Eva Thurman for a common victualler license in Nonantum square, William E. Jones for a private garage on Farlow road and to the Masten & Wells Co. to manufacture fireworks on Needham street.

The City Buildings committee reported on the matter of fire hazard in school buildings that an investigation was now in progress and that pending a detailed report the School committee be requested to have placards posted

CANDIDATES FOR MAYOR

Speak at Monthly Meeting of Newton
Board of Trade

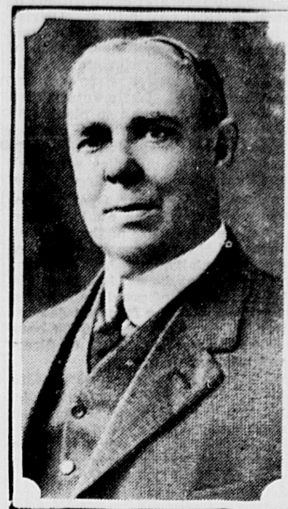

The November meeting of the Newton Board of Trade at its rooms in Claffin Block, Newtonville, on Monday evening attracted a large number of members and friends, the hall being filled to overflowing. President W. J. Cozens presided and called attention to the gain in membership of nearly 100 and a roll of nearly 300 members at the present time.

The speakers of the evening were the three candidates for nomination for mayor, Hon. Edwin O. Childs who spoke on "Newton's Greatest Need," Alderman Abbott B. Rice who talked on "A Business Administration" and ex-alderman Arthur W. Blakemore who had "The Tax Rate" as his subject.

Mayor Childs said "My field is limited but my friends here will tell you what they will do if elected. I am going to stand on my record. I'm speaking on Newton's Greatest Need. It is very simple and very brief. The greatest need of our city is for more Newton business men in the Board of Aldermen. Men who conduct business here and who have interest here, who go about the city day by day and know the city's needs. Men who eat, sleep, and do their work here. Newton is fast changing and for many of our citizens is only a bedroom. They are leading citizens, so called, and have their legal residence here but who know comparatively little of the needs of the city. They walk or ride to their trains in the morning and again at

EDITORIAL

Mayor Childs follows the regrettable precedent established by Mayor Hatfield in seeking a second term of two years in the office of mayor. When the city charter was changed in 1903 to extend the term of office from one to two years, there was a strong effort made to include a provision to prohibit a re-election to this office and it was finally omitted with the understanding that but one term was to be given each incumbent of the office. Mayor Hatfield was the first person to break this precedent, and now Mayor Childs follows suit.

There seems to have been no good reason why this precedent was broken by Mr. Hatfield and if it is continued the present fall by the re-election of Mayor Childs, it would probably establish a new precedent of giving all our future mayors four years of service.

In authorizing Mayor Childs to designate suitable places in the city where market wagons can stand and sell to the people, the city fully complies with all the compulsory features of Chapter 119 of the acts of 1915. The remainder of that act is permissive only, and it is about time the city stopped wasting the tax payers' money in the futile and sporadic manner now in force in an attempt to establish public markets, in the face of conditions which must inevitably lead to utter failure.

From the list of nominations filed for the coming city primary it is evident that there will be a large number of changes in the board of aldermen of 1916. There will be new aldermen at large in Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7, in ward aldermen in Wards 3, 5, 6, and 7, and there are possibilities of further changes in ward aldermen in Wards 2 and 4.

With the excellent emergency service given by the Telephone Company and with telephones in every school building, it hardly seems necessary for the city to spend over two thousand dollars to place special fire alarm boxes in every school house.

Mr. James Kingman honors the city by accepting a place on the Planning Commission, and Newton is most fortunate in having citizens of this character who are willing to give their services for the public good.

WOMEN HURT

A collision between two automobiles, in which two women were injured, took place Saturday afternoon and Norman A. Weaver, a Dartmouth student, of 34 Winthrop street, West Newton, was arrested on the charge of driving an automobile without a license. Young Weaver had formerly driven a machine, but since entering college his license had expired.

He had taken his father to the Braeburn Club and was on his way home, driving up Otis street, when, at the corner of Lowell avenue, his car came in collision with a small touring car owned and operated by George C. Weed of 25 Highland avenue, Newtonville, and occupied by H. H. Wilcox of Birch Hill road, Newton; Mrs. Florence Starr of St. John, N. B., and Miss Eliza Du Vernot of Boston.

The Weaver machine hit the smaller car broadside and threw it against a large tree, making it a complete wreck. The two women who were sitting in the rear of the car were cut about the face and arms by flying glass, and it is thought may be internally injured. They were taken to the Newton Hospital. Neither Mr. Weed nor Mr. Wilcox was injured.

In court Monday Weaver was fined $20.

THE SERENADE

Creditable Performance by the Newton Amateur Opera Association

The successful presentation by the Newton Amateur Opera Association of "The Serenade" at Players' Hall, West Newton, Tuesday and Thursday evenings, delighted large audiences and again proved the ability of this organization to interpret compositions of greatest musical possibilities. Originally introduced by the Bostonians, one of the most famous opera companies of its time on the American stage, "The Serenade" possesses a charm which years cannot dispel. Little wonder then that Newton people who so pleasantly remembered its professional production were eager to see it again while those to whom its melodies are fresh were fully as cordial in their welcome.

The Newton Amateur Opera Association has come to be an important part of the musical life of the city and is worthy of the encouragement it receives. Especially true is this latter of the efforts put forward to maintain the high standard of previous seasons. The best test was the frequent demonstrations of approval which must have indeed been most gratifying to director and performers.

"The Serenade" is in three acts in which is told a story of brigands, monks, lovers and funny old men—a combination offering no end of opportunities to so skillful a composer as Victor Herbert and so resourceful a librettist as Harry B. Smith.

The stage settings, all of them outdoor pictures, make for attractiveness while the costuming brightens the audience's interest. If viewed merely as a spectacle the local performances were worth while.

But there was more than that. Soloists and chorus let nothing escape them under the careful directorship of William G. Hambleton, producing manager. The result of painstaking and intelligent study was most apparent. The stage business and dancing of the chorus revealed the discriminating powers of Derby Brown as acting manager and of Mrs. A. E. Brown as mistress of the dance. The value of Mrs. George Owen's efficient piano accompaniment was also apparent.

Ethel Walcott Ross as Yvonne won distinction for her singing, her dancing and her acting. She portrayed the role with a naturalness that was captivating; she sang in sweetest tones and danced with grace and facility. Mrs. Ross' performance left nothing to be desired.

Alice Reese as Dolores sang most effectively the several numbers assigned to this exacting role. Her gentleness and pleasing personality made a deep impression on the audience.

Dorothy Eaves as Isabella was most irresistible in her pantomime during the singing of "Charity."

E. Irving Locke as the Duke of Santa Cruz made the most of a very amusing character old man. He showed in many ways his cleverness as a performer and was rewarded by enthusiastic appreciation.

Benjamin B. Sewall as Carlo Alvarado made a manly and interesting person of the adventure-loving and romantic postilion. His solos were most acceptable.

Ralph W. Somers sang with spirit the role of Romero and was heartily applauded.

F. W. Sprague 2d extracted every ounce of fun there was in the role of the comical Gomez, while Edwin F. Leighton imparted the right touch to the role of the ridiculous Colombo.

Everett Clark made a distinct hit by his singing of "I Envy the Bird."

The other parts were all in competent hands.

A feature of the performance which won unstinted praise was the sylvan dance by Ruth Allen—an interpolation which met with hearty applause.

The principals in the cast included Mrs. Ethel Walcott Ross, E. Irving Locke, Benjamin B. Sewall, Ralph W. Somers, Everett Clark, F. W. Sprague 2d, Edwin F. Leighton, Alice Reese, Grace Brown, Dan L. Smith, A. Owen Clark, William E. Leonard, Dorothy Eaves, Helen Hartel and Ellen Brewer.

In the chorus were Rosa Allen, Ruby Dort, Goldie Hoar, Leslie Perkins, Eunice Newhall, Katherine Sewall, Dorothy Hartel, Edith Jacobs, Eleanor Morton, Louise Newhall, Katherine Sprague, Mrs. G. M. Wilson, Florence Hoar, Gertrude Norman, Helen P. Morton, Edith Dowd, Edith Parkiss, Elma Trowbridge, Rosalind Nordstrom, Frank Curry, W. A. Dorney, Robert Perry, A. Henry Anderson, I. G. Clark, George M. Wilson, H. Warren Jackson, Harvey W. Barnes, Dr. W. C. Dort, L. R. Sherman, Francis Smith, Ernest Perry and R. C. Clark, Jr.

The ushers were Hon. C. E. Hatfield, Joseph B. Ross, Dr. F. W. Putnam, Edward Hollingsworth, Alfred E. Thayer, Ernest F. Dow, C. W. Ford, Edward Cutler, Wm. V. M. Fawcett and Geoffrey Baker.

The opera was presented under the direction of William B. Hambleton as producing manager and the following executive staff:

Business Manager, Joseph B. Ross; Acting Manager, Derby Brown; Stage Manager, Arthur G. Hosmer; Assistant Stage Manager, Ernest R. Clark; Mistress of the Dance, Mrs. A. E. Brown; Properties, Mary Sprague, Harold T. Hambleton; Pianist, Mrs. George Owen.

PAGEANT AND DANCE

One of the most attractive entertainments will be the "Pageant of Historical Women" to be given at the Hunnewell Club on Wednesday evening, November 17th under the auspices of Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R. The old time costumes, music and dancing of the Minuet by the Misses Esther Wing, Elizabeth Ganser, Margery Holmes, Evelyn Converse, Doris Holmes, Ruth Beadle, Louise Pinkham and Marie Daiger is the climax of a most pleasing program to be followed by dancing from 10 to 12 o'clock.

The death of Mrs. Abby Frances Holbrook occurred at the Newton Home for Aged people on Wednesday morning, Nov. 10, after about three weeks' illness. Mrs. Holbrook was 87 years of age and was born at Portsmouth, N. H., but for the past 16 years she has been an inmate at the Newton Home for Aged people. For many years she was a resident of Dorchester and was a member of the Stoughton Street Baptist Church. She also taught for many years at the Mission School of Newton Centre. Funeral services were held this morning at 10 o'clock at the home, the Rev. Dr. Burton of the Stoughton Street Baptist Church, officiating. The interment was at the Stoughton Street Cemetery, Dorchester.

The fire department has been called upon to extinguish three fires in this village the past week. The first was a still alarm from box 615 on Monday evening to extinguish a fire in an automobile owned by Mr. H. E. Locke of Boylston street. The fire was confined to the engine of the machine and was the only part damaged. On Wednesday evening at about 8 o'clock an alarm was rung in from box 621 for a fire in a block at the corner of Chestnut and Oak streets occupied by M. Thomas Ackroyd and owned by Mrs. J. W. Smart of West Newton. The fire had been smoldering for several hours in the fire before being noticed and was not located until the arrival of the firemen. The fire made no further headway but the woodwork around the chimney was badly charred. About an hour later a still alarm from box 615 was called for a fire at Prospect block on Elliott street. This was discovered by Mr. George Evell when coming down Pettae street he noticed a fire inside the back entrance. He quickly removed the burning articles and seeing that the building had been ignited rung in the alarm. Fire was caused by a gas flame igniting a basket of clothes. Damage to the building was slight.

Lower Falls

A fair will be held next week under the auspices of St. Mary's parish. Mrs. P. H. Baker of Cornell street is among the delegates from the Newton District for the "Rainbow Fair," being held this week in Tremont Temple under the auspices of the Deacons' Aid Society of New England.

MR. DODGE DEAD

Mr. Frederick Warren Dodge, of the F. W. Dodge Company, died Wednesday morning at his home in New York City. He was fifty-one years of age, having been born at Melrose, Mass., on January 24, 1864.

Descended both on his father's and on his mother's side from old New England families, Mr. Dodge was educated in the public schools of Newton, Mass. After one or two earlier business ventures, he founded the F. W. Dodge Company in Boston in 1891. In the following year he opened a branch office in New York, where, in 1896, he formed a partnership with Clinton W. Sweet, publisher of the "Architectural Record," the "Record and Guide" and "Sweet's Catalogue."

Shortly afterwards the head office of the F. W. Dodge Company was transferred to New York, and its business of issuing daily building reports on a plan devised by its founder was rapidly extended to other large cities. In 1912 Mr. Dodge bought out Mr. Sweet's interest in the Company, which had in the meantime taken over all the publications originally controlled by Mr. Sweet. At the time of his death Mr. Dodge had been for several years one of the largest publishers of the country in the architectural and building trade fields, a number of his publications being issued outside of New York, from Chicago, Pittsburgh and other Western cities.

Mr. Dodge was married in 1900 to Mrs. Emily S. Spofford, who survives him. He left no children. He was a member of the Lotus Club and of Puritan Lodge, No. 339 F. & A. M. A member, also, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in which his grandfather and great-grandfather had been ministers. He contributed largely to charity and was held in affection by his associates and employees for his lovable personal qualities and integrity in business matters.

The funeral service will take place at the residence on Friday, November 12th, at 3 P. M. The interment will be in the Newton, (Mass.), Cemetery on Saturday afternoon.

Finley, delegate from Trinity Church, Concord, now a member of Grace Church, Miss Isabella G. Whipple of Salem, Branch Secretary of the G. F. S. Diocese of Massachusetts.

HANDSOME MAJORITY

Complete returns of the vote from the thirty-one cities and towns in the Sixth Councillor District show that Councillor Henry C. Mulligan of Natick defeated Joseph H. McNally of Watertown, his Democratic opponent, by a plurality of 1,810. The total vote was Mulligan 38,511, McNally, 26,701.

The vote in this district last year when Councillor Mulligan defeated Councillor John J. Hogan of Lowell in a close contest was Mulligan 28,055, Hogan, 27,350.

This year Councillor Mulligan's vote was the largest ever received by any candidate for the Council in this district, and he carried every city and town except Woburn, Hopkinton, Lowell and Ward 6 of Lynn, in many places running far ahead of the rest of the ticket.

PURITY ICE COMPANY

The Purity Ice Company has completed concrete foundations for the ice storage and tank rooms in their plant on Beacon street, and brick walls have been started. The foundation bed for the oil engines, compressor and dynamo will be made in one solid block of masonry containing nearly 10,000 cubic feet of concrete.

The company is building a road about six hundred feet long, from Beacon street, direct to the plant, below which a 4 inch main has been laid for supplying city water in the great tanks to make Purity Ice.

Mr. Geo. C. Ewing of Newton Centre and Mr. Louis M. Pratt of Chestnut Hill, have been elected Directors of the Company.

TAYLOR-SMITH

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

Friday morning, November 6, the Senior class went to the hall and voted to tax every member ten cents each month, in order to cover expenses. They then instructed the treasurer to take charge of the tax. This is the first time that there has been a class treasury in this school.

The same morning the Senior Class was addressed by Mr. Walter Hapgood, who was formerly the sporting editor of the New York Herald, and is now the business manager of the Boston Braves. Mr. Hapgood spoke on the subject of professionalism in college football, and also narrated several very interesting experiences of professional baseball players whom he has known.

Wednesday morning the Junior Class assembled in the hall, where Dewey Bennett and Mildred Kelley were chosen as the Junior members of the Student Council.

Every Wednesday morning one of the classes has gone to the hall and elected its members of the Student Council. The Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores have now elected their members.

WINS LEAGUE GAME

The first contest for Preparatory League honors resulted in a 6 to 0 victory for Newton High over its Cambridge High and Latin School rivals at Claffin Field last Friday.

The game was played in a down-pour and the muddy field proved a serious handicap to good football. Time after time one of the backs would lose his footing and fall before an opponent had even touched him. But there was considerable good playing, for all that, and the teams were very evenly matched.

Newton's victory came in the second period, when Boyd, Cambridge Latin's quarterback in attempting to catch a punt just barely touched the ball, and Vachon caught it on the bound and with several other Newton players as interference rushed 30 yards for a touchdown. Capt. Dorney failed to kick the goal.

The last two periods were hard fought and fumbling was very frequent. Each team punted often and many forward passes were tried, only a few being successful.

AUCTION BRIDGE

Mrs. Carl E. Pickhardt of Highland avenue, West Newton, was the hostess at a very delightful social affair on Monday afternoon at the Neighborhood Club.

A large company of guests were entertained at cards, and Mrs. Pickhardt was assisted in receiving by Mrs. John W. Weeks.

Sixteen tables were arranged in the hall which was decorated attractively with yellow chrysanthemums in combination with greenery, and the game was auction bridge, with prizes at each table.

At the close of the game, refreshments were served. Mrs. C. E. Benson poured, and Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson served. Assisting in serving were Miss Eleanor Frost, Miss Dorothy Dowse, Miss Leatherbee, Mrs. Drew, Mrs. Richards, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Felton, and Mrs. Eaton.

MEN'S CLUB MEETING

An enthusiastic meeting of the Men's Club of the Grace Episcopal Church was held Monday evening in the Parish House. The entertainment of the evening consisted of a one-act comedy entitled, "Old Cronies," presented by Ernest W. Wright and Leverett D. G. Bentley long favorites of the footlights in local productions. Their sketch was extremely amusing and delighted the large audience. Following the sketch Alderman Grosvenor Calkins, who is the president of the club told of the possibilities of the club and urged all to be present at the coming affairs. The next meeting will be held on Dec. 6 when Charles Andrews, president of the Massachusetts Tax Association will be the speaker.

DEATH OF MRS. NELSON

Mrs. Clara Tourjee Nelson, daughter of the late Dr. Eben Tourjee, a former well known resident of Aurumdale, passed away on Thursday, November 4th at her home in Brookline after an illness of about three weeks. She is survived by two daughters, Miss Pauline Nelson and Miss Barbara Nelson of Brookline.

Funeral services were held at the Newton Cemetery chapel on Monday afternoon and were conducted by a Christian Science Reader. There was a large delegation of officers and teachers of the New England Conservatory of Music present and the floral tributes were many and very beautiful. The burial was in the family lot in the Newton Cemetery.

night hurry to their homes and know few people outside of their own circle. They are able men and good men and successful business men but they are men of affairs of Boston and not of Newton. We have had many such men in our Board of Aldermen. The phrase "business men in politics" sounds catchy and political and are making capital out of it and are putting it across in many instances. What Newton needs is men on the job. You cannot flimflam a Newton business man and I hope you will take interest enough to see that our Board is at least one-half business men. I am sure that if more of you were in City Hall there would be less politics and more businesslike constructive work and much good would result from the government of the Garden City."

Alderman Rice was the next speaker and his subject was "A Business Administration." He said in part: "I'm just a plain business man, a man like yourself. I've lived honestly and have kept out of jail. This is my first political speech. I feel about campaigning like a woman who went into a delicatessen store and said to the proprietor, 'Mr. Isaacs, what is it I smell?' The answer was quickly forthcoming, 'Business, it's rotten.' Gentlemen, I maintain that the administration of the affairs of hte city should be taken out of politics. What we want is plain efficient business men. A doctor for a doctor's job; a lawyer for a lawyer's job and a businessman for a businessman's job. Running a city is a business affair and should be absolutely divorced from politics. Newton though Republican in politics should be more democratic in the administration of her municipal affairs. The Board of Aldermen annually appropriates more than one and a half million dollars for the city of Newton. Any Mayor who allows a single dollar of this to be wasted is not fitted to hold the office. As a business proposition Newton is not well governed. The heads of departments are too handicapped by customs handed down by their predecessors. If elected Mayor I would strive to keep down taxes but not at the expense of the pleasures and enjoyment of the citizens. Not by appropriating more money, but by making the same amount of money accomplish results in my idea of the conduct of the city's affairs."

Mr. Blakemore said that the tax rate was the most difficult question which came before the city government. That the question was one of judgment in making what expenditures the citizens desired and still not raising the tax rate so high as to drive out the personal property tax payers who pay a large part of the city expenses, and that if the mayor's budget had been adopted this year our tax rate would have been over $19. He pointed out that at the last election the Constitution of Massachusetts had been amended to permit special taxation of intangible personal property and that the legislature would undoubtedly this year amend our tax laws in accordance with the permission given in the amended Constitution and that an expert on taxation would be of great help to the city during the period of the working out of the various problems of the new system.

Mr. Blakemore said that as an alderman he had been in favor of making all possible arrangements to give continuous employment to city laborers; that he was now in favor of beginning the execution of definite plans to meet the growth of the future in accordance with the suggestions of the Planning Board; that such work meant an improvement in the city itself, the attraction to the city of the most desirable class of citizens, and it also meant work and money for the laboring man and prosperity to local business men and landowners.

Mr. Blakemore pointed out that the various suggestions of Mr. Rice had either been tried at City Hall before his election there and found impractical or had already been put into effect.

At the close of his remarks Pres. Cozens gave an opportunity for questioning the speakers and many took advantage of the chance.

Alderman Rice said that Mr. Blakemore's remarks proved him to be a poor business man and a mediocre lawyer.

Mayor Childs replied to various questions by saying that he had given practically all of his time to city affairs and that he intended to continue the practice. He said that no man could pull the city out of the condition in two years that it had taken twenty-five to get in. In speaking about the Comptroller of Accounts he said he was a fine man but that he was used by the Finance Committee to act as City Manager. He said the spot light had been on him, the Mayor, to show him up but the only thing they had against him was the Nagle case and in that he acted like a gentleman.

CITY HALL NOTES

The three candidates for the nomination for mayor at the coming city primary will be present at the meeting of the Civic Club to be held next Tuesday evening at the Newton Club.

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

In the Assembly Hall Wednesday morning, Rev. Laurens MacLure of Grace Church, Newton, delivered a very inspiring address on the subject of "Ideals," pointing out strongly the distinction between ideals, which are wholesome, and idols, which are merely corrupt forms of ideals.

Tuesday morning the Senior Class assembled in the hall, and selected Bartlett Boyden as editor-in-chief, and William Fawcett as business manager, of this year's "Newtonian."

The English Club held an open meeting in the hall last Friday afternoon. A large number of members and guests enjoyed an entertainment furnished by "Uncle Remus."

The first meeting of the German Club will be held in the library Friday, November 12, at the close of school.

The Girls' Debating Club held a meeting Monday morning. As in past years, this organization will be known as the Portia Club.

Thursday, November 11, the Newton High School girls' hockey team will play the Radcliffe girls' team at Radcliffe.

The result of the game Friday proved a big surprise to the Cambridge Latin supporters. Considering the weather, a remarkably large number of Cambridge boys accompanied their team to Newtonville, and a loyal crowd of Newton supporters turned out. Cambridge showed great weakness in carrying the ball. Newton was greatly hampered by the soft, muddy field, but played a safe game and clearly deserved to win from their heavier, but less developed, opponents.

As a result of last week's games, Newton and Brookline are leading in the Triangular League. Should Cambridge defeat Brookline next Friday, it would practically settle the championship in favor of Newton. On the other hand, if Brookline wins, Newton will remain tied for first.

This week, however, the interest of all Newton supporters is turned toward the Waltham High School Athletic Field, where the annual battle between Newton and Waltham, two of the bitterest rivals in school football, The Waltham eleven is regarded as one of the strongest in the state, and has yet to be defeated this season. Newton, however, has developed rapidly during the past two weeks, and is certain to give the Waltham boys a great battle. Coach Dickinson is very hopeful. A number of the students believe that, after some twenty years of defeat, the orange and black will be successful Saturday, but by far the majority are of the opinion that it will again be the same old story, which, in truth, never seems to grow old.

Tuesday, was parents' day at the school. Quite a number of fathers and mothers took advantage of the pleasant afternoon and interviewed the teachers.

WINS HIS CASE

Mr. Charles R. Darling of Newton Centre who recently sued the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Company for 14 cents which he claimed were due him on account of the closing of the show at Norumbega Park one night last summer, has been awarded the sum of twelve cents by Associate Judge Frank M. Copeland, the sum of two cents claimed to be due on account of the payment of postage being eliminated by the court. Judge Copeland says in effect that in selling round trip tickets including admission to Norumbega Park, the street railway company makes a contract with the passenger covering all the facts embodied in the ticket and cannot be exempted from the Norumbega Park part of the contract because that is handled by another corporation.

DO YOU COLLECT POSTAGE STAMPS?

In connection with the Stamp Collector's Table at the Unitarian Church Fair to be held on Wednesday, Dec. 8, from 10 A. M. to 10 P. M. in the parlors of the First Unitarian Church, West Newton, it has been proposed to organize an All-Newton Stamp Club. Any boy or girl, man, woman, or child who is interested in the collection of postage stamps may join this society by sending 25c before December first to Miss Ethel Howland, 129 Chestnut street, West Newton, accompanied by the full name and address of the sender and the total number of stamps in his or her collection. This number must not include the enumeration of duplicates.

Meetings of the Society will be held in Small Players' Hall, Washington street, West Newton (opposite Waltham street) on the first Sunday afternoon of each month at three P. M., beginning Dec. 1 of this year, unless further notification be sent.

Members may bring their duplicates for exchange to these meetings. From time to time the Society will be addressed by speakers competent to lecture on the various subjects of interest to Stamp Collectors, and valuable stamps will be exhibited. Mr. Charles E. Hatfield expects to show his rare collection of Cuban stamps and will also address the Stamp Club.

Any Club member may enter the Fair on Dec. 8th without paying the usual door fee of one cent, by having his or her name verified on the membership list at the desk.

Miss Howland would be grateful for any donations of foreign or old U. S. stamps that the reader of this notice would care to contribute toward the success of the Stamp Collectors table. Members may display for sale on commission, at their own risk, valuable stamps provided these stamps are properly mounted and priced on sheets of paper bearing the name and address of the sender.

Any member desiring to sell an entire collection, may also avail themselves of this privilege under the above named conditions.

All such sheets or albums should be left at the First National Bank, West Newton before December seventh. Cut out this notice and follow its instructions implicitly if you wish to join the All-Newton Stamp Club. Bring along your stamp collecting friends to the Fair and buy your Christmas presents of us. Advt.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT

Mr. E. J. Brattlett of Marktree road, Needham, narrowly escaped serious injury when he drove his automobile some five feet up the center section of the railroad bridge on Centre street, Newton Corner.

The accident occurred early Friday evening. Mr. Brattlett said he had come around the corner through Hall street and approached the bridge slowly but the darkened condition of the street and the mist on his windshield, for it was a rainy evening, prevented his seeing the bridge.

His machine climbed up a considerable distance and then crashed to the ground falling on its side. Mr. Brattlett clung to the wheel and after the car had fallen crawled out uninjured.

Workmen from Boston were called and soon had the car righted. It was damaged to quite an extent.

BENEFIT CONCERT

The annual Benefit Concerts for the Frances E. Willard Settlement will be held this year at the Copley-Plaza hotel, Boston on Thursday afternoons, Dec. 2 and Dec. 16. ## AUBURNDALE FLOODED

Break in 48 Inch Water Main Causes Great Inconvenience and Damage

A most unusual and annoying accident took place at Auburndale early Saturday morning when a break in the 48 inch water main of the Metropolitan Water Board occurred at the Junction of Commonwealth avenue and Auburn street, diagonally opposite the Church of the Messiah. The Metropolitan board is now engaged in laying a 60 inch water main in the north roadway of Commonwealth avenue thru Auburndale, and the watchman on the job first knew of the accident when at 5.35 A. M. one of the lanterns were thrown up in the air to about the height of the trolley wires of the street railway immediately adjoining and a geyser of water began to flow. In a short time the water came from the break in the form of a low wide fountain about four or five feet high. The flood lasted until about 7.30, and until the Metropolitan Water board employees were able to close one of the gates controlling that particular water main. Help was called by means of the fire alarm and every effort made to dispose of the water thru the drains and catchbasins but with little effect. The entire region was flooded with water to a depth of several feet, cellars were flooded, furnace fires put out, mud and debris carried into streets, yards and cellars and a large amount of damage done. The water found its way down Rowe terrace to the railroad track and covered the rails so that the officials were afraid to use the most southerly track, the local trains taking the express track as far as the freight yard switch at Newton. The traffic on the street railway was entirely suspended, its tracks being completely buried in mud and dirt. A hole about fifteen feet deep and fully twenty feet in diameter was made in the north roadway by the force of the water. While it is not possible to accurately gauge the amount of water it is conservatively estimated that at least 15 million gallons of water was wasted in the two hours of the flood.

The city did all in its power to relieve the inconvenience caused the people in the vicinity, many of whom had several feet of water in their cellars. The Fire Department set its apparatus to work pumping out the water which accumulated in the back yards and low places in the flooded area, and the Street Department had men and apparatus at work pumping out the cellars.

Mr. Frank P. Goodwin who was just moving into his new house on Commonwealth avenue near Auburn street was probably the worst sufferer from the flood, as considerable valuable furniture including a piano, and a library, were stored in the cellar, which was flooded with about five feet of water. The basement of the parish house of the Church of the Messiah was also flooded, as were the cellars of Messrs. John G. Blaisdell and Thomas E. Jones on Auburn street.

Most of the water found its way into Cheesecake Brook at West Newton and the brook shows the effects of the unusual amount of water along its entire course.

The break in the pipe was found to be eight feet long and at least two feet wide at one end, tapering to a point at the other. There seems to be ground for considerable criticism of the delay in the Metropolitan Water Board in closing down its gate at Weston, as the first notice was given them about 5.45 A. M. by Chief Randall and it was after 7 o'clock before anyone appeared on the scene with authority to act.

Nothing definite has yet been learned as to the cause of the break, although it is possible that it may have been caused by the blasting which has been done in laying the new line of pipe.

To ascertain the correct spelling of words he may want to use in correspondence. He will be the guest of the Newton Association, and during his stay he will give readings and conduct conversational in the building. Our young men should plan to meet him. No one can come into personal touch with this remarkable man without being the better for it. Though unlettered according to the schools, he has compiled a book of Bible readings and has written a tract which has been printed in several languages.

Next Wednesday afternoon Miss Elizabeth P. Thurston will address the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Newton Y. M. C. A. Her subject will be "The Newton Library and its Value to Newton's Young People." The meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. parlors at 3 o'clock and all are cordially invited to attend.

DANCING PARTY

A pretty dancing party was held at the Hunnewell Club last Saturday evening about one hundred being present. The hostesses were Mrs. Donald Wise Perin and Miss Bernice A. Barrows. The matrons were Mrs. S. S. Barrows, Mrs. G. L. Perin and Mrs. C. E. Beane.

Guests were present from the various Newtons, Brookline, Wellesley, Cambridge and Boston.

SURPRISE PARTY

A very pleasant surprise was given to Mr. W. U. Fogwill of West Newton by many of his friends at the home of Mr. William Holland, Stratton terrace, Waltham, on Tuesday evening of this week. It was the first time Mr. Fogwill ever had such a surprise. He and his family were invited to Mr. Holland's to dinner and at 8 o'clock forty-five of his friends gathered at the home of Mr. Holland and presented Mr. Fogwill with a beautiful office chair and also presented Mrs. Eva Fogwill with a beautiful bouquet after which music and games were enjoyed and refreshments served.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Robert Garry Coming

The Association is fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Robert Garry, of Lockport, N. Y., for two weeks, November 24th-December 8th.

Mr. Garry is called "The man of one Book." He knows the Bible as few men know it. He has acquired his knowledge of it without the aid of collegiate training. He is a skilled mechanic; he worked in the Holly Manufacturing Company, at Lockport, until numerous and urgent calls for Christian service led him to relinquish the lathe and devote himself to helping other men to do with the Bible what he has done. So familiar has he become with the text that he refers to the Bible as we refer to a dictionary.

BELL'S SEASONING

Used and Endorsed By Hotels, Clubs, Restaurants and Families to Flavor Dressings for Turkey, Chicken, Game, Meats and Fish.

SPICED BEEF. Chop 2 pounds fresh beef, enough to fill 4 cups. Soak 2 slices bread, either toasted or plain, in 1½ cups of milk, and add to the raw beef. Cut fine 2 slices of fat salt pork, and add to beef, together with 3 even teaspoons salt, and 3 even teaspoons Bell's Seasoning. Place in a buttered pan. Cut a piece of butter the size of an egg in small pieces, and distribute over the top. Bake from 1 to 1½ hours.

DELICIOUS HOME MADE SAUSAGE. To each pound of fresh, lean pork add 1 level tablespoon of Bell's Poultry Seasoning and 1½ even teaspoons salt. Sprinkle over the meat, cut fine, thoroughly mix to a stiff dough, then make into cakes and fry.

One of Boston's noted hotel keepers has said, "I would as soon think of discharging my chef, as to do without Bell's Seasoning."

REMEMBER, 10c. can will flavor the dressing for 100 lbs. meat or poultry; the 25c. can, 300 lbs. Bell's Booklet of valuable Cooking Recipes of your Grocer or by mail. BELL CO., BOSTON, MASS.

WOMEN'S CLUB

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

"Take tarts as they are passing" is a homely adage, but it nevertheless contains a world of truth, for many a good thing or a good time is missed or lost if it is not snatched at the moment. One of the "tarts" of the present week which all might enjoy has been the wealth of color of the vines which adorn many of our churches. For depth as well as brilliancy of color nothing this fall has compared with the glory of these vines lighted by the bright sunshine. There certainly has been none of the "melancholy" of which the poet sang in this vision of beauty. May it remain with us to cheer us in the cold bleak days of the coming winter.

Public Health Conference

Tuesday, November 16, 2 P. M. The Public Health department of the State Federation will hold a sectional conference at Ware by the invitation of the Social Science Club of that place. Subjects to be discussed include, "Preventable Forms of Mental Diseases and How to Prevent Them," "Health Centres," "Tuberculosis—a Social Problem," and "Medical Inspection in the Schools."

Industrial and Social Conditions Conference

Friday, November 19, 2 P. M. The Industrial and Social Conditions department will hold a conference at Waltham in the Universalist church by invitation of the Waltham Woman's Club, when the need of a hospital for women inebriates will be presented. All club women are cordially invited to attend.

Local Announcements

Andrews Home are invited. Refreshments will be served and the evening promises to be one of rare pleasure to all.

Local Happenings

On Monday afternoon of this week the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. continued the study of Belgian Cities at the home of Mrs. A. F. Hayward, with Mrs. Hayward herself in charge. Bruges, Antwerp, Malines, and Namur were considered. Something of their Mediaeval history was touched upon, also the life, manufactures and industries as well as a little about the architecture. Dr. Wentworth spoke of the Beguine, a religious sisterhood. The one in Bruges which makes the beautiful laces was described by Dr. Wentworth, who also showed many photographs and samples of their work were also displayed.

Mrs. J. V. Beekman, Jr., entertained the Monday Club of Newton Highlands on Nov. 8. "Rabindranath Tagore" was the subject of consideration and Mrs. Susan M. Kerr gave a sketch of his life and reviewed "Chitra" and "Gitanjali." Mrs. N. H. Raye reviewed his poems of Babyhood. Mrs. Henry E. Williams read "The Post-Office" and Mrs. Charlton D. Miller some of his love songs.

The Home Economics department of the Newtonville Woman's Guild enjoyed a lecture upon "Period Furniture" by Mr. Horace C. Dunham at the meeting on Tuesday afternoon.

Thursday, November 11th. Professor George Herbert Palmer, professor emeritus of Harvard, spoke to the Newton Centre Woman's Club on "Robert Browning." Professor Palmer read his lecture by reading selections from several of Browning's poems.

The attention of all club members is called to the fact that the next meeting will be on Wednesday, not Thursday of next week, when Dr. Hamilton Wright Mable will speak on "East and West, Friends or Enemies?"

The travel class of the W. N. W. E. C. held a very successful meeting, with almost its entire membership present, Monday, Nov. 8, at the residence of Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, Abundant. A trip through the Southern States was most entertainingly related by Mrs. Southwick, and a very thorough explanation of "Transportation" by Mrs. C. E. Conant which she followed by a few brief remarks on "Travel" closed the program. The next meeting of the class will be on Monday, Nov. 22, at the residence of Mrs. Conant.

"Woman's Responsibility as a Shopper and Home Maker" was made very clear at the meeting of the Abundant Women's Club at the Newtonville Parish House on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 9. Reports of the morning session of the state federation meeting at Beverly were omitted for lack of time; but Mrs. Robert P. Gilman very aptly reported the afternoon session. Reports were also given of the Home Economics Conference at Milton by Mrs. E. J. Winslow and Miss Charlotte Dummer, these being very closely allied to the subjects of the day. "The Business of Spending money for Clothes" by Mrs. L. B. Miller and "How to make the best of what we have," by Mrs. Essie K. Chamberlain. Mrs. Miller urged women to keep accounts (i. e. prepare a budget) before shopping instead of afterward and to buy what was serviceable and durable, not merely what caught the eye. Mrs. Chamberlain told how to make a room beautiful by enumeration, redecoration and the right use of wall papers, hangings, pictures, etc. Pleasing illustrations were furnished with much interest. Questions were asked and speakers gave a good deal of illuminating discussion to follow the meeting.

A paper which every woman's club in the Newtonville area will give before the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning by Miss Elizabeth P. Austin, librarian of the Newton Public Library, on the work of our library.

Miss Austin began by telling something of the libraries of ancient times, saying that these were largely for the preservation of books rather than as centres for the dissemination of information, which is the province of modern libraries. She told of the work of the Massachusetts Library Commission and stated that today all of the cities and towns of the State have access to some free library, so that we may well feel proud of Massachusetts. Of the many phases of library work that of assisting foreigners to a knowledge of the United States and its traditions, laws, etc., she considered very important. "Squash End" or West parish gave the first impetus to a public library for Newton in the formation of its Social Library in 1798. In 1848 the Newton Book Club was organized and these were the forerunners of the Newton Library, which was opened in June, 1870, and in 1876 it was presented to the city. Miss Thurston told of some of the funds and the use to which they are devoted, of the management by a board of trustees and something of their policies. The Newton Library stands sixth in its circulation, only being exceeded by Boston, Springfield, Worcester, Cambridge and Somerville. It is proud in having the largest circulation per capita in the State. In addition to books there are from 4000 to 5000 photographs, a large collection of sheet music, stereoscopes and stereoscopic views, lantern slides and even a lantern which may be borrowed. In connection with the work for foreigners a lecture was given last spring in Nonantum for men by an Italian in the native language, instructing them in civic duties and answering many questions. The attention and the sort of questions asked by the men showed their interest and the good which may be accomplished in this way. To this end Mr. Pecorini will give another lecture at Stearns school probably on Nov. 28th.

Miss Thurston enlightened her talk with many humorous incidents in connection with the work she and her assistants are endeavoring to do for the benefit of the people of Newton. It is hampered by lack of appropriations and a sufficient number of assistants. In the course of the discussion many appreciative comments were made regarding the completeness and efficiency of the Newton Library.

Newton Federation

The regular fall meeting of the Newton Federation was held at the Technical High School on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. M. W. Murray of the Vocational School explained the work and showed the lantern slides illustrating it prepared for the exhibit at San Francisco. His talk was exceedingly enlightening and the pictures were full of interest. It was a great pity that from lack of sufficient advertising and from conflicting engagements a larger number could not have had the advantage of both.

State Federation

The delegates from the federated clubs of Massachusetts to the Fall meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs were up and on their way to Beverly bright and early last Friday morning, Nov. 5th. At least two carloads went down on the 8.35 train, an hour earlier than the one announced, and so many cars were required for the later one that it was necessary to send them as a special train. The consequent delay and the severe rain hindered the delegates in reaching the church, so that the morning session was considerably late in beginning, a fact always to be regretted however unavoidable it may be.

In a few brief words Mrs. Whitman G. Stickney, president of the Lothrop Club, the hostess of the occasion, welcomed the delegates to Beverly and Mrs. Perkins in her response struck a high note when she said that an organization proves its value by its service to the age in which it lives, and by providing for the greatest good of the greatest number. She urged the realization of each member's responsibility for the Federation, for it is measured by the temper and spirit of the individual members. Let harmony, unity and efficiency be its watchword.

On account of illness Mr. Thomas Mott Osborne, who was to have been the speaker, was unable to be present, but his place was ably filled by Hon. Francis Neilson, a member of the British Parliament. He humorously alluded to his coming to America for rest and quiet, but ever since his arrival he has been travelling from city to city making one, two and three addresses a day. This, he said, was the first time he had had the honor of addressing an audience of American women, although he had formerly lived for a number of years in this country and had taken back to England with him a Boston wife and two New York children. Under the title of "Some Sign Posts of Democracy" Mr. Neilson told of the part which women are taking in England in the great movements for freedom. Strife is everywhere apparent. The people of Britain are trying to rise, economically towards justice, socially to break down the barriers of class, religiously against denominationalism, industrially against false economic bases. Women's relation to party politics in England differs from that in this country. There they have political organizations all their own and work independently from the men's. The fact of these organizations signifies a profound discontent with things as they are. Woman has become curious in England, hence her part in party politics. Politically woman is a chafed slave, economically she has no rights. Socially she is beginning to break the barriers down, as is instanced by the formation of these Liberal Clubs whose delegates go down to the Federation meetings in London for a week, where it is difficult to tell the difference between the lace maker earning 24 shillings a week and the duchess. The men there don't show a great desire to deal with things intelligently as women do. They have brought about a revolution in the divorce laws, they have secured medical inspectors, and succeeded in putting the maternity clause into the Insurance Act, and they are revolting against the taxing system. Women are quicker to see where and how a thing has failed and they are more ready to make experiments, they are diving down to the fundamentals. They will be a tremendous force when the War is over.

Many of his descriptions of conditions in rural England were harrowing in the extreme, the pitiful wages, the two-shift houses and other things almost unbelievable, to better which the men seem to be too stolid or uncomprehending to lift a finger. His address threw a flood of light upon English conditions which explain things that America has been unable to understand.

Mr. Edward T. Hartman then spoke of the Prison Situation in Massachusetts, referring to some of the conditions which had been described by Mr. Neilson as the causes for our prison problems. After telling of present arrangements and pointing out wherein they have failed, he urged classification of criminals and an improvement of the parole system and the indeterminate sentence. At present we release them without reference to cure. We should put them back on their feet and not turn them out only to be sent back again after a brief space. The trouble is we run from the truth, we stick to the old ideas, we are constantly looking backward and never looking forward.

"Everything in Linens"

37-39 Temple Pl., 25 West St., Boston

The afternoon session was called to order by the first vice-president, Mrs. Claude U. Gilson. Miss Elizabeth Latham rendered charmingly a group of songs and then followed a report of the Council Meeting of the General Federation held at Portland, Oregon, last June, by Mrs. Perkins, the Federation's delegate. There were about 1000 in attendance, Massachusetts standing fifth with seven representatives. Miss Ann Rhoades, a member of the New York Local Biennial Board, extended cordial invitation for the Massachusetts women to come to New York for the Biennial next May. The new Seventh Regiment Armory has been secured as the place for holding the convention.

Three new clubs, the Marblehead Woman's, the Woman's Club of Holden and the Unity Club of Wilmington were presented and the president of each told briefly of the objects and aims.

Interest in the afternoon session, centered in the business. Mrs. W. H. Alline, chairman of the Credential committee, reported that 211 clubs were represented, also there were 30 State delegates, with a total registration of 509 delegates entitled to take part in discussion and to vote. Cushing's New Manual was adopted for the parliamentary authority for the meeting and the presence of an expert parliamentarian, Miss Rhoades of New York, insured the proceedings being carried on in a fair and orderly manner. The question of adopting the amendment to the by-laws, the addition of "To this end a neutral position shall be strictly maintained on all partisan, sectarian and controversial subjects" to the objects of the Federation as already set forth in the by-laws, was discussed to the extent of two or more hours. The speeches on both sides showed intense feeling, but for the most part the session was orderly and dignified. Upon being put to vote the amendment was lost, the proponents being unable to secure the required two-thirds vote. The vote as it stood was 251 in favor and 229 opposed. The second amendment, that of making Shattuck's Advanced Rules the parliamentary authority of the Federation, was owing to the lateness of the hour and some difference of opinion as to the best authority to adopt, referred to a committee of five, the president being the chairman and to appoint the other members, to report as the first business of the annual meeting next spring. After a vote of thanks to the hostess the meeting adjourned about five o'clock and the delegates returned to Boston by special train.

IN DREAMLAND

The annual entertainment under the auspices of the Boys' Club of St. Paul's Church, which was given on Friday and Saturday evenings in Lincoln Hall, Newton Highlands, was a glorious success. Large audiences filled the hall on both evenings, and the cast appeared as "one luminous galaxy of stars," ably demonstrating the fact that there is plenty of musical and dramatic talent among the members of the Club.

"In Dreamland," a musical play was presented by a cast of forty singers and actors. The first scene was on board the Nantasket boat "Priscilla," which was very realistic; appearing on the deck were the ship's officers, mates and purser, who were well represented by Earl Rotter, Arthur Torrey, Oscar Jacob, Lamont Griswold, Joe Dawson, Holden Whitaker and Edwin Cooper.

John Seaver was very good in the role of Ship's Paper Boy, and Calvin Smith as "Jack," a sailor, sang "Three for Jack," in an exceedingly pleasing manner.

Clifford Rust as Ralph, another sailor, in Spanish costume and wielding a glistening steel knife, made a decided hit in the song, "The Spaniard that Bliethed My Life."

Lovejoy Collins was extremely matronly in the role of "Mrs. William Jones," one of the passengers on the steamboat, and Sibley Littig, in his impersonation of her son, "Bill Jones," the bad boy, created great merriment, especially when he danced up and down shouting, "I want to go back to the beach, I want to go back to the beach."

"Bill" was a pretty little fellow with flaxen curls, dressed in blue, a typical child of the seashore, but "Bill" scored his greatest triumph when he sang the sentimental ballad, "When I Was a Dreamer and You Were My Dream," to "Celestia," the goddess, who was impersonated in a most charming manner by William Wellman. Mr. Littig's voice and manner were well adapted to the sentimental role, and both young men were rapturously applauded and were obliged to respond repeatedly to encore.

Kenneth Dow took the part of a little maiden, "Dorothy Sweet," and sang, in a very sweet voice, "Swing-lings in the Leaves." The audience was highly pleased with the song, "If We Can't Be the Same Old Sweethearts," which was well rendered by Earl Hovey, as "Tommy Mean," and Robert Williams, as "Marjery Daw."

Francis Skelton, in the role of "Lucille Cavanaugh," attractively attired in a black and white striped costume, shone among the bright stars in the performance and sang, with wonderful effect, the tuneful southern melody, "Circus Day in Dixie." It was a fascinating song, and Mr. Skelton's singing was of such fine quality, that he was enthusiastically encored.

An amusing feature was introduced when "Jocko," the monkey, whose part was taken to perfection by Chester Call, appeared on the stage, and proceeded to cut up all sorts of capers and "monkey shins."

Kenneth Burdick, as "Rose," the captain's daughter, sang a pretty song entitled, "My Venetian Rose," and Arthur Dow, as "Tulip" Blake, another of the captain's daughters, was admirable in the plaintive melody, "It's Tulip Time in Holland."

Donald Sweeney as "Jim," was an interesting figure in a song and dance, titled in a song with green gauze over dress and corsage of red roses, and Malcolm Duffield, as "Thelma," a Norwegian girl, in native costume, with red dress, white cap and apron, scored a success in the song, "Norway."

John Lowell had one of the leading roles and he certainly "made good" and furnished his full share of the entertainment. As Samuel George Washington, a colored gentleman, he was a "winner"; he looked the part, and his negro dialect was fine, and his song, "Down in Old Bombay," made a great impression and he was greeted with such enthusiasm that Lincoln Hall fairly rang with applause, and in his song and dance with Payson Jones, who appeared as Amanda Washington, his wife, he was vociferously encored.

They were assisted by their five little pickaninnies, including Payson Lowell, John Sweeney, Wallace Nichols, Albert Rotter and Donald Nevins, who did some very fine chorus singing and also accompanied Payson Lowell in the song "Sweet Kentucky Lady" and John Sweeney in "My Little Dream Girl," which were both nicely rendered.

William Wellman, in the prima donna role of "Celestia the Goddess," proved himself a wonderfully talented entertainer, as well as an exceptionally fine singer and dancer, and the audience was aroused by his beautiful rendition, in a marvelously high soprano voice, of "Little Grey Home in the West."

Calvin Smith was at his best as "Anitra," Queen of Dreamland, and the Pleasant Dreams, were foremost among the many attractions in the show; they were represented by Howard Whitmore, who also appeared with great success in a song and dance, "In the Valley of the Moon"; Ralph Thompson, Arthur Jacob, Winchester Torrey and Paul Norton.

Chester Barker, appearing before the footlights in a dressing gown and slippers, was intensely amusing in his droll singing of "Beautiful, Beautiful, Bed."

A distinct novelty was introduced in the impersonations of the famous Movie Stars, who marched up the centre aisle of the hall to the stage. James Hall as "Mary Pickford," was very funny in the song "If You Can't Get a Girl in the Summertime," and Sherwood Smith as "Pearl White," was cut out for the part and sang, "She Lives Down in Our Alley," in a most amusing manner. Harold Collins was most excellent in the role of Captain of the Priscilla and his song "Good Bye Girls I'm Through," was very captivating to the audience.

Jamie Guiler scored as "Charlie Chaplin," and got away with several comical stunts, with the aid of a banana peel, and his singing of "Those Charlie Chaplin Feet," won much approval.

The costumes were among the interesting features of the show, many of them very elegant and the boys looked so well and appeared so much at ease in their feminine out-fits, that they "put it all over" on their girl friends, when it came to wearing fine clothes gracefully and neatly.

The excellent program closed with the Finale Ensemble and a specialty, which consisted of a "Military Dance," beautifully executed by Miss Gladys Keesler of Newtonville and Mr. William Wellman of Newton Highlands, to the accompaniment of appropriate music finely rendered by Mr. Hubert G. Ripley, Jr., pianist, of Newtonville. Miss Keesler is a very pretty and graceful dancer and with her clever partner, won frequent and merited applause.

Music for the entertainment and dancing which followed, was furnished by Spaulding's Orchestra, assisted by Mr. John V. Spaulding, violinist, and Mr. Justin Russel, pianist.

It was considered the best entertainment ever given by the Boys' Club, and reflected much credit on Mrs. Arthur Wellman, who directed the rehearsals and coached the players, and on Mr. Francis Skelton, the stage manager, who had charge of all the details of stage settings, lighting, etc., and who painted the attractive scenery, and his untiring efforts contributed in no small measure to the general excellence, and success of the production, and the results were very gratifying to those in charge who had worked so hard to make it a success.

LAYMEN'S CONVENTION

More than 3000 laymen, representing some 250 churches of all denominations in eastern Massachusetts, will convene in Tremont Temple, Boston, next Sunday for the four days session of the second great Boston Laymen's Missionary Convention. The convention has been likened to the Plattsburg Camp, for its similar purposes in connection with the churches. The program of the four days is as follows:

Sunday, Nov. 14. Sermons at morning services on "Men Wanted." At 2.45, in Tremont Temple, addresses "The Challenge of the Hour to American Men," by Dr. E. M. Poteat and J. Campbell White. At 4 P. M., in Trinity Church, addresses by Bishop Lawrence, Bishop A. S. Lloyd and J. Campbell White.

Monday, at 10.30, meeting for ministers, but open to others, in Park Street church. "What a Mission Board Secretary would do if he were Pastor Again," Dr. Charles E. Burton. "The Minister's Missionary Opportunity," Bishop Arthur S. Lloyd. "The Problem of Lay Leadership and the Minister's Relation to It," J. Campbell White. At 3 P. M., addresses by Dr. Henry A. Atkinson, Dr. Frederick E. Emrich and Mr. George W. Tupper. At 8 P. M., "The Two Americas," Bishop L. L. Kinsolving. "What Must America Do Under New World Conditions," Col. E. W. Halford.

Tuesday, at 10.30, "The Missionary Progress of Recent Years" by Dr. John M. Moore; "The American Doctor in Japan," Dr. Rudolph B. Teusler, Tokio; "Is the Church Holding her own in America?" Dr. Charles E. Burton; "Personal Victory Basis of World Victory," Charles G. Trumbull. At 3 P. M., addresses on making church more aggressive and productive, J. Campbell White, J. M. Moore and Dr. J. L. Fort. At 8 P. M., "Recent War Experiences in Turkey," Rev. James P. McNaughton. Address by Bishop Page.

Wednesday, at 10 A. M., "Adequacy of Gospel to Meet Modern Social Conditions," Dr. J. L. Barton; "Where shall We Find and Develop Our Leaders?" Dr. J. W. Cochran, "Can America Keep Christ?" Dr. Herbert S. Johnson. At 3 P. M., "Christ or Mohammed in Africa?" by Dr. J. E. Crowther. "Our Possibilities in Christ" by J. Campbell White.

THE CLAPIN CLUB

"You will miss it, if you miss it, the stride that takes us on," so do not fail to take advantage of the opportunity to hear Mr. John B. Hebbard, formerly teacher in the Newton High School and now Deputy Commissioner of Prisons in Massachusetts, who will address the Clapin Club next week on Wednesday evening at the Newtonville Methodist Church. By means of a large number of slides, and his engaging personality and speech, Mr. Hebbard will place you in intimate touch with "How Massachusetts Treats Her Prisoners," and will give you his ideas of present conditions, what they should be, the parole system, the attitude of the public and of the church toward the prisoner, etc., and as he comes in close contact with the prisoner almost every day, no man is better qualified to talk on this subject.

Dinner will be served at 6.30 under the direction of the newly appointed Refreshment Committee selected especially for its efficiency of which Mr. A. W. Ruff is chairman. Members are privileged to invite some friends to dinner at a small cost and those desiring seats should notify the chairman of the Committee or Mr. Albert G. Seavey, secretary of the Club, not later than Monday otherwise they cannot expect to be served.

WILBUR THEATRE—"Experience" is going to move again. This time it transfers Youth, Passion, Slander, Intoxication and all the other celebrated characters in this remarkable play to the stage of the Wilbur Theatre, where by presenting the unequalled record of a play which had to move to three different theatres in one season in order to accommodate the crowds. "Experience" has been breaking all records for attendance since it came to Boston in August. Crowded out of one theatre after eight weeks of phenomenal business, it moved to the Boston Opera House for three farewell weeks, and drew such crowds that the management decided to extend the engagement in Boston. By an arrangement with A. L. Wilbur, the beautiful Wilbur Theatre was secured for an extension of the engagement, and therefore next Monday night, November 15th, "Experience" in all its magnificent trappings and with its splendid cast will move to the Wilbur Theatre for a brief engagement.

WOMEN'S CLUB,

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

The President's Letter in the General Federation Magazine for November is devoted chiefly to the presentation of a nation-wide campaign to be known as "Baby Week," March 4 to 11, 1916. A few quotations from Mrs. Pennybacker's letter follow:

This decade has brought a profound interest in the question of how to save the lives of the thousands of babies who die yearly, and whose deaths we know may be prevented.

The words "infant mortality" are no longer a vague technical phrase. We know that they mean the relation between the number of babies under one year of age who die each year to the number of babies born alive during that year. We know that a rate for a whole country as low as 51 per 1,000 (that of New Zealand) is a possibility; and that rates of our cities varying from 70 per 1,000 to 250 per 1,000 and above represent conditions that must be changed. A high infant mortality rate means to us now the thought of waste and pain and sorrow; that we can and must prevent.

During the past year and a half, baby weeks have been held in cities and towns throughout the United States. Chicago held the first baby week, April 19 to 25, 1914; New York City, the second, May 20 to 26, 1914. This year other cities have followed—Pittsburgh, Grand Rapids, Detroit, Staten Island, Yonkers, Long Beach, Cal., and many more.

The unqualified success of these campaigns has established beyond argument the value of baby week as a factor in the baby-saving movement.

There have been several main purposes for all these baby weeks:

1. The teaching to the mothers and fathers of the different elements in regard to the care of babies. Chief among these is the fact that breast milk is the greatest safeguard against sickness.

2. The bringing home to the community a knowledge of the facts regarding the needless deaths of its babies, and a realization of the ways in which it must protect them.

Everywhere the baby weeks, by their success as community campaigns, have shown that all the different elements in a community recognize the force and expediency of these purposes.

The baby-saving campaign, so named, may vary between a simple community program of publicity, with meetings and days devoted to the consideration of the subject of the baby, and an elaborate campaign, including, besides these, other special features, such as an exhibit, a health conference, outings, etc. The first type of baby week may be carried on at very little or no expense. The latter type of baby week can only be carried out successfully in communities where there is a general realization among many workers and the representatives of various interests of the need of a campaign which will involve considerable labor and expense.

Presidents' Conference

The Conference of the Presidents of the federated clubs drew an unusually large number of club women to Hyde Park on Wednesday, October 20. The welcome was extended by Mrs. Robt. A. Falconer, president of the Current Events Club, one of the hostesses of the occasion, the other one being the Thought Club. Mrs. George W. Perkins, president of the Federation, in her opening address, urged the clubs to be sure to know the problem first and then to set to work to solve them. She announced the subject of discussion for the afternoon as "The Spirit of Co-operation." During the first hour the various members of the Executive Board spoke briefly on some phase of co-operation and the fact that twenty-one were able to bring some valuable message within the allotted time is an indication of the ability and development of the club women within the last few years.

Miss Carolyn V. Tucker, secretary, emphasized promptness in the answering of letters, the sending of delegates to Federation meetings and conferences, attention to Federation notices and the ability to get the point of view of the other person. Mrs. J. Harry Poole urged the way of co-operating rather than the need of it. Mrs. Maud Wood Park told an apt story of the Korean women whom she had met on her visit to that country who do not bring but merely sit. This she thought was often too much the attitude of many of our clubs. If our clubs are to have life they must first discuss and then work. Miss Sophie Friedman urged that each club strive for the enforcement of the law providing for the appointment of police women.

Mrs. Charles H. Blaine spoke of the need of the strengthening of the club through the individual members and touched upon the need for study of parliamentary law. Mrs. Irving O. Palmer likened the Federation not to the conglomerate mass of pudding stone, but to the block of polished marble, both useful and beautiful. Mrs. J. E. Plimpton reminded the audience of the discouragement of the leader or president whose enthusiasm fails to find response, when there is no co-operation. Miss Carolyn V. Tucker, president of the War Science Society Club—a club twenty-five years old before it joined the Federation—spoke of the disadvantage of being at a distance from the centre of Federation activities, but referred to the tremendous impulse for good they had experienced since they had become members of the Federation. Mrs. F. H. Esters of Gardner confessed that her club members liked "to sit" and expressed the thought that the co-operation comes first in the individual club. Mrs. J. W. Cooper of Plymouth likened the Federation to the hub, while the clubs are the spokes all bound together by the rim of service. Mrs. F. G. Bauer, the editor of the Bulletin of the Federation, asked for contributions and for subscriptions. Mrs. G. M. Baker said that we are more and more realizing the full truth of the saying, "In union there is strength."

Mrs. Leonard K. Wellington, the treasurer, naturally spoke of financial matters, the prompt payment of dues and made the suggestion that the individual clubs remember when inviting Federation representatives to pay their travelling expenses, since the Federation treasury has no money for this purpose. Mrs. Donald M. Blair, the new General Federation Secretary, stated that only about 100 clubs hold direct membership in the General Federation and suggested the advisability of more clubs joining this year since the next Biennial is to be in New York. Mrs. Arthur W. Lacey, the new Corresponding Secretary, spoke of the necessity for unselfishness, broadmindedness and unceasing devotion upon the part of both clubs and Federation. Mrs. Fred Richards Lufkin, the Assistant Clerk, suggested that each club appoint some one to collect subscriptions to the Bulletin. Mrs. Frank R. Hawley, the Clerk, said that she learned the lesson of punctuality in her work for the Federation and pointed out how much simpler would be all Federation work should all the presidents learn it also. Mrs. Arthur A. Hibbard, former corresponding secretary and now a vice-president, emphasized the rules regarding tickets and referred the presidents to the Manual for much information to be had there. Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, also a vice-president, mentioned the two elements necessary for true co-operation, knowledge of the aims and the ability to see things from the point of view of the other party. She also urged the desirability of varying the delegates to Federation meetings that knowledge of its aims may be spread among a larger number. Mrs. Royal Whiton, second vice-president, urged attendance upon the conferences. Mrs. Claude U. Gilson, first vice-president, touched upon the tendency of each one to expect the other fellow is going to be the elevator idea. Each one has to put in something. In referring to one of the speakers who had mentioned the feeling of isolation of the club at a distance she did not consider this wholly a disadvantage, for this very distance had made them learn to depend upon themselves. She closed with the story of a woman who had been in the habit of dividing herself between two churches and told how the minister of one of them had confided to her that the difficulty was that when she was pleased she said "our," but when she was displeased it was "your."

At the request of the Hyde Park women Dr. Hall was allowed a short time in which to tell of the dangers from rabies if dogs are not muzzled. Mrs. Anna Harris Smith of the Animal Rescue League had been asked to speak on the other side of the question, but being unable to be present, sent a letter, which was read stating the League's position in the matter, it being emphatically opposed toward such a measure on the ground that it is base cruelty.

The remaining time was given up to a description of what several clubs have done in the way of forming classes for immigrants, notably those in Wakefield during the past summer. After a vote of thanks to the two hostesses, the company adjourned to the room below for a social hour.

THE AFTER MATH

The after-election press, almost without an exception, is united in the same message that New Jersey gave to the country after her election, "Delayed, but not Defeated." Under the heading, "Sufrage Loses a Battle, but Will Win Its War," the New York American says:

"It is needless to urge the devoted women whose gallant fight for suffrage in this and neighboring States ended yesterday in defeat, to take heart, close up their ranks and move on to the ultimate victory that is certain. No moral issue ever stirred so deeply the voters of New York as the appeal for equal suffrage—and what is true of New York is true of the rest of the country. The struggle for equal rights for women is not a passing fancy, it is a permanent principle. The suffrage revolution has begun, and will not turn backward."

The New York Sun declares that the heavy majorities are by no means conclusive as to the coming future, and continues: "The total of the male vote polled for equal rights for the other sex is impressive enough to remove this perennial campaign from the category of crank ideas and fantastic ideas and to place it definitely among those political movements which fail under temporary conditions by percentages that signify postponement rather than burial."

The Springfield Republican lays the defeat to Eastern conservatism, but sees in it only a temporary delay in the progress of democracy:

"It is the deadly persistence of this cause that insures it against any kind of discouragement. Defeats for fifty years have failed to suppress it and the latest defeat, or series of defeats, in several Eastern States, can have no effect whatever in killing the movement. The women who furnish the main motive power of agitation are everywhere filled with a conviction, akin to religious fervor, that they must achieve for their sex a higher status in the great commonwealth of democracy. Nothing can prevent their success in the end, unless democracy is doomed to failure. If women can never be given a fair share in government, then government by the people must be regarded as founded on a fallacy, and the sooner that partial government by the people which we now have is discarded the less will be the loss to society in efficiency of administration in future generations."

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE—
"Coat Tails" by Edward Clark is the bill the first three days of the current week. On Thursday John Craig will present "The Case of Becky" by Edward Locke, a play of unusual interest that tells the story of a girl with a dual personality who was cured of her second self by means of hypnosis. The story of the girl Dorothy—Becky is founded in fact. Her prototype was a patient of Dr. Morton Prince, a well known Boston psychologist. He wrote her case in his astonishing book, "The Dissociation of a Personality." The playwright heard of the cure the doctor effected and he visited him in Boston for further details. When he finished his play he took it to David Belasco who produced it in New York, starring Frances Starr. Miss Mary Young will play the girl with two selves. William P. Carleton, Theodore Priebeus, Betty Barnicot, A. Roberts, Donald Mack, George Ernst, Frederick Ormonde, Justine Adams and Vida Croly Sidney will also be seen in the cast.

The curtain of the platform was then raised exposing a fully equipped voting outfit such as used on election days with uniformed policemen and election officers. Those present then cast ballots on which they designated a sum they would give for church repairs. Several hundred dollars were promised and the repairs will be made at once. The parishioners have been quite active this year their accomplishments including the final payment of the mortgage on the church, the purchase of a rectory and now the repair of the church building, all within a few months.

GENERAL COLE ON PREPAREDNESS

The Men's Club of the Parish of the Good Shepherd met at the home of Mr. Arnold C. Burnett on Waban avenue at Waban, Wednesday evening with a good attendance and with the Boys' Club as guests. President Cardell presided and after a brief attention to business matters including the proposal of a number of names for membership, the speaker of the evening Adjutant General Charles H. Cole was introduced.

General Cole declared that the United States has not enough men, guns, ammunition or military supplies to repel an invasion and spoke of the lack of defences on the North Atlantic coast a section in which many of the munition making plants are located.

There is not even a military map of this section available in this country although the General thinks some of the European nations may be in possession of such a map.

Referring to the defences of Boston Harbor the speakers stated that a number of the powers now had ships that could lay off in the bay and shell the city of Boston while the guns of the harbor defences have not sufficient range to do any damage to the ships during the bombardment. Among his criticisms of the state's policy with the militia were—the lack of compensation for officers and men, that officers being sufficient only to pay their expenses and that of the men going to the company treasury—the use of the militia for police duty in strikes, thus antagonizing the labor unions who now oppose enlistment in the militia. The lack of provision for horses, the militia requiring 2000 for mobilization and the election of officers by popular vote of the members.

The General also spoke of the lack of trained officers in the country, the state not being able to get a sufficient number for the instruction of the state troops.

The General believes the public sentiment against a large standing army, and that the hope for the future lies in a highly developed militia under federal control.

DEATH OF MR. SEEVER

Mr. Henry Horace Seever, for many years a resident of this city, died last Saturday at his home on Tremont street, after an illness of several years. He was born in Boston and was 69 years of age. His father died when he was two years of age and his mother made her home in Newton at that time. He was a member of the H. H. Mahinney Co., manufacturers of shoes of Boston.

Mr. Seever was a member of the Newton Club, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, and of the Algonquin Club of Boston. Many years ago he was a member of the old time Temple Club. He retired from active business about 15 years ago.

Mr. Seever married Miss E. Juvenile Robbins in 1908 and is survived by her.

Funeral services were held from his late home on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Harry Lutz of Channing Church officiating, and there were many beautiful floral tributes. The interment was at Mt. Auburn.

—Mrs. Harrie E. Duncan of Foster street has returned from a trip to the Pacific Coast, where she visited the Panama Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco.

—Mr. Eustace Lane, formerly of Brooks avenue has been appointed assistant editor of The Popular Science Monthly and World's Advance, which is published in New York city.

—Mr. Raymond Van Tassel of Harvard street is recovering from painful injuries which he sustained recently when he was struck by an automobile while riding his motor cycle on the Boulevard.

—"How Massachusetts Treats Her Prisoners," will be the subject of Mr. John B. Hobberd's address to the members of the Clafin Club at their meeting next Wednesday evening at the Methodist Church. Come and hear it.

—On Wednesday evening a delegation from the Daughters of Veterans, sons and comrades visited the Scenic Temple on Berkeley street, Boston to see the pictures of the Grand Army parade and the Battle of Gettysburg.

—Florence Close-Gale will give a dramatic recital, "The House of Rimmon," on Saturday evening, November 20th in Jordan Hall, for the benefit of the Boston University School of Medicine. She will be assisted by Miss Frances Payne, pianist and Miss Gladys Belle Frederick, harpist.

—Miss Elizabeth Van Tassel entertained the members of the Phi Gamma Girls Club, N. H. S., at an informal dancing party on Friday evening of last week. There were ten couples present and the order included many of the latest dances. The matrons were Mrs. William F. Keesler and Mrs. Edward D. Van Tassel.

—Rev. Richard T. Loring, rector of St. John's Church, will conduct a Bible Class Sunday evenings at five o'clock beginning next Sunday. It is intended for young and old, and all will be welcome. It is felt that many would like to know more about the teachings of the Bible and about the history of the making of the Bible and along these lines the Sunday afternoon class will have something to contribute.

—The open mixed foursome match at the Albemarle Golf Club on Tuesday attracted a large entry list, about 50 players taking part. The winners were Miss Marjorie Young and Francis Oulmet, having the best net and being tied with Miss A. A. Nilsson and Irving W. Small for the best gross score.

—The members of the Mt. Ida Council, 1247, Royal Arcanum, held an entertainment and smoke talk on Monday evening in Dennison hall, which was attended by Past Grand Regent John J. Hogan. Among the interesting features was an exhibition of wrestling by Messrs. Bliss and Adams. At the close of the entertainment refreshments were served.

CITY PRIMARY NOMINATIONS

Mayor Childs, Unopposed on Democratic Ticket, will Contest Republican Nomination with Blakemore and Rice

The time for filing nomination papers for the city primary to be held on November 23 closed at 5 P. M. Saturday afternoon, with a complete list filed by Republicans, the Democrats contending themselves with papers for mayor, and several ward aldermen.

Mayor Childs is the sole candidate for mayor on the Democratic ticket and is also a candidate for the Republican nomination with Aldermen Abbott B. Rice and ex-alderman Arthur W. Blakemore.

There are no contests on the Republican ticket at large and only one for ward alderman, where Harold W. Knowlton is contesting with Alderman Arthur W. Hollis in ward 4. Mr. Hollis is unopposed for the Democratic nomination in this ward.

The Republicans join with the Democrats in nominating Alderman John W. Murphy in ward 1, Mr. Justin A. McCarthy in ward 3, and George M. Angier in ward 5.

At a meeting of representatives of both the Republican and Democratic city committees, Monday evening, City Clerk Grant drew lots for first position on the primary ballot, the Democratic party receiving that honor.

The full list of nominations of both parties follows.

READ FUND LECTURE

Monday evening at the Bigelow School the third of the lectures in the Read Fund series will be given by Edward H. Thompson, ex-U. S. Consul on "Adventures in the Jungles of Yucatan." The lecture will deal with Yucatan, the "Uninhabited Land" of the cannibal Caribs. Wonderful as subterranean lakes, huge fields of the Sisal plant that today binds the wheat of the world. The former inhabitants of the Peninsula, the builders of the now buried cities and their descendants, the Maya Indians of to-day. Daily life and customs. Merida, the oldest living city of the Americas. Manners and curious customs prevailing in this old Spanish city. Chichen Itza, the City of the Sacred Well, the once great capital of this ancient civilized race of America. Tales of personal adventures amid these strange people, with jaguars, serpents, and other jungle creatures, some ferocious, others beautiful, but all interesting. Story of the discovery of the long sought Kiegmook, the Hidden City.

in each building showing the location of the nearest fire alarm box, that telephone service in each school building be made immediately available for giving fire alarm calls, and that the school committee be requested to remove the class for backward and deficient children from the third floor of the Clafin school. An order for $200 for plans, etc. for a fire proof stair well at this building was referred to the Finance committee.

A report was received from the City Clerk and committee on elections and an order adopted declaring the result of the recent state election in this city. Chief Randlett in response to the order of the board sent in a report of progress on the matter of fire hazard and inspection of schools buildings of which the following is the most interesting.

"We found no accumulation of rubbish in basements, as a whole they were clean and in excellent condition. The fire hazard so far as danger to pupils is concerned, lies in the wood construction in basements, especially around stairways leading to the first floor, and in lumber stored for slow and manual training work, and any rubbish that may be left or overlooked by janitors.

The school board has provided fire extinguishers, one on each floor and one in the basements. In my opinion the best protection would be the installing of sprinkler systems in all basements and placing special fire boxes in all buildings. I understand that a life has never been lost in a building equipped with sprinklers.

"As to the method of inspection of basements we have for many years been inspecting basements of apartment houses, stores and schools and I think with good results as we have had no bad basement fires. But this work has not been done regularly and no record of inspections have been kept. During this year we have established a regular inspection of stores and apartment houses basements at Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale, Newton Highlands and Nonantum. The men in these districts making frequent inspections and a record of dates of inspection and the conditions found are recorded on cards for that purpose or on the House record book. Up to this time no record of house inspections has been kept, although many inspections have been made, mostly by myself. I have now placed the inspection of school buildings with the men doing inspection work with instructions to cover all school buildings in their district at least once a month, a record of the same to be kept on cards.

The nomination of Mr. James Kingman as a member of the Planning Commission was taken from the table and unanimously confirmed. The board adjourned at 8.15 o'clock.

D. A. R. MEETING

The November meeting of Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R. of Newton was held at the Newton Club house on the afternoon of November 8th, the regent, Mrs. F. J. Fessenden, presiding. There was a large attendance.

The report of the last meeting was read by the recording secretary Mrs. Linda S. Thayer. Mrs. Francis Newhall reported on the conference held at Greenfield on Oct. 15th and 16th and Mrs. Gardner Jones, chairman of the finance committee, reported the proceeds of the whist held on Oct. 18th to be $123.35. Mrs. Meserve moved that $50 of this money be sent to the Martha Berry School. A committee was appointed to look into the work being done among the foreigners in the city of Newton. A liberal offering was made by the contribution of silver quarters toward the liquidation of the debt upon Memorial Continental Hall.

Miss Sladen, accompanied by Mrs. Owen, gave much pleasure by singing a group of songs.

Mrs. Fessenden then introduced the speaker, Mr. C. Park Pressey of Boston, who gave an extremely interesting talk on Historic Homes of New England.

After singing America the social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostesses Mrs. J. P. Holmes, Mrs. Arthur G. Hosmer, Mrs. George Hutchinson and Mrs. Joseph L. Jellison.

THE CIVIC CLUB OF NEWTON

Candidates for Mayor Present at Smoke Talk on Tuesday Evening

The Civic Club of Newton, an organization of gentlemen who have served the city government in some elective office, held an interesting meeting Tuesday evening at the Newton Club, with President D. Fletcher Barber in the chair and the three candidates for mayor as the guests and speakers. There were about 50 members present.

Ex-alderman Arthur W. Blakemore was the first speaker and said that if elected mayor he would decide each question on its merits. He believed that there were three important considerations to be faced. The personal property of the city at the last valuation decreased a half million and the situation was only saved by an increase of two millions in real estate. The first budget of Mayor Childs was the same as was recommended by the preceding city government. The budget of the present year as submitted would have given us a tax rate of $19. As mayor Mr. Blakemore would not shift this responsibility upon the shoulders of the aldermen as he believed it to be the duty of the mayor to see to it that the tax rate was reasonable. The new laws on taxation will revolutionize the present system and the city may have to face a serious financial situation. Mr. Blakemore said that he had studied taxation and had written a book on the subject which had been frequently quoted in taxation questions. He believed that he would be able to safeguard the city in this respect. City Planning must be considered in the near future. Newton for some years prior to 1905 had accomplished a great deal on these lines in building Commonwealth avenue, Washington street widening and depressing the tracks. We have now had a rest for about ten years and it is our duty now to provide something for the future. It is cheaper to do things now with a city of 40,000 than it will be when we have 75,000.

Mr. Blakemore said that as an alderman he had proposed a solution of the school appropriation problem, which had been quite serious, by advocating a resolution that the increase in school appropriations should be based on the increase in enrolment, at a cost per capita no greater than at present. This agreement had been accepted and had removed a patent cause of friction. In the matter of sewer assessment he had found that the rate fixed in 1893 had not yielded the 50 per cent intended, due largely to the increased cost of labor and materials and he had obtained legislation and a change in the ordinance which increased the revenue over $5000 a year. In the matter of pony express licenses he had been told he would make a mistake in favoring licenses to reputable expressmen. Both sides had agreed that it would be better to have the liquor handled by the regular expressmen than by the Boston liquor dealers, one party claiming that the Boston liquor dealers could be kept out of the city. The result, however, showed that such was not the case. In the Neagle case, regardless of the theft of milk, it had been proved that this officer was so deaf he could hardly hear, and had heart disease so that he could not run. Mr. Blakemore believed that the women and property of the city demanded a more competent officer. In conclusion Mr. Blakemore said that if elected he would be fair to all sections, and persons, would not consider the aldermen personal enemies if they differed with him and that he would at all times endeavor to co-operate with the board in the work for the city.

Alderman Abbott B. Rice said that Newton needed a business like administration of its affairs and that politics should play no part in the city. While professional men could use the office of mayor as a step to larger things.

PLAYS TIE GAME

Newton and Waltham Are Unable to Score at Annual Football Match

Newton High played the strong Waltham High school football team to a tie score of 0 to 0 last Saturday afternoon at Waltham, neither team crossing the goal line. The game was played at Waltham before a crowd of about 7000 people.

Tomlin, the Waltham center, regarded as the best man on the team outside of Capt. Richardson, was smothered by Capt. Dorney, the Newton pivot, and cost his team many yards in penalties for illegal use of his hands. These penalties, together with one inflicted when Smith, the Waltham general, pulled off Turner's helmet and slapped his face with it, cost Waltham dear.

The game was called some 15 minutes after scheduled time. Newton won the toss and decided to defend the west goal. Waltham kicked off to the 15-yard line and the ball was run back about 18 yards. After a few plays which netted about 14 yards Newton punted to the Waltham 20-yard line. A penalty of five yards for offside opened Waltham's series of losses, though the distance was regained by Richardson, who advanced some 25 yards. Line plays were tried by Waltham for small gains, and after another penalty of 15 yards for holding Waltham punted. Newton failed to make the required gain and returned the punt and again recovered the ball on a fumble after Waltham had worked two line plays.

The Newton team lost 15 yards for holding and attempted a forward pass which dropped incomplete, and the visitors then punted.

After advances in the aggregate of 18 yards Waltham punted to the 55-yard line. Newton tried line plays without gain and then punted, the ball passing into the end zone.

The ball was set at the 15-yard line and Waltham advanced 20 yards, after which a punt carried the ball into Newton territory. The Newton team

THE CHRISTIAN FORUM

President Meiklejohn of Amherst Speaks at Eliot Church

The second meeting of the Christian Forum of Newton was held at the Eliot Church on Sunday, November 14th, the speaker being President Alexander Meiklejohn of Amherst College. His topic was "The American College and the Great War."

Pres. Meiklejohn spoke somewhat as follows: I am here to talk to you about the American College with some possible reference to the great war of which I know nothing, but feel a great deal. I wish the American College could do something about the War. What the College would do if it only could.

We find by investigation that all things in the world are being done in two different ways; they are being done as they have been in the past by custom, or they are being done a different way as a result of thinking about them. I do not care what it is, a social call, or making shoes, or building a ship, or making a religion; they may be done as they have been in the past or in a new way because they have been thought out. People are carrying on their lives in these two ways. They are forming their morals by custom and tradition or are stopping to think and criticize and reason as to the best way to live. When the thinking is well done, when the investigations are carried out properly we understand our problems better and can arrange our solutions to better advantage than by going by custom and tradition. In the work of the world some things belong to special groups of men and some things are common to all

WHIST AND DANCE

About 75 couples were present and enjoyed the Whist and Dance under the auspices of Clan MacGillivray, No. 176, Order of Scottish Clans, in Workman's Hall, Nonantum Building, Monday evening.

Souvenirs were given to the following who scored the most points at whist: John McNeil, Allen Murray, Alfred Skene, Miss Jessie MacDonald, Mrs. A. J. Flemming.

Exhibitions of folk dancing were given by several of the members and guests and a most enjoyable evening was had.

The Bostonian Entertainers, who are to appear at the Newton M. E. Church, Dec. 6, are known as one of the best concert companies travelling at present. This organization does not consist of one "star" artist supported by a number of indifferent performers, but each artist is of the star calibre. This entertainment is a most interesting one on account of the prominence of the artists and also the attractive program they present, their selections varying from Grand Opera to the better class of ballad music.

EDITORIAL

With an intimate knowledge of city affairs for over thirty years under 14 different mayors with many years of acquaintance with two of the candidates for the Republican nomination for mayor and with three years' association in the city government with the third candidate, the editor of the Graphic strongly urges the Republican voters of this city to nominate Mr. Arthur W. Blakemore at the primary to be held next Tuesday.

In point of knowledge of the business of the city, obtained by five years' service as an alderman and close study of civic problems—with the ability to reach sound conclusions after careful consideration of every aspect of a question, and the courage to uphold any position so taken, Mr. Blakemore stands head and shoulders above either of the other candidates for the office.

During his service as alderman Mr. Blakemore showed himself to be a student of city affairs able to act on his own independent judgment regardless of outside influences, and to vote courageously for what he believed to be for the best interests of the city. There can be no question but what he would carry these same admirable qualities into the office of mayor.

The serious financial condition of our Newton Hospital affects every resident of this city and the call for aid to be given on Hospital Sunday next Sunday should meet with a prompt and generous response. If every man who has never thought to interest himself in the work of the Hospital will stop one moment and realize what would happen to him, personally, if he was taken suddenly ill, it is certain that he would be glad to contribute a dollar or two to maintain such an institution within the limits of our city. If, to this selfish reason, could be added the suggestion that the Hospital is offering its service to every person in the city, regardless of race or creed, the contribution would be given willingly and gladly.

The Republican city committee is to be commended for the effort to be made next Tuesday to learn how many Democrats will vote the Republican ticket. Checkers will be placed at each polling place and the names of all Democratic voters will be taken and the number of votes cast for Democratic candidates will be compared with the checkers' list in order to learn how many members of that party are attempting to select the Republican candidate.

Our city government is making every effort to place our school buildings in as safe a condition as possible from the danger of fire. Efficiency and economy demand that the action taken should be based on the best obtainable advice as to what should be done and the best way of doing it. This investigation will take a few weeks, but the delay will be fully justified, if it shows every possible danger from the present conditions.

Accounts of Union Club Day at Newton Highlands, and of an Entertainment at Lower Falls are crowded over to next week's issue.

DEATH OF MISS WICKETT

The death of Miss Mary Wickett occurred suddenly on Sunday, Nov. 7th at West Newton. The deceased was a member of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, the Christian Endeavor Society, the Farther Lights, and took an active interest in the church and charity work, and was a member of the Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge No. 177.

The funeral took place Monday at the residence of her sister Mrs. Harry Robbles on Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale. Rev. Thomas Roy, pastor of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church conducted a very impressive service at half past two.

"Face to Face," "I'm a Pilgrim" and "Saved by Grace," were rendered by Mrs. Maurice E. Beardsley, contralto. A service was also held by the members of the Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge. The remains were taken to Brockton, where a service was conducted by the pastor of the Brockton Baptist Church, assisted by Mr. Roy.

There were many beautiful floral tributes from the various societies to which she belonged, and from friends and relatives, and she will be greatly missed, as she was near and dear to a large circle. The burial was in the family lot in Melrose Cemetery, Brockton.

MRS. WALTER L. WOODMAN

Eliza Dow Kingsbury, wife of Mr. Walter L. Woodman, and mother of the Misses Helen and Beatrice Woodman, died at her home, 217 Bellevue street, Newton, early Saturday morning, November 13th. Mrs. Woodman was born at Frankfort, Me., November 7, 1864. She married Mr. Woodman August 13, 1888, and went to St. Augustine, Florida, for her future home. In 1909 she came to live in Newton that she might be with her daughters while continuing their studies at the Mount Ida School for Girls. Mrs. Woodman was a descendant of one of the oldest New England families. She was a member of the Maine branch of the General Society of Mayflower Descendants, proving her descent from three of the passengers on the good ship Mayflower when she made her first voyage to America in 1620.

After Mrs. Woodman came to Newton, the seeds of what proved to be her fatal illness were developed. Hence she could enter but little into the social and church life of the community, although her frailty had not reduced her to the state of invalidism. While neighborly with her neighbors, friendly with her friends, and in a measure interchanging the amenities of these relations, she was compelled to limit her activities to her home. For that realm she was especially fitted, and in it the usefulness and delight of life were made her own. Serving her husband and two daughters with a love that answered theirs, she was "the sweet presence of a good diffused," endearing and endeared. A quiet dignity, an unflinching grace of manner, the bearing of the lady, gave charm to her person and characterized her ways. It would be wrong to think that her interest in life was confined to her household. No one trait in her dominated the others. Her mind was well endowed and well balanced. By association with her friends, by sharing the life of her husband and daughters as part of her own, by residence in the South, by travel at home and abroad, as well as by the press, she kept herself informed and in touch with the great affairs of the day in our country and in the world at large. For every reason she loved life as we love it. To her and to her loved ones it was worth living, and unwelcome was "the going down of her sun while it was yet day."

The beautiful qualities of her character were radiant and could not be hidden. The purity of her spirit was transparent, its loveliness plain to all who knew her. Yet when her illness increased it brought to light unsuspected resources of strength in the depths of her nature. The inroads of disease laid repeated demands on her for fortitude and endurance but not to find her wanting. She surprised her friends with her calmness when confronted with the prospect of surgical operations of great severity. Her patience under pain, her serenity of spirit amid all trials, so long as her will was her own, were unbroken.

From childhood her character, conduct and moral state were Christian but no open profession of her faith had been made when she came here to live. Hence on her sick bed in the last week of her life, she was baptized after the Episcopal form and her discipleship to her Lord signified and sealed. She died the death of a Christian because she was a Christian and passed from her earthly to the inheritance of an heavenly home.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dr. MacLure, assisted by her uncle, Dean Howe. The esteem in which she was held was shown by the abundance of beautiful floral offerings that came from many loving hearts, a number of whom were unable to be present. Messages that poured in from all parts of the country showed how far reaching had been the love and power that radiated from her quiet life. The interment was at the Newton Cemetery.

Upper Falls

—Next Sunday is Hospital Sunday. —Mrs. Durrell of Oak street is seriously ill at the Newton Hospital.

—Mrs. Stata and family of Reservoir street have removed to Hale street.

—Mr. C. A. Chadwick of Oak street has recovered from his recent illness.

—Master Charles Doyle, son of Mr. John Doyle of Chestnut street and a pupil at the Ralph Waldo Emerson school fell and broke his arm while playing basketball during recess on Wednesday. Dr. McOwen was summoned, who set the bones temporarily and the boy was then taken to the Newton Hospital where X-Ray pictures of the arm were taken and the bones reset. Master Doyle is convalescing at his home on Chestnut street.

—Mr. Robert Gillespie passed away at his home at 139 High street Monday of heart failure after a short illness. He was born at Fort Covington, N. Y. For thirty years he was a well known coal dealer of Brighton. He has been retired from business for several years living in Hopkinton up to two years ago when he removed to his new home on High street. Mr. Gillespie is survived by a widow and five sisters. Funeral services were held at his late residence at 2.30 Thursday afternoon the Rev. J. W. Stephen of the Methodist Episcopal Church officiating. Interment was at Lancaster, Ontario, Canada.

LOWER FALLS ENTERTAINMENT

The first entertainment under the auspices of the Newton and Wellesley Lower Falls Improvement Associations and the Community Club was held Tuesday evening in Early Hall, Newton Lower Falls, about 150 being present.

Mr. P. C. Baker, president of the Newton Lower Falls Improvement Association, presided. He referred to the growth of organization life and the urgent need of co-operation for civic improvement. He introduced Dr. Schofield, Selectman of Wellesley, who congratulated the people on "getting together." He said the location of Newton Lower Falls, comprising as it does a little of Wellesley, of Newton, of Weston and of Needham makes this "getting together" necessary to create a stronger community spirit.

Mayor Childs of Newton gave a stirring address on the value of co-operative effort. He spoke with enthusiasm of the organization of the Community Club with whom the idea of these monthly entertainments originated—and he expressed the wish that the young men of the Community might start a similar organization. The object of these entertainments is to provide general entertainment and to create an opportunity for the discussion of all matters of local interest. An admission of fifteen cents is charged to cover expenses.

Miss Rose Campbell gave several readings in a most entertaining manner. Mr. Fred Randall sang two groups of songs which were heartily applauded and Mr. Richard Boyle, cartoonist on the Boston Journal Staff, kept the audience in gales of laughter as he drew cartoons of celebrities and illustrated amusing stories.

The committees in charge hope to have an even larger gathering at the December meeting.

READ FUND LECTURE

The third in the series of Read Fund lectures was given Monday evening in the Bigelow School hall. "Adventures in the Jungles of Yucatan" was the subject and Edward H. Thompson, ex-U. S. Consul was a very entertaining and instructive speaker, and led his audience thru the "Uninhabited Land" of the cannibal caribs, wonderful as subterranean lakes, huge fields of the Sisal plant that today binds the wheat of the world.

Waban

—Next Sunday is Hospital Sunday.

—Box 525 was sounded Saturday afternoon for a brush fire corner Chestnut and Beacon streets.

—The Whist Club held the first of a series of dancing parties in Knollwood Hall last Friday evening.

—At the Union Church next Sunday morning, the minister will preach on "The Gospel According to Jonah."

—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Tracy Girdler (Ruth Arend) are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, who has been named Robert Mercer Girdler.

—The Sewing Circle of the Union Church held a very well attended meeting in the vestry last Friday and had as speaker Mrs. Burr of Newton Centre, who told of the work of the Mothers' Rest, for which the Circle has been working.

—The Waban Assemblies for which thirty-five couples have subscribed and which are expected to prove the feature of social life in Waban this season, are to be held in Knollwood Hall; the first of the series being held on Tuesday evening and proving a very enjoyable affair. The music of Hoppe's orchestra being especially appreciated. The managers are Messrs. Howard North, Harry Tilton, Harry Mathews and Harry Ham.

—The Beacon Club in its many years of existence has had many forms of entertainment on its meeting night including a talk by an Arctic explorer, a talk on Patagonia, Grand Opera selections, and vaudeville turns, but it remained for this year's officers to give them a movie night and Wednesday evening the seventy-five members who gathered in Knollwood Hall made excellent movie "fans," as they applauded the film production of "Simon, the Jester," and following that several comic pictures. Mr. James Willing presided at the piano (mechanical) and furnished the soft (and hard) music for the play winning much applause from his fellow members, especially for his rendition of "Tipperary," which the members joined in singing. Mr. Adna Dennison, this year's president, presided and excused himself for running away from the last meeting but with his genial hospitable nature proved on Wednesday evening that he is the man to help the Beacon Club to live up to its reputation, for these qualities, and add many to its membership roll.

BOY SCOUTS OUTING

Two troops from the South and West Ends of Boston had a delightful afternoon of real scouting last Saturday out in the hills of Newton Centre. Twelve scouts from Troop 5, Boston, with their scoutmaster, A. F. Simmons, and 16 from Troop 2, Boston, with their scoutmaster, E. F. Moorehouse, and their assistant scoutmaster, F. T. Thornton, were the lucky scouts to have such a splendid opportunity. It was due to the thoughtfulness and generous hospitality of Troop 5, Newton, with its scoutmaster, E. W. Varney, and its assistant, Reginald Oyster, and Troop 3, Newton, with its assistant scoutmaster, E. J. Ovington, that these scouts from the heart of the city were given an opportunity for a taste of scouting in the open country.

The program arranged for the afternoon was a treasure hunt. The Saturday before Scoutmaster Ovington, with a scout from Troop 3 and one from Troop 5, Newton, laid out the course, concealing 26 notes in all. These the Boston troops were to find. When the troops came out from Boston to Chestnut Hill, a few of the Newton scouts who had been delegated and Scoutmaster Ovington met them at the cars and conducted them to the start of the hunt.

All the afternoon till dark the 28 boys from the city hurried to out-do one another in finding the notes. Finally just after darkness fell the last one was reached. Abraham M. Siegel of Troop 2 was the lucky scout who found the treasure—which consisted of a certificate for $1. W. Zak of Troop 2 won the first prize for having secured the largest number of notes, five in all.

The second largest number was found by two different scouts. Lots were drawn to determine the winner, and "Bill" Clay was the lucky scout. Scout Cameron of the 5th Boston Troop received the third prize.

As the troops from Boston came scurrying up the hill in search of the last note, they found the Newton scouts lined up there ready to cheer them. While the Boston scouts had been on the hunt their hosts had been preparing the fire on the top of the hill, setting up tents for wind shields and stacking up a huge pile of brush and branches for the supper camp fire.

When the hunt was finished all the Scouts lined up and marched in line—guided by the light from Scoutmaster Ovington's 400 candle power gasoline lamp—down the side of the hill to the place where the fire was laid ready to light.

Scout Commissioner Loomis, who was present, then invoked the spirit of fire—in the customary Three Pond Camp warmer. As the flames leaped up the Scouts remained seated about. The Scout Commissioner then spoke to the boys, emphasizing the value of scouting in the open as well as in the city.

Supper was then announced. The hosts and their guests lined up together, and each Newton Scout took his seat with a Boston Scout about the fire and shared oyster stew with him.

THE HOSPITAL WORK

Frank Statement of its Financial Condition
 by Mr. Charles E. Kelsey

To the People of Newton through the courtesy of the Newton Graphic:—
 My dear Sir:

Several times during the last few days I have heard surprise expressed that the Newton Hospital needs so large a sum as $21,000 to pay the deficit of conducting the Hospital for the past year. To these people this deficit looks so large a sum that the remark carries with it the impression that the Hospital is extravagantly managed—perhaps inefficiency prevails and as a result, an unusual call for money this year.

May I just say a word to any of your readers who may have such a thought even though it has not been given verbal expression. I can speak with some knowledge of the financial management because for several years as a member of the Executive Committee it was my duty each month to audit every bill of the previous month and be prepared to explain any unusual expense for the previous month—in short to assure myself that the proper prices were paid, that only the necessary quantities were purchased and to report my findings monthly to a somewhat critical committee.

During the past year the Hospital has cared for 2052 patients—a larger number than any previous year. Our deficit, $21,000, is not as large as last year, nor any larger than it was 4 or 5 years ago when we cared for fewer patients. During the last 5 years the cost of provisions and all supplies has materially advanced—yet the Hospital has no larger deficit. The Hospital has greatly improved its methods and its general care of patients, and these improvements again have not created a larger deficit.

I am somewhat familiar with the conduct of other Hospitals throughout the Commonwealth, and I find no one where the cost of caring for patients is less than at Newton Hospital, excepting where the expenses of the Hospital are partly paid by the city, church or state. There is no Hospital where a larger part of the expenses are earned than here in Newton, where the standards of living are necessarily high.

Our total expenses for the year past in round figures were $94,000. The total earnings from the care of patients together with the income from the endowment were $73,000. This leaves $21,000 deficit. This is a large deficit because a large work was done—2052 patients were cared for. Of this number only 20 per cent were private patients who paid for the cost of their care. 20 per cent paid nothing because they were financially unable to do so, and the remaining 60 per cent paid part of the cost. Every dollar of this deficit, $21,000, is for charity work—not one dollar for new construction work. All new buildings and grounds of the Hospital as well as new equipment, including new Packard ambulance, have been given by individuals.

The fact that the Hospital has done a large work of charity than any previous year and has not created a larger deficit ought to assure every one that the greatest care has been exercised and that extravagant and inefficient methods have not prevailed.

The Hospital is a Newton institution—our largest city charity. Its management is most able. Our matron, Miss Riddle, is recognized as the most efficient Hospital matron in New England. Our best physicians and ablest business men give unsparingly of their time in its conduct, without any financial compensation. It is an institution of which every citizen cannot fail to be proud if they will become personally acquainted with its work. Every Hospital must run at a loss if it is to be a real Hospital—for the care of the sick, the poor and the needy.

No Hospital whose doors are always open day and night to receive the sick and poor can care for these patients without losing an average of about $10 per patient. This is very nearly the average loss per patient for this last year's work—for 2052 patients. $10 to care for a sick patient is a small sum when the amount of service is considered. This means that a $10 contribution will care for one patient. It is an honor to share in a work like this. It makes life worth living, and every citizen of Newton should honor himself and his city by sharing in the support of our splendid Newton Hospital.

As one evidence of efficient management the Trustees do not permit solicitation of subscriptions excepting at one time a year—at Thanksgiving time—so that our contributions may become an expression of thankfulness for the splendid work of the Newton Hospital and thankfulness for the many blessings each one has enjoyed during the past year.

Yours faithfully,
 CHARLES E. KELSEY.

PAGEANT OF HISTORICAL WOMEN

Sarah Hull Chapter, D. R., furnished a most delightful entertainment at the Hunnewell Club on Wednesday evening. A "Pageant of Historical Women," written and arranged by Mrs. Mae M. Buckley, Regent of Lafayette Chapter, D. R., of Dorchester, was presented by the following cast, all but three coming from Dorchester:—

Descriptive Talk, Mrs. Amy Buckley; Liberty, Mrs. Lottie Reynolds; Color Bearer, Miss Elvira Mawhinnee; Priscilla, Mrs. Alice Darling; Mrs. Daniel Hall, Mrs. Cora Chase; Molly Pitcher, Miss Edith Sprague; Dorothy Quincy, Mrs. Minnie Hampe; Lafayette, Miss Miriam Nollinger; Abigail Adams, Mrs. Harriet Tinkham; Lora Standish, Mrs. Edith Holmes; Lucia Knox, Mrs. Julia Rowe, Sarah Hull, Mrs. Marjorie Godfrey; Catherine Livingston, Mrs. Eva Grenfeld; Jane Campbell, Mrs. Mildred Stratton; Mary Hirst, Mrs. Effie Fales; Mary Phillips, Mrs. Lillian Leonard; Dolly Madison, Mrs. Florence Creamer; John Hancock, Miss Juanita O'Hara; Betsey Ross, Mrs. Annie Boyd; Deborah Sampson, Miss Anna Whiting.

Mrs. Mae Buckley, accompanied by Clara Nye Smith as a maiden of "olden time," entered first and announced the characters. Mr. Winthrop Allen, in Colonial costume, acted as escort.

In their handsome and appropriate old time costumes the ladies seemed to have just stepped from the pages of a fashion book of a century or more ago.

The delightful reading of Mrs. Amy Buckley and the sympathetic piano accompaniment of Master Clair Leonard added to the charm of the performance.

The Misses Elizabeth Gansse, Esther Wing, Marjorie Holmes, Evelyn Converse, Doris Holmes, Ruth Beedle, Marie Daiger and Katherine Gansse gave a most charming and graceful rendering of the minuet. They were drilled by Miss Florence Bacon and accompanied by Mrs. Howard Mason. At the close the entire cast promaded around the hall, preceded by the ushers: Miss Clara J. Coburn, Mrs. Franklin E. Smith, Miss Helen Wells, Miss Helen Partridge, Miss Gertrude Ensign and Mrs. Willard Sampson. Mrs. Charles Pearson and Mr. Winthrop Allen assisted as aides. The entertainment closed with the singing of "America" by the cast and audience. Dancing to the music of Knight's Orchestra was enjoyed until a late hour.

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

It is interesting to know that the following High School graduates are on the honor list at Harvard University for 1914-15:—F. S. Bacon, '11, A. R. Bancroft, '13, H. S. Bothfeld, '13, E. V. Frend, '14, J. T. French, '12, C. L. Henderson, '13, G. H. Pulsifer, '14, R. W. Stanley, '13, S. F. Williams, '13, have 1 B each, D. K. Dunmore, '14 has 2 Bs, L. W. Smith, '13 has 3 Bs, M. L. Hodson, '12, W. L. Prosser, '14, D. G. Nutter, '12 and I. U. Townsend, '13 have 5 Bs each, H. B. Clark, '12 has 6 Bs, J. E. Cox, '14 has 3 As and 2 Bs, Malcolm Dodd, '13 has 1 A and 2 Bs, H. L. Nash, '12 has 5 As and 1 B, L. Stearns Poor, '13 has 1 A and 1 B, L. C. Roberts, '12 has 4 As and 1 B, P. M. Symonds, '11 has 4 As and 3 Bs, J. W. Townsend, '13 has 3 As and 2 Bs, R. S. Tucker, '14 has 4 As and 1 B, and R. P. Wentworth, '11 has 6 As and 1 B, making a total of 38 As and 60 Bs for Newton pupils.

A new plan of marking has now gone into effect in this school. The students' grades are now expressed by percentage figures instead of by letters. This system was carried out in the quarterly reports, which were issued Tuesday.

Plans are now being made for the organization of the Glee Club for this year.

Wednesday afternoon, at Cabot Park, the girls' hockey team defeated the team from the Boston School of Physical Culture in a very close and exciting game.

Carlisle Frost has been chosen chairman of the Photo Committee by a vote of the Senior Class.

Friday, November 12, the first meeting of the German Club was held in the library at the close of school.

In the Assembly Hall Wednesday morning, Mr. Walton, teacher of music, led the upper classes in several well known songs.

The same morning Mr. Adams, upon request by Manager Leonard, urged the students to support the football team in the game at Tech Field, Brookline, Friday afternoon at 2.30.

Too much praise cannot be given the football team for the magnificent game which they played Saturday. The Waltham eleven, which is one of the claimants for the state championship, had been having an easy season until checked by the determined and well developed Newton team. Every man on the Newton Eleven deserves great credit for the part which he played in the success of the orange and black. The work of Capt. Dorney and Cris Vachon was especially remarkable. The Waltham boys were outplayed throughout the greater part of the contest, and had the game lasted a few seconds longer the Newton supporters might have been celebrating a victory.

The deciding game of the Triangular League series will be played Friday, November 19, between Newton and Brookline, at Brookline. On account of the showing at Waltham, Newton is a strong favorite, but Brookline has one of the best kickers in Greater Boston schools and may be depended upon to put up a great battle for the league honors.

Mrs. Palmer will join him about New Year's.

COLLEGE WHIST

The most successful social event of the week in Newtonville was the College Whist, which was held Monday evening in Dennison hall, under the auspices of the Lend-A-Hand Society of the First Universalist Church.

There was a large attendance and twenty tables were arranged attractively in the hall, decorated with college banners and colors, each table representing a different college.

The first prize for ladies was taken by Mrs. William E. Brown, and Mr. Brown was the winner of the first prize for gentlemen. Mrs. C. Henry Goodwin, Jr. captured the second prize for ladies and Mr. Strout of Medford, the second gentlemen's prize.

At the close of the game a collation consisting of College ices, cake, etc., was served under the direction of Miss Grace Hunt, who was chairman of the refreshment committee.

Cole's orchestra was in attendance and furnished an excellent program of popular music during the game and for the dancing which followed.

This delightful affair was in charge of a committee of ladies, members of the Lend-A-Hand, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Helen Trowbridge. Among those serving on the committee were Mrs. J. W. Allen, Miss Grace Brown, Miss Lilla Taylor, Miss Marian Bassett, and Miss Helen Bosworth.

NEWTON CLUB NOTES

The activities of the members of the Newton Club are increasing as the season proceeds, all of the recent entertainments and open nights being very extensively attended. On Saturday night, Nov. 13, the bowling alleys, billiard room and card room were occupied by about 100 members, and the collation was enjoyed by all at about 10.30.

The 28 new members are already becoming very active, and the names of about a dozen more are to come up for election at the next executive committee meeting.

Next Tuesday afternoon, there will be afternoon bridge at 2.15 P. M. The ladies receiving will be Mrs. Fred E. Mann, Mrs. S. A. F. Ely, Mrs. W. Lloyd Allen. Tickets for the Thanksgiving assembly have been distributed, and the formal dance will begin at 8.30 sharp. On Thanksgiving day the house will be open for members and ladies throughout the entire day. It is expected that a larger attendance than last year will be present.

The entertainment committee has already announced for Thursday, December 2, at Players' Hall, West Newton, the "Douglas Morton Bird, Animal and Travel Pictures." There will be a matinee performance for Newton school children at 3 o'clock, and an evening performance at 8.30, after which there will be dancing in the adjoining ball room.

These moving pictures have been called the most unique in the world, and from the most interesting descriptions, it is believed that the audiences who will attend these performances will be entertained with most interesting and novel scenes. The pictures were taken 10,000 miles away, and 2,000 miles from the nearest human habitation. The scenes were in lands never before seen by the eyes of man, and it is believed that the birds and animals which were photographed there cannot be seen in any zoo in the world. Not only were birds and animals of the land caught on these reels, but many deep sea creatures, never before seen by scientists, were photographed after being taken from a depth a smuch as three miles below the surface of the sea. Beside the active life of the animal kingdom, there was also secured a perfect picture of a roaring blizzard in the windiest spot on earth, where the wind attained a velocity of 216 miles per hour, and where the average velocity, for over two years, had been 50 miles an hour. Icebergs, sledging journeys and the travel of an expedition composing 66 university graduates, are all contained in this entertainment. It is said that there are many screamingly funny scenes, with many a good laugh in each one of the reels. One of the competitors of Charley Chaplin is the penguin, who is said to be even more humorous than the monkey. For the slight cost of an admission fee, the results of an expedition costing over a quarter of a million dollars may be seen on these two occasions, and the Newton Club has extended the courtesy of the entertainment to members of the Players, of which the Hon. Charles E. Hatfield is treasurer.

DEATH OF MRS. HILDRETH

Mrs. Nellie Hughes Hildreth, wife of Theodore A. Hildreth of Newtonville, passed away suddenly last week on Friday, at her late home on Austin street. Her death came as a great shock to the community as it was not generally realized that she was in poor health, as she had been actively engaged early in the week, in work for the Deaconess Aid Society, at the Rainbow Fair in Tremont Temple.

Mrs. Hildreth had been for many years prominently identified with the Newtonville Methodist Church. She was a member of the Ladies' Aid Society, the Missionary Societies, the Deaconess Aid Society of New England, and an active member of the Newtonville Woman's Guild. She possessed remarkable executive abilities, a kind, self-sacrificing and charitable disposition and was a loyal friend and neighbor, and entered with great interest into all good work which enlisted her sympathies.

Mrs. Hildreth is survived by her husband and two sons, Mr. Paul Hildreth of Buffalo, N. Y., and Mr. Clarke Hildreth of San Francisco, Cal., who was unable to reach Newtonville in time for the funeral, but was present at the interment service at Lansing, Mich.

A large company of friends and relatives assembled at the Methodist Church on Tuesday afternoon, where Rev. James Watson Campbell, D. D., the pastor, assisted by Rev. Dr. Willard T. Perrin, president of the New England Deaconess Association, conducted a beautiful and impressive service at half-past two.

"Angels of Jesus," "Crossing the Bar" and other sacred selections were rendered by the Church quartet, Mr. Frederick W. Whiting, tenor, Mrs. Clara Sexton Crowley, soprano, Mrs. Jeannette Hall, alto, and Mr. Willard T. Young, bass.

Among the many mourners were the members of the Newtonville Woman's Guild, and a delegation from the N. E. Deaconess Association, of which Mr. Hildreth is Corresponding Secretary.

There were many beautiful floral tributes and the remains were taken Wednesday to Mrs. Hildreth's old home in Lansing, Mich., where the burial took place on Thursday in the family lot in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

GARDEN CITY Y. P. B.

The regular monthly meeting of the Garden City Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Methodist Church, Newtonville, Wednesday, November 24th at 8 o'clock. The occasion will be marked by the formal reception of a number of new members who have lately joined the Branch. The regular business session will be followed by a program of special interest. All young people in Newton are cordially welcomed to these meetings.

INTERESTING REPORT

City Officials Investigate Fire Conditions in all the School Buildings of the City

The following report has just been made to Mayor Childs by Chief of Fire Department Randlett and Public Buildings Commissioner Forbush, following a complete inspection of our school buildings, as a result of the recent fire tragedy in Peabody:

There are in use today twenty-five school buildings. The enclosing walls of thirteen of these buildings are of brick and are built of what is known as second class construction, with the exception of the Technical High School, which is a combination of first and second class, the floors being fireproof and the roof of wood construction.

The remaining twelve buildings are of wood construction. In five of these buildings pupils are housed above the second floor. Fifteen of the buildings have wooden staircases and in addition the Classical High School has one flight of wooden stairs. All of these stairs with the exception of four, have varnished or painted wooden wainscoting. In every case in order to go from the bottom of the stairs to the exit doors it is necessary to pass doors leading to the basement.

No attempt has been made, except in the case of the Roger Wolcott school, to provide smoke stop partitions and doors, the corridors with two exceptions being common to all staircases in each building.

Some of the basement ceilings are unplastered, some are plastered on wood lath and some on metal lath. In many instances in basements there are closets under stairs in which are stored wooden furniture, floor oils, kerosene, disinfectants, sawdust and school supplies of various sorts, and in some cases where there are no closets, the space under stairs is used for similar storage.

Unfinished attics are used for the storage of furniture, books, maps, supplies, etc.

The condition of all the buildings showed evidence of good care and janitor service, particularly the basements.

The condition of the industrial part of the basement of the Technical High School is such that it offers an undue fire hazard, being isolated from outside view, containing necessarily a large amount of flammable equipment and material, a combustible roof, large area of skylights of ordinary glass; many windows exposing the main building, some of them on stairways, offering every facility for fire to break through, with no smoke or fire stops at corridors and passageways.

After careful consideration of the results of our inspection we submit the following recommendations:

1. Where not already done, the ceilings of all basements to be plastered with hard plaster on metal lath.
2. All closets under stairs to be removed and that storage space for broken and unused furniture be provided outside of school buildings.
3. All basements and stairs from first story to basement be equipped with automatic sprinklers.

DWIGHT ELMENDORF IN SWITZERLAND

More of Switzerland than any traveler sees in a single trip—more of the country than the average tourist ever sees, will be shown by Dwight Elmendorf in his travel talk at Symphony Hall this evening and tomorrow afternoon.

The itinerary lies away from the beaten paths of the excursionists, and includes climbs up many of the peaks which are shunned by all but the most foot-happy. We will view the dangers attendant upon mountain climbing, and will see the exquisite colors with which the sun paints the mountain tops at dawn. Before us will be spread the beautiful panorama of Swiss lakes, with picturesque villages clustering along the shores; and the "everlasting hills" will be brought before our vision in startling reality. The illustrations used in the travel talk have all been made and colored by the lecturer himself.

ANOTHER LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The increasing interest in the subject of Christian Science is shown by the large audiences attending the lectures by authorized speakers in various parts of the globe. It is customary to have two or more of these lectures annually in every community where the movement is organized.

Another by Mr. Willis F. Gross, C. S. B., is announced for Monday evening, Nov. 29th, at Temple Hall, Masonic Building, Newtonville. Doubtless the usual large attendance of those wishing to know more of this subject from an authorized source, is assured.

BOTHFELD-CLARK

The marriage of Miss Viola M. Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Clark, and Theodore Bothfeld, oldest son of Representative Henry E. Bothfeld of Newton, were married at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at the home of the bride's parents in Sherborn. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Isaac Porter and was witnessed by about 60 guests, many of whom came from Newton, Manchester, Abington and Brookline.

The bride was attended by Miss Jeannette Prindle of Washington, Conn. and her younger sister, Miss Dorothy Clark, was flower girl. Henry Bothfeld, Jr., brother of the groom, was best man. The bride was graduated from Dean Academy last June.

A reception followed. After a wedding trip the young couple will live at Dunstable Farm, Sherborn.

POLITICAL NOTES

Mr. T. D. Murphy presided at a meeting of the Newton Democratic Club last Friday evening in Nonantum Hall which was well attended.

Mayor Childs, who has received the indorsement of the Democratic party for re-election, and who is also seeking the indorsement of the Republican party, was the principal speaker of the evening. He told the members of the club that he appreciated the indorsement given him and urged all to vote the Democratic ticket in the primary, and not to cast a ballot for him in the Republican primary, where there is a three-cornered contest for the nomination. Other speakers were Aldermen John W. Murphy, a candidate for reelection from Ward 1, and Daniel O'Connell, candidate for ward alderman in Ward 2.

GRACE CHURCH CHOIR

A very successful entertainment was given by the choir of Grace Church on Saturday evening in Stanley Hall at the Hunnewell Club, Newton.

"Rubber Boots," an amusing comedieta in one act, was presented and the characters of three sisters, "Sophie," "Lou" and "Pauline," were nicely portrayed by Miss Elizabeth L. Horsfall, Mrs. Green and Miss Dorothy MacLure.

The scene was laid in the living-room in the girls' home and Mr. Bentley was excellent in his impersonation of the "Tramp."

"Ici On Parle Français," a farce in one-act, was ably presented by the following cast: Bradford Story, who appeared as "Anna Maria," Edson Jewell as "Angelina Spriggins," Charles Davenport as Mrs. Spriggins, Geoffrey Baker as Mr. Spriggins, Frederick Burrows as "Victor Dubois," Raymond Ford as "Mrs. Regulus Rattan" and William V. M. Fawcett as "Major Regulus Rattan."

Both sketches were well staged under the direction of Mr. Leverett D. G. Bentley and the performances were enthusiastically received by the large audience.

An interesting feature was the music between the acts by the Kitchen Orchestra composed of members of the Women's Auxiliary Choir.

The Sermon on the Mount

We hear a great deal nowadays about "Non-Resistance." In the sermon on the Mount, Jesus said, "Resist not evil." Did He mean it literally? If He did, is it a practicable teaching? These questions will be discussed next Sunday morning, when all the ministers in Newtonville will preach on "The Sermon on the Mount and the Twentieth Century." Why not hear what they have to say? You will be cordially welcomed at any church in Newtonville.

WOMEN'S CLUB

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

Hospital Sunday has become such an institution in the city that it seems almost unnecessary to remind people of its approach. Yet the statement of last year's finances distributed last Sunday would indicate that no stone can be left unturned to secure aid for the splendid work done by the Newton Hospital. Money has been poured out for the hospitals across the sea—and it is proper that it should have been—but let us not forget our duty here at home and see that on next Sunday the generosity characteristic of Newton people does not fail to produce the needed funds for this beneficent agency within our own gates.

Local Announcements

On Nov. 22 the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. begins the study of Belgian Painting at the home of Miss Webster.

The Monday Club of Newton Highlands will meet with Mrs. G. M. Stone of Walnut street on Nov. 22.

The Travel Class of the West Newton Women's Educational Club meets on Nov. 22nd.

The first meeting of the Music Club of the Newtonville Woman's Guild will be held at the home of Mrs. D. E. Baker on Monday morning, when Russian Music will be the subject of study, with illustrations by voice, violin and piano.

On Tuesday morning the first current events lecture will be given by Mrs. Leila C. Pennock.

Gifts for the Thanksgiving work of the Flower Mission should be taken to the home of Mrs. Higgins next Monday morning.

At the Newton Library on Nov. 23 will be held the regular meeting of the Newton Parliamentary Law Club.

The meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club will take the form of Daughters' Day on Tuesday, Nov. 23, at the Methodist Parish House. Miss Judith H. Lyndon will give "Interpretations of Darkey Life." There will be music and a tea.

There will be no meeting of the Social Science Club on Wednesday morning.

On Saturday afternoon, Nov. 27, the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club will meet with Mrs. Drew and the study of Richard II will be begun under the direction of Miss Crombie.

Local Happenings

Mrs. W. J. Bicknell was hostess for the meeting of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club on Nov. 13. Mrs. E. J. Smith, who was in charge of the review of Othello brought a number of new ideas, among them being that it was Iago and not Othello, who was the jealous character of the play and the root of the whole trouble. That Othello did not kill Desdemona out of jealousy, but calmly, deliberately for his honor's sake. An article by William Winter was read in which the eminent critic analyzes the older Salvini's rendering of Othello, concluding that it was not at all Shakespearean, but rather an Italian's conception of the character.

The Auburndale Review Club met on Tuesday morning, Nov. 16th, at the home of Mrs. Frank F. Davidson, 59 Woodland road. Miss Ruth Crandall sang a group of three songs accompanied by Mrs. W. J. Spaulding. Mrs. Sisk was chairman and Mrs. Bostwick read a synopsis of the play, Agamemnon, which was followed by the reading of this play by Mrs. Sisk, Mrs. Spaulding and Mrs. Van Wagenen.

On Tuesday afternoon all business was suspended at the meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Guild, and Mrs. Henry V. Jones, vice-president, was in the chair, that the members of the executive board might attend the funeral of Mrs. T. A. Hildreth, one of the Guild members, which occurred at the same hour. Mrs. C. D. Kepner paid a sympathetic tribute to Mrs. Hildreth's memory, who had been an active worker in the club for a number of years.

The speaker of the day was Mr. Huger Elliott, director of the educational work at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, and his subject "Artistic Standards concerning Objects in Daily Use." The lecture, which was illustrated by a series of fine slides, was full of interest, as the logical idea of art in each object shown was reviewed and pointed out to be consistent to its character.

The Needlework Guild exhibited a collection of over 800 garments, which will be distributed among the various charities of Newton. Tea was served under the direction of Mrs. E. P. Hatch, chairman of the Charitable committee, green and white being conspicuous as the color scheme, a bunch of beautiful white chrysanthemums adorning the tea table.

A successful sale and supper was held by the West Newton Women's Educational Club at the Players' Hall on Tuesday afternoon and evening. Among the tables may be mentioned the President's Table, in charge of Mrs. W. A. Beedle, assisted by other officers of the club, containing fancy articles; a candy table in charge of Mrs. Harry S. Wells; china, Mrs. Wilfred Clark; baskets and other kindred articles, Mrs. Robert A. Gorton. Supper was served with Mrs. Nowers and Mrs. Monroe in charge assisted by other members.

Mrs. Temperley was in charge of the afternoon's program at the meeting of the Pierian Club on Nov. 17. A paper was presented descriptive of the Shetland and Hebrides Islands, Helgoland and Faroe Islands. The customary social hour was enjoyed at the close.

The regular meeting of the West Newton Woman's Educational Club was held in Players' Small Hall on Friday, November 12, Mrs. Walter A. Beedle in the chair. After the business meeting the afternoon was in charge of the Art Committee. The speaker, Mrs. William I. Lawrence of Auburndale, took her audience in a never to be forgotten talk on "Life and Art in Japan" to the Orient where she touched sympathetically on the Japanese in his home, and entered minutely into the various stages of their advancement since the year 1868. Mrs. Lawrence is a very magnetic speaker, and chained the attention of her hearers from start to finish. Tea was served during the social hour which followed.

The Newton Woman's Club held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Douglas, Walnut street, Newtonville on Wednesday afternoon, November 17th. Mr. Melville C. Freeman of the Practical Arts High School gave a most interesting talk on "The Higher Life." Miss Lillian West played several piano selections which were enjoyed by all. A social hour followed and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be a "Dramatic Recital" to be held December 2nd at the home of Mrs. George Clapp.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club held its regular business meeting, after which Mrs. Norman Marshall, accompanied by Mrs. Edward Stratton, sang a group of songs entitled "Down in the Desert," by Gertrude Ross, "Yesterday," by Blinrigda Crist, and "The Star" by J. R. Rogers.

The musical program was followed by Mr. Hamilton Wright Mable who lectured on "East and West, Friends or Enemies?"

Refreshments were served and the officers of the club held a brief reception to the new members.

Mrs. Thomas Weston opened her home on Thursday afternoon for the annual reception of the Social Science Club, which was very largely attended by the members. Mrs. Weston was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Sterling Elliott, the president, and Mrs. Alfred W. Fuller, chairman of the board of directors. The rooms were decorated with a profusion of cut flowers and potted plants, chrysanthemums and roses predominating. The social arrangements were in charge of the social committee of the club, Mrs. W. R. Dewey, chairman, who was assisted in the dining room by Mrs. A. R. Weed, Miss Helen Cobb, Miss Rose Loring, Mrs. J. H. Chase, Mrs. Harrie R. Chamberlin, Mrs. C. S. Ensign, Jr., and Mrs. Edward M. Hallett, Mrs. F. H. Howes, Mrs. W. H. Capen, Mrs. F. E. Stanley, Mrs. W. L. Lowell, Mrs. Percy N. Kenway, Mrs. F. W. Dana, Mrs. W. G. Brackett, and Mrs. J. G. Bridge poured and Mrs. J. M. Woodbridge, Miss Burt, Mrs. Fred A. Gay, Mrs. W. H. Daggett served frappe. Other members assisted in making the occasion informal and social.

The Social Science Club and Waban Woman's Club Articles will be given next week.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—A new production film, large in theme and purpose, and positively sensational in its surprises, has taken possession of the Majestic Theatre, Boston for a limited season. It is "The Battle Cry of Peace," the remarkable patriotic photograph to spectacle which for some time past has been crowding the Vitaphone Theatre in New York twice daily. The fourth week at this theatre will be next Monday, Nov. 22.
"The Battle Cry of Peace" was written by Commodore Blackton and based on Hudson Maxim's remarkable book "Defenseless America." While the picture carries on a national propaganda, urging preparedness for war, as the best safeguard against war, the lesson is carried home through a remarkably human story, centered around a New York family and its friends and showing by actual incident, and with most thrilling climax, what happens to the great metropolis under the attack of an invading army. The scenes show New York City in the throes of a fierce invasion by a powerful foe, helpless in spite of its greatness. Many of its scenes of destruction under bombardment top the heights of theatrical realism. The production throughout is enhanced by a symphony orchestra of 35 pieces and startling and realistic stage effects.

WILBUR THEATRE—The second successful week "Experience" the most wonderful play in America, begins at the Wilbur Theatre next Monday night, November 22, and the remarkable popularity of this great drama is shown by the capacity audiences which have filled the Wilbur Theatre every night during the first week of the engagement there and the large demand for seats in advance. The engagement of "Experience" at the Wilbur is announced for only three weeks more and it is interesting to know that it has been a decade or ten years since any attraction has played at three or more theatres in Boston as "Experience" has done this year and the sensational success of this modern morality play of today has made new history in Boston theatricals. The same magnificent production was given at the Shubert Theatre and the Boston Opera House is seen at the Wilbur Theatre, and the same notable cast of players. Seats are now on sale for Thanksgiving matinee and night and for football nights of the Harvard-Yale game this Saturday.

RECEPTION

A society event of special note in West Newton, was the reception given by Mrs. John W. Weeks on Monday afternoon, in honor of Miss Beatrice Dowse, whose engagement to her son, Mr. Charles Sinclair Weeks, has recently been announced.

The interior of the handsome Weeks residence on Valentine street was most elaborately decorated with chrysanthemums of various colors, and pink and red roses in effective combination with ferns, palms and potted plants. Mrs. Weeks and Miss Dowse received from 4 until 6 in the reception room, which was transformed into a floral bower. Mrs. Weeks was gowned in blue chiffon and Miss Dowse was very attractive in a gown of pink velvet with corsage bouquet of lavender orchids.

In the dining room where refreshments were served, the floral decorations were very beautiful. Frappe was served by Mrs. Dowse, and Mrs. Sinclair poured, and they were assisted by Mrs. Carl E. Pickhardt, Miss Dorothy Dowse and Miss Margaret Dowse of West Newton. There was a very large number of guests socially prominent, from Boston, Brookline and the Newtons.

Y. M. C. A.

Many are looking to the cold weather this year, for they hope to use the new skating rink on the Y. M. C. A. athletic field. A good deal of interest is being shown in this project.

A group of Italian young men, who are working in one of the mills of the city, come to the Y. M. C. A. at 8.30 in the morning after getting through their work. They study English for an hour and then go to the gymnasium for another hour of exercise and recreation. After this program they are able to get refreshing sleep. This is only one of the many groups that the Y. M. C. A. is serving.

The Association closed its fiscal year, Oct. 31st, with all bills paid. This was only possible through the generous assistance of the citizens of Newton, both men and women. It may interest the friends of the Association to know that a larger amount was received for memberships this year than last. We are looking forward to another successful year and we hope all members and friends of the Association will continue their loyal support and co-operation.

NEWTON LADIES INTERESTED

At the annual bazaar held Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at the Copley Plaza Hotel in Boston for the benefit of the Florence Crittenton Home, the Newton Circle Mere Man's table was in charge of a committee consisting of Mrs. Wm. J. Champion, chairman, Mrs. John T. Lodge, Mrs. Sydney Harwood, Mrs. Louis S. Drake, Mrs. Herbert G. Pratt, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Mrs. George Agry, Mrs. Caroline W. Heizer, Mrs. A. W. Denison, Miss Mabel Riley and Miss Margaret Cobb of Newton, Mrs. Grace R. Bostwick of Auburndale, Mrs. Marcus Morton of Newtonville, Mrs. A. G. Wellman and Mrs. A. S. Williams of Newton Highlands and Mrs. C. Peter Clark of Newton Centre.

"ARRAH-NA-POGUE"

The Irish drama "Arrah-Na-Pogue" was given last week Thursday evening in Bray Hall, Newton Centre, before a large audience, by Division 54, A. O. H., under the direction of M. J. Mullin and Daniel H. Hannigan.

Between the acts a cornet solo was contributed by Miss Grace Kavanagh and vocal selections by Miss Claire Kincaid, Miss Mary White, Mrs. Joseph Barry and Thomas F. Hickey. The cast comprised Michael J. Mullin, James Kelly, James P. Roche, Daniel H. Hannigan, T. E. F. Higgins, John E. Ryan, Dana Foley, Leonard E. Murphy, Thomas J. Clucker, Joseph T. O'Connor, Agnes McHugh, Anna Mae Cavanaugh, Margaret Drennan, Mary White, Jennie Degnan and Helen L. Murphy.

SHUBERT THEATRE—With all its tuneful melodies, refreshing gales of laughter, scenic splendor and gorgeous costumes, "Maid in America" at the Shubert Theatre has become a red-letter event on Boston's busy amusement calendar. The elaborate production from the New York Winter Garden production begins its third and last week with next Monday night's performance (Nov. 22nd) with the assurance that its popularity will continue without abatement until the end of the engagement. One of the chief reasons for the success of the piece, aside from the magnificent stage pictures and colorful costumes, is the wide variety of musical ensembles and song numbers presented during the action. Dreamy waltzes, tantalizing tangos, lively one-steps and whirling eccentric dance tunes, all blend into a carefully arranged melange that pleases from start to finish.

CIVIC CLUB OF NEWTON

the office would be held at a financial loss by any business man. If elected he would study each department and if there was waste or extravagance, he would bring about a reform. This was the kind of work Mr. Rice had been doing all his life and he expected to continue on those lines if he was mayor. He believed that there was considerable opportunity for large savings in our budget of a million and a half. Every department should be brought up to a higher degree of efficiency, not by increased appropriations but by better use of the present amount of money. Automobile expenses had been found so enormous that the city was now building a city garage, the cost of which had been greatly reduced by his work. He believed that $4000 at least could be saved in the care of our city buildings. The pits and crushers operated by the city should be either discontinued or methods changed. The mayor should compel the departments to co-operate in their purchasing, as there was now no co-operation or co-ordination between departments.

Mr. Rice believed in our school system, it was second to none in the state and was largely responsible for the high citizenship of Newton. He believed that our parks and playgrounds should be extended, that our streets should be better and at a less cost and that some of our 60 public buildings were neglected, the heating and ventilating a crime and some were mere fire traps. The Newton Boulevard, costing $350,000 was a beautiful feature of the city, an advertisement to many who passed thru and that the automobile travel had created a garage epidemic along its route. He had fought these garages for three years although he had found a growing demand to grant these licenses. The Edison Co. had spent $200,000 in placing its wires underground and Mr. Rice had succeeded in inducing them to agree to spend $100,000 more in extending that work and to include the side streets. He predicted that in 1920 Newton would have 60,000 population and that with proper improvements, the right kind of people would come here and they would help meet the cost of the same. With a pay as you go policy Newton would have in 1920, a valuation of over $100,000,000 and a debt of less than $2,000,000. In his work as alderman Mr. Rice had favored a policy of restricting the number of junk licenses to 20, to limit the number of pool rooms, and he claimed that the abolition of sixth class licenses had worked well, and while the pony express situation was a mooted question, it will be solved to the satisfaction of the entire city.

In conclusion Mr. Rice said that the duties of the mayor were solely of a business nature and that he was running on the principle that politics should be kept out of city affairs.

Mayor Childs who arrived late, was the last speaker and said that he must stand on his record as the field of promise was not open to him. He had no apologies to make for what he had done and he had tried to meet every proposition fairly and squarely. He had been criticized for his appointment of Mr. Madden on the board of health and he would simply say that he had served on that board himself and found that the common people believed he was a sort of buffer between them and Dr. Curtis and Mr. Harbach and when he retired he felt that the board should have one man to whom the common everyday man would feel free to approach. In filling Mr. Slocum's place he had taken Mr. Bishop because he wanted a man who had served in the aldermen, at the legislature, who knew the law, could try cases and who had the necessary tact to deal with people. He had been urged to appoint Mr. Blakemore to the place and while he had a high opinion of Mr. Blakemore as a lawyer, he was not ashamed of his appointment of Mr. Bishop. Mr. Childs then told of how he had been asked to run for mayor two years ago and how he had been asked by both Democrats and Republicans to run for a second term. He answered his own question as to whom were the Republicans of Newton by saying that few men with gray hair would support him but there were a whole lot of men under 21 and 40 years who had offered him their support.

Each candidate was then given a few minutes to close the discussion. Mr. Blakemore said that Mr. Rice, who claimed to be a business man as well when he defeated the regular Republican nominee for alderman in his ward by an alliance with Democrats. To the objection raised that he was a lawyer, he would say that some of the best business men of the country, like Judge Gary, had had legal training and he felt sure it would be of great assistance in the office of mayor. The matter of purchasing had been somewhat overestimated as only about $250,000 of supplies are bought, most of which were staple articles. He had investigated the purchase of oil a few years ago and found that the city was buying the same grade of oil at a less price than that paid by the state, the Metropolitan commissions and the city of Boston. The matter of automobile expense had been considered before Mr. Rice entered the Board and Alderman Bemis had been the leader in settling the matter. Mr. Blakemore had always favored Playground appropriations.

Mayor Childs stated that he had not said what Mr. Blakemore said he had said at the Board of Trade meeting and had published in the Newton papers.

In answer to questions as to how long a mayor should serve, Mr. Childs said he only wanted two terms anyway. Mr. Blakemore said that he did not believe the mayor ought to know how to build streets better than the Street Commissioner or to run the schools better than the superintendent of schools, but he should adjust all departments to work as a whole. He thought that no man who should be mayor could afford to give more than two years to the city service and he believed a change of policy every two years was a good way to handle affairs. Mr. Rice said that if elected two years would be all he would care to take.

Mr. Bemis asked Mayor Childs to repeat what he had said about the personnel of the board of aldermen at the Board of Trade meeting and the mayor stated that he had said that the board should consist of one half business men of Boston and one half of Newton business men. Mr. Bemis then said that as the greater proportion of Newton residents have business in Boston, they should be equally represented in the city government.

In answer to the advisability of having a city manager, Mayor Childs said he favored a commission form of government. The present ordinance relating to the Comptroller he believed violated the city charter. Under it the Finance committee was virtually a commission with the Comptroller as a business manager. This was embarrassing to the mayor. However in taking office two years ago he had told Mr. Daboll not to mind him but to look after his own bread and butter. Mr. Blakemore said that the city charter had a provision for an assistant to the mayor which could be made a sort of city manager, or purchasing agent, allowing a continuity of policy from one administration to another. Mr. Rice favored a city manager, although he believed the present plan made the mayor or a sort of manager, as he was personally responsible for all money expended by the departments. He favored a purchasing agent whom he thought could save his salary a dozen times each year.

The evening closed with a social hour in the dining room of the club.

FUNERAL OF REV. DR. PRUDDEN
Funeral services for the late Rev. Theodore P. Prudden of Brookline were held last Friday afternoon in the Second Congregational Church at West Newton of which he had been the pastor for thirteen years. There was a large attendance and three clergymen took part in the service.

The pastor, Rev. J. Edgar Park, read from the Scripture. Rev. Samuel C. Bushnell of Arlington offered prayer and Rev. Samuel H. Dana of Exeter, N. H., delivered a eulogy. The church quartet sang three favorite hymns of Dr. Prudden: "The Lord is King," which was sung on the last Sunday that he conducted service in the church; "My Spirit in Thy Care" and "For All the Saints."

The pallbearers were Henry B. Day, Charles A. Wyman, Dr. N. Emmons Paine, A. E. Marsh, C. E. Braman and Henry L. Whittlesey. The ushers included William F. Chase, W. A. Young, B. J. Bowen, Charles R. Fisher, M. Frank Lucas and Clinton L. Eddy. The body was cremated at Mt. Auburn.

BOOK FOR CHILDREN

Of books for children there is no end, yet the really good book of this class is rare. The ideal child's story should not be written in a childish way—neither should it be written from such a mature standpoint that it loses its appeal to children. "Arlo" is a book which, because of its tenderness, its love of nature and of man, is likely to bring both tears and smiles to old and young.

The authors of "Arlo" know the secret of writing for children. As is evident from the very charming dedication, they also know something about small boys. No reviewer can adequately describe in small space the attractive qualities of a book for little children like this one. It is filled with gentle fancies, and it is written in a style which reminds us somewhat of "The Happy Prince," by that genius Oscar Wilde.

—Mr. Herbert Muther of Waverley avenue has returned from Dartmouth College for the Thanksgiving holidays.

—The Woman's Auxiliary of the Newton Y. M. C. A. held a meeting Wednesday afternoon in the Association Building.

—Miss Katherine Burton of Miss Hall's School at Pittsfield will spend the Thanksgiving holiday at her home on Centre street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert R. Griffin and daughter Dorothy left on Monday for Pasadena, California, where they are to spend the winter.

—On Thanksgiving Day services will be held at Grace Church at 8 and 10 o'clock A. M. The offering will be for the Boston City Mission.

—The meetings of the Junior League of the Methodist Church are held Tuesday afternoons at the residence of Mrs. George W. Barber on Newtonville avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Converse, the Misses Evelyn and Madeline Converse, Mr. Frank Lee Converse and Mr. Howard Converse were among the guests at the ball given at Hotel Somerset on Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Benedict of Cambridge.

—Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Warren of Hyde avenue have returned from New York, where they have been extensively entertained by friends during the past week. On Saturday evening they were among the guests at a ball, given by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, at the Hotel Algonquin.

—General Carlo Montanari of the Italian army, who married Miss Helen Ranney Day, the daughter of the late Frank A. Day, in 1904, died at Udine, Italy, on Nov. 9, from wounds received while on duty on the Austrian front. General Montanari is survived by his widow, and two sons and a daughter.

—The Ladies' Benevolent Society of the North Congregational Church hold their annual fair and entertainment on Wednesday afternoon and evening, Dec. 1st. Many new features have been added for this year. A large variety of useful and fancy articles will be on sale and a fine program for the evening is promised.

—The union Thanksgiving service this year will be held Thursday morning at 10:30 at Immanuel Baptist Church. An interesting program has been arranged on the subject of "Reasons for Thanksgiving" of which "In the City" will be given by Mayor Childs, "In the Nation" by Dr. J. C. Ferguson, and "The Church" by Rev. Dr. C. H. Patton.

—Dr. Oliver Van Dyne of Waverley avenue sailed for London last week. He will be absent three months and will visit the great war hospitals of England as he is much interested in the research being done there on the thousands of cases of extraordinary effects produced upon internal organs as a result of the nervous shock incident to modern warfare. This is an entirely new work and opens up vast possibilities in the solution of questions regarding modern methods of treating internal disease by means of the nervous system.

made short gains on line and tackle plays and then punted, the ball passing over the side lines near the end zone. Waltham immediately sent the ball out of dangerous territory on a punt. The first period concluded after Smith had intercepted a forward pass near the Waltham 25-yard line.

Waltham opened in the second period with line plays and followed with a punt to the Newton 40-yard line. The punt was immediately returned and Leary ran the ball back about 12 yards. Waltham then started a strong aggressive game and twice made the required distance, but the advance was checked by a 15-yard penalty.

An exchange of punts followed and Newton made first downs from the 50-yard line, but were soon forced to punt.

The ball was finally advanced to the 32-yard line, where Waltham tried a goal from placement without success. The first half closed without any further scoring possibilities.

Waltham received in the third period and on a punt formation Waltham was penalized for offside play. There was an exchange of punts in this period, Waltham gaining in the distance of the punts, though losing in the runbacks. Newton opened the aggressive game somewhat and successfully worked two forward passes. The penalties in this period were heavy, while Newton tried for a field goal without success.

In the last period the Waltham offense was stronger and the team worked a forward drive, advancing to the 30-yard line. A forward pass received by McGinn figured materially in the advance.

The advance to the goal line stopped when Turner intercepted a forward pass and ran back some 35 yards. Waltham recovered the ball on downs, but on a fumble Vachon took the ball to the 8-yard line. The game then closed, after Waltham had defeated their goal line well when it was greatly endangered.

The two big stars of the game were Capt. Dorney, the Newton center, and Vachon, the fullback. The latter was everywhere and gained most of the ground for Newton, while Dorney, up against Tomlin, Waltham's star, outplayed him.

The Waltham team has presented the football used in the game to the Newton High team, a courtesy which has been greatly appreciated by the local players.

The Waltham team has challenged the Newton team to a play off of the game as soon as possible.

SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur E. Trussell celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding on Friday at their residence on Lothrop street, Newtonville.

It was a very pleasant occasion, and they were recipients of many congratulations, flowers, and gifts of silver. The dining-room was attractively decorated with roses and chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Trussell were married at Warren, Rhode Island, Nov. 12th, 1890, by Rev. Alva E. Carpenter, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, and have resided in Newtonville about eighteen years.

THE CHRISTIAN FORUM

men. Take the making of harnesses. Here you find a certain group of men engage in this activity, the makers of harnesses. And the building of ships calls for a special group of men. Against these special activities we have certain things which are common to all men. All men are concerned about the questions of religion, politics and society. We must all face the question of morals.

The liberal college is an institution that believes and practices a gospel in the midst of the things common to all men. It pays to know and to understand, and to think and to impart and to criticize and to argue and to reflect and to tear down and build up. We want to know about the common things of human life. Our experiences with the fathers of boys on this matter have been very interesting. When we ask a father if he wishes his son to know his religion, nine times out of ten he will avoid the issue, and fall back on the old arguments of custom and tradition. The liberal college demands that the boy who comes to it shall be made to think.

With reference to the War I know nothing except what a terrible stupid thing it is. Did the leaders of these nations at conflict think this out before hand, did they realize that it would be the loss of millions of lives as well as the destruction of millions of dollars worth of property, or did they decide upon it as merely a matter of custom and tradition. The men who were trusted to think out wisely the destinies of these great nations have made a stupid failure of their work.

The liberal college by its efforts to lead young men to think will aid greatly in keeping this country from such scenes of disorder and horror as are witnessed in Europe today.

Some of the questions and the speaker's answers were as follows:—

Is not the war the result of crime? With regard to the first part of the question, let me say again, that in this stage, I don't see how we can have accurate knowledge of the causes of the war. Is not the war the result of the little mistakes. It is the mistakes, the common blunders of the great body of men who can be found in all nations. Personally, I don't believe in crimes. It is the blunders that cause the trouble, not the crimes.

Does freedom of thought lead one away from the Christian fundamentals?

Free thinking doesn't lead you away. It leads you to it. It may be a difference of opinion as to what the fundamentals are?

How should a father conduct himself to his son's success in College?

There is only one thing we want of a father. We have just one request to make of them. We like to have the fathers believe that what we are trying to give to the sons, is worth taking. A father comes when his boy is playing on the football team. The father will go four hundred miles to see him play. If the boy makes the fraternity, the father will talk about it. I tell you what the father can do for him to make the boy successful, and that is to make his boy believe that he loves logic. It is a hard task to teach a boy logic when his father tries to be stupid.

Do you believe that war is ever justified?

I suppose I have to say so. I heard George A. Holmes talk about it. If there ever was one justified, it was the Civil War. It is always your war which is justified. I could tell of cases wherein one would have to fight. I am inclined to think that there is not going to be very much need of it after this war is over.

Do you think it is desirable to institute military training in universities throughout the country?

N. T. H. S.

Tuesday morning the Freshmen assembled in the hall, where they were entertained by several of their classmates, who gave very interesting oral themes concerning the various sections of Newton. Nearly all the parts of the city were represented, and the program was a most enjoyable one.

Arrangements are being made for the annual declamation and public speaking contest on Friday evening, January 14, 1916.

Friday a fire drill was held. The time made was the fastest ever recorded in this school, as the building was entirely emptied in 2 minutes 15 seconds. This shows that in time of emergency the Technical building can be cleared more quickly than most structures of its size.

Wednesday morning all the boys of the school assembled in the hall, where Mr. Palmer made a short address, taking for his subject,—"Fire hazards in the school, in the home, and in outdoor life."

Twenty members have recently joined the Glee Club, which is now organizing for the year.

The new system of grading by percentage figures instead of by letters has been adopted by the Technical School.

MANY ROUTINE MATTERS

Passed by Aldermen at a Long Session Monday Evening

Routine business and a long recess for committee meetings made a late session for the board of aldermen on Monday evening. President Blanchard was in the chair and four aldermen, Pratt, Rice, Jamieson and Harriman were absent.

There were several hearings, most of which were without interest. The Edison petition for poles on Church street was opposed by Messrs. S. W. Tucker and S. C. Stevens and favored by Mr. Gould of the Company. Protests against a public garage at 199 Commonwealth avenue were made by John Blackall and Francis W. Bacon. Hearings on Telephone petitions for poles on Jewett and Bowers streets, of the Telephone and Edison Companies for joint poles on Nobscot road, of A. G. Baker for gasoline license at 54 Chestnut street, and on orders for widening part of Rowe street and on laying out of Oakwood road extension were unopposed.

The following jurors were drawn by Alderman Winslow.—John J. Fitzgerald, Lincoln road, Herbert M. Andrews, Sterling street, Walter S. Wait, Prince street, Benjamin W. Fredericks, Park avenue, and Horace A. Clarke, Centre street.

Mayor Childs sent in a large number of recommendations, including requests for additional appropriations of $100 for Playground Dept. transportation, $125 New Street Lights, $270 New Sidewalks, $100 office expenses, $2875 for fire alarm boxes in school houses, $250 for additional fire extinguishers in school rooms, $250 for care of City Hall, $200 additional Workmen's Compensation, $60 to settle claim Mrs. Hartnett, $2100 additional for Mothers Aid, for small transfers in the Engineering, Buildings Assessing and Treasury appropriations, requests of the City Engineer for clerical assistance in assessment orders and of the Library Trustees that salary of librarian be fixed at the rate of $2500 after Dec. 1st, and report of Street Commissioner of completion Chesley road construction at cost of $1320.18. The Thanksgiving Proclamation of Governor Walsh was placed on file. The City Treasurer reported that the income of the Kenrick Fund was $166.40.

A report was also received from the Buildings Commissioner and Chief of Fire Dept. as to the fire hazard in school buildings.

Petitions of M. S. Perlmutter John T. Burns, John J. Delaney and E. M. Rumery for renewal of auctioneer licenses and of the Edison Co. for one pole in Jewett street were granted. Other petitions received included that of A. Mazzone for transfer of common victualler license to 977 Chestnut street, Moses Bilezikian for billiard table on Washington street, Joseph Angarossa for tool tables on Washington street, Edward Collins for an additional automobile for hire, W. R. Kingwell for a common victualler license on Washington street, Edison Co. for attachments on Maple street, Stone et al for improvement of sidewalks on Carver, Bradford and Plymouth roads, and of Kevorkian et al that dumping be discontinued off Eastbourne road.

On recommendation of committees claims of William Cronin, at $9 per week, Daniel Mahoney at $10 per week, Jeremiah Buckley for $202.50 and $6.75 per week, under Workmen's Compensation were granted, claim of Mrs. Hartnett ordered settled for $60, leave to withdraw granted on claim of V. Sanmartino, for personal damages, for change of fire district lines in ward 3, for the laying out of Charlesbank road extension, for concrete sidewalks on Broadway, and for relocation of drain off Upland road, Waban; inexpedient was voted on request Library trustees

NEWTON MEN HONORED

Boston Chamber of Commerce Elects Liggett and Harriman to High Office

The Boston Chamber of Commerce has honored two residents of this city with the highest offices at its command. Mr. Louis K. Liggett of Chestnut Hill having been elected president at the annual meeting on Monday afternoon and Alderman Henry I. Harriman of Newton being chosen as second vice-president.

Mr. Liggett was born in Detroit April 4, 1875, the youngest son of John Templeton Liggett, who founded the Michigan Mutual Life Insurance Company. At the age of 14 he joined the Detroit staff of John Wanamaker and two years later served that firm as traveling representative. In 1894 he engaged in the dry goods brokerage business in Detroit then first applying the "factory to retailer" principle which led to the development of the United Drug Company.

At the age of 19 he was the first mill broker in Detroit and secured the accounts of 32 important mills, whose goods he sold directly to retailers. He first turned his attention to the drug business in 1895 and his successful exploitation of a headache remedy in competition with similar preparations manufactured and sold by retail druggists suggested to him the possibility of manufacturing and merchandising drug store goods on a co-operative plan.

His actual work of building the Liggett enterprises, however, was begun in 1902, when he carried out with 40 leading druggists a plan whereby retailers, one in each locality, should create a National market for a line of drug store goods of which each druggist should control the sale in his territory. The idea proved successful and new lines were added to meet the public demand.

The formation of the United Drug Company followed, and today it manufactures many of its articles. It has more than 7000 stockholder-distributors.

PLAYS TIE GAME

6 to 6 Score at Annual Newton-Brookline Game

With the worst possible weather conditions, Newton and Brookline attempted to play their annual match in the Triangular League, last Friday afternoon at Tech Field, Brookline, with a 6 to 6 tie as a result.

The home team scored its touchdown early in the first period, after a fumbled punt had been recovered in Newton territory. O'Hearn, whose punting was a feature, failed to kick the goal. Newton had the advantage of a gale and a driving rain in the third period and by constantly attempting forward passes finally succeeded in completing one for a score. Vachon threw the ball to Bryson, who found it too slippery to catch, and Lally, a Brookline halfback, attempted to knock the ball down, batted it into the arms of Garrity of Newton, as he came looping from behind and an easy touchdown resulted. Captain Dorney failed to register the point that would have spelled victory. Brookline's weight gave that team a big advantage on the slippery field, but Comick and Dorney played effectively.

By mutual consent of the captains and players the game was called after four minutes of the fourth period, much to the delight of 2000 spectators. Considering the day, the crowd was a large one and both teams kept the spectators on edge, both by clever plays and somersets caused by puddles.

The tie will not be played off as the Athletic Councils of both schools are opposed to playing post-season games.

ANIMAL RESCUE LEAGUE FAIR

The Animal Rescue League Fair will be held in the ball room of the Coppley Plaza Hotel Monday, Dec. 6th, and Tuesday, Dec. 7th. It will open at 10.30 A. M. Lunch will be served between the hours of 12 and 3 o'clock a la carte. Afternoon tea between 3.30 and 6 o'clock. All donations for the Newton Table will be called for or gratefully received by Mrs. T. A. Plimpton, 131 Sumner St., Newton Centre. Fancy articles or otherwise.

CITY HALL NOTES

Figures furnished by the Buildings Dept. show that 485 permits for new buildings, valued at $2,338,263 and 223 permits for alterations costing $203,037 have been issued to November 1st. These figures indicate a total business for the year of nearly $3,000,000 as compared to a total of $1,813,596 during 1914.

RECEIVES BOTH NOMINATIONS

Mayor Childs Leads in Largest City Primary Ever Held

HON. EDWIN O. CHILDS
Republican and Democratic Candidate for Mayor.

In one of the largest primaries ever held in this city on Tuesday, Mayor Edwin O. Childs received both the Republican and Democratic nominations for mayor.

He was unopposed for the Democratic nomination receiving 319 votes, and contested with ex-alderman Arthur W. Blakemore and Alderman Abbot B. Rice for the Republican nomination winning with a total vote of 1315 to 959 for Blakemore and 817 for Rice. There were 3186 Republican votes cast, 362 Democratic and 252 were thrown out for improper markings, making a grand total of 3800 votes cast. An analysis of the vote shows that Mr. Childs received a heavy Republican vote in the Democratic precincts, and it is common talk that the Republican nomination was given him by Democratic voters.

The only other contest on the ballot was that for Republican nomination for ward alderman in Ward 4, where Alderman Arthur W. Hollis was an easy winner over Harold W. Knowlton by a vote of 257 to 81.

43 women cast their votes for the candidates for nomination for school committee.

The returns were prompt in coming in, the ballot being an easy one to count, telephone figures being on hand by six o'clock. The following nominations were made by Republicans, Mayor, Edwin O. Childs

EDITORIAL

With an appropriation of $400 for placing the Barnard school building in condition for the use of the class of backward children now housed in the dangerous third floor of the Old Clafin school house, and with visions of thousands of dollars of expense in the immediate future to make safe quarters for these children, the question naturally arises as to the advisability of continuing this class for abnormal children. The editor of the Graphic would like to have the question seriously discussed as to how far public money should be expended for unusual and freakish lines in education.

The local marketmen are considerably stirred up over the action of the Bureau of Markets in sending out postcard notices to the effect that Vermont turkeys would be on sale at the Public Market places in Newton Centre and Newtonville on Tuesday at 32 and 33 cents per pound. The local dealers state that Vermont turkeys are extremely scarce this year and that they were selling on Monday afternoon in the Boston market at 38 cents a pound.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Blakemore, who undoubtedly received the largest number of real Republican votes cast at the city primary on Tuesday for mayor, has offered his support to any independent candidate who may be selected by those interested in the good government of our city.

The recommendation of the Library trustees that the salary of the librarian be increased to $2500 ought to meet with a hearty affirmative response from our city government.

"What's the use,"

RELIEF WORK IN EUROPE.

It will be a great pleasure to many Bostonians to know that on the evening of Monday, November 29 at 8.00 Caroline Gardner Bartlett will speak at Park Street Church.

For a number of years Mrs. Bartlett sang in the choir of this church and endeared herself to its members, so there could be no more fitting place for her to tell of her experiences after a year of work in the war zone.

Mrs. Bartlett was in England when the war began and when the Belgian refugees came over she devoted her time in helping to care for them.

After a time she was asked by a physician to go to Belgium as a nurse and thinking that perhaps the greater need was there, she went.

She landed in Dieppe and found there twelve hundred wounded soldiers with only two nurses to care for them and practically no hospital supplies with which to dress their wounds.

Seeing these conditions she returned to England and began collecting necessary supplies and sending them back to Belgium. This was the beginning of what has grown to be a tremendous work, and one which Boston should be proud to have one of her daughters accomplish.

Hospitals and convalescent homes have been established and equipped, striking ammunition workers started back to work again with enthusiasm, and soldiers of many nations cared for through the untiring devotion of "Sister Beatrice," as she is known in England, France and Belgium.

As a recognition of her work and ability the French Government has conferred upon her the habit which she wears and a passport which takes her anywhere she wishes to go to inspect the conditions of the wounded. She is making a tour of this country telling of conditions as she has found them in the hope that she may stir her people to greater interest and enthusiasm in supplying the articles so sorely needed in Stricken France.

CHANGE PRIMARY PLAN

To the Editor of the Graphic.

I should like to call the attention of the citizens of Newton through your columns to the facts which have been proven by the recent municipal primary. A study of the figures shows conclusively to all fair-minded men that the Republican nomination for mayor was obtained for Mr. Childs by Democrats who voted the Republican ticket. In precinct 1 of ward 1, which is a strong Democratic precinct, Mr. Childs had 129 votes, while Mr. Fitts, Republican candidate for alderman had but 40. In precinct 3 of ward 2, another strong Democratic precinct, where Mr. McCall had but 50 votes at the state election, Mr. Childs had 128 and Mr. Price, Republican candidate for alderman had but 22. In ward 4, precinct 2, another Democratic precinct, Mr. Childs had 27 votes to 15 for Mr. Fitts, and in ward 5, precinct 1, Mr. Childs had 59 votes to 42 for Mr. Fitts. In addition the 252 ballots thrown out were marked for Mr. Childs under both party designations, and indicates that many Democrats intended to vote for him as a Republican. All in all, it is safe to say that enough Democrats voted for Mr. Childs as a Republican to make up the difference of 346 votes which was the margin he had over Mr. Blakemore. This situation is extremely galling to every man who likes a square deal, Republican or Democrat, and members of either party who deliberately voted for candidates for nomination in the other party, are no better than political thieves and crooks. No blame can attach to Mr. Childs in this matter, as he is on record as advocating the abolition of party designations at municipal elections and publicly stated only a few days ago that he did not wish the Democrats to vote for him as a Republican. Moreover, Mr. Childs, as a Republican had a perfect right to seek the Republican nomination. The present idiotic primary law was the result of the vote of the state last year abolishing party enrollment and the only remedy in sight would seem to be along the lines of a knock out primary, similar to that in use in Haverhill, where candidates can have their names on the primary ballot without party designations, on filing the necessary number of signatures, the two highest persons at the primary, entering the contest at an ensuing city election, or it might be wise to consider a preferential scheme of voting, which would entail but one election, all candidates having their names on the ballot, the voter marking for a first, second and third choice.

I trust the Graphic will lead a movement for legislation along these lines in order that the present unfortunate situation may not occur again.

OUR STREET RAILWAYS

At the meeting of the Unitarian Club of Newton held last week Thursday evening in Channing Church parlors, Mr. Edward Dana, the superintendent of Traffic of the Boston Elevated Railway Co. gave an interesting illustrated talk on "Some Aspects of Street Railroading." Mr. Dana showed views of the first horse-car used in the early eighties and which were superseded by motor driven vehicles and explained how Boston escaped from the cable railway epoch thru the foresight of H. M. Whitney.

There was then shown the gradual development of the rapid transit system, showing the original elevated structure, the East Boston Tunnel, Washington street tunnel, Forest Hills Extension, East Cambridge Viaduct, Cambridge subway, Boylston street subway as well as the Everett extension, the Andrew Square extension and the East Boston Tunnel extension to Bowdoin square.

The tremendous costs involving fixed charges placed upon the Company were vividly shown and a sub-divided nickel shown by means of a chart, the five-cent piece divided into the various charges from which it was seen that after a business magnitude of over $16,000,000 had been conducted in a year but $10,000 was left as surplus. That such one-sided conditions cannot be maintained indefinitely was made apparent to those who followed the lecture.

Particular interest was attached to the pictures of the growth of power station equipment from the original Allston power station to the formidable South Boston Power Station.

Machinery of the old Allston Power Station could not operate a single elevated car of the kind now used on the elevated lines. One Power Station was shown where as the equipment was being installed on one end of the building, equipment on the other end was being torn out to make room for more modern machinery.

How car service men are hired, examined and trained for their duties was shown by a series of cuts, also the various types of car operated by the Company from the standard 25-foot car up to the Cambridge subway cars being the largest in the country as well as the trailer trains in operation in the Boylston street subway.

The difficulties of meeting the problems of service was explained and the reason why so many people must under the present conditions stand in the rush hours was shown.

TO RUN INDEPENDENT

Alderman Abbott B. Rice, who ran third in the Republican primary for the nomination for mayor on Tuesday announces in an open letter that he will run as an independent candidate at the city election against Mayor Childs.

"The selection of Mayor Childs by a large Democratic vote as the nominee of the Republican party was expected, and, though perfectly legal, no one concedes for a moment that he is the real choice of the Republican voters of Newton."

"As a candidate for Mayor advocating a business administration, feeling sure that the primaries would result as they did, I made no unusual effort to get out the real vote of those whom I believe to be behind me in my fight for good government. Since the primaries I have been urged over the phone, by letter and by personal request by people from all sections of the city, to run as an independent candidate."

NEWTON CLUB NOTES

The Athletic Committee reports a continuing increase in the interest of members in the bowling department, a greater number of strings having been rolled during October and November than in any other similar period of the club's career. There is, however, a deficiency of interest among the ladies, which the committee hopes will be atoned for after the Thanksgiving holidays.

Owing to the sudden illness of several members of the Arcadian troupe the concert of Wednesday, November 17 was changed at the last moment, the substituted performers, Mrs. Helen Runsey Smith, contralto and danseuse, Mrs. Helen Edler Barr, soprano and pianist, and S. Thompson Blood, "The man with the hats," comedian and character artist, giving a great deal of pleasure to an unusually large audience. After the entertainment the ball room was cleared of seats and about forty couples enjoyed dancing until midnight.

On Monday afternoon, November 23, there was a large attendance of ladies at the afternoon bridge party, Mrs. Fred E. Mann, Mrs. W. Lloyd Allen, and Mrs. S. A. F. Ely receiving. The Thanksgiving assembly brought out a large and attractive throng, the ball room being crowded at times. Handley's Orchestra discoursed brilliantly and many new and rich costumes were worn by the wives of members and guests. The matrons were Mrs. Frank L. Nagle, Mrs. G. A. Clapp, and Mrs. C. F. Coombs.

Announcement is made by the Entertainment Committee that tickets are selling rapidly for the moving pictures made by Sir Douglas Mawson. These bird, animal and travel pictures cannot be excelled in interesting and particularly novel features. No one, before this party ever visited the cold and barren regions of the South, and those visited by daring travelers in the Mawson party, is an important one. On Saturday, November 27, the sale of seats will be thrown open to the public. As the privilege of the lecture has been extended by the Newton Club to The Players it is expected that few tickets will remain for public sale and patrons are requested by the management to apply early.

Two performances will be given: a matinee on December 2d at 3 P. M., for school children and an evening performance at 8.30 o'clock. Players Hall has a considerable capacity, but it is expected that its limits will be taxed on both of these occasions.

THE WEST NEWTON MUSIC CLUB

A musical event which will attract a large audience, is the concert and dance on Monday evening, November 29th, in Players Hall, which will be given under the auspices of the West Newton Music Club, for the benefit of the West Newton Music School.

The work of this organization is of great help to young women of talent, "introducing a bit of idealism into their lives" and affording such splendid opportunities for advancement, that the club deserves the generous support of the public.

The West Newton Music Club started nine years ago with five members; it now has fifty active members and fifty associate members. It gives 8 concerts each season to the members, and their guests at the homes of different members. The programs are performed by the active members consisting of pianists, singers, violinists and a harpist.

Because the club was organized in West Newton, it is known by that name, but the membership now includes residents from all parts of Newton as well as Waltham, Watertown, Brookline and Boston.

The entertainment which will be presented Monday evening will be of exceptional merit. Drawing freely upon their individual resources and diversified attainments, the members of the club have evolved a program replete with high class musical compositions, and other entertaining features which will include Benedict's "Hunting Song" by the chorus, composed of Miss Bates, Mrs. Dort, Miss Keach, Mrs. Ross, soprano; Miss Harding, Mrs. Maize, Miss Sampson, Miss Sladen, alto; Messrs. Clarke, Redden, Rice and Quinlan, tenors, and Messrs. Allen, Ayer, Fields and Somers, basses, all singers of ability well known in musical circles in Newton.

"Quartet" by Doppler, for flute, violin, violoncello, and piano, by Miss McLaughlin, Miss Kempton, Mrs. Walker and Miss West.

Two interpretive dances, "Joy" and "Arrow," by Miss Bertha Godfrey, accompanists, Mrs. Golden, Mrs. Walker, and Miss Harding.

Harp, a "Reverie," by Hasselmans; B. "Romance" by Oberthur, Miss Rae Kilmer.

Chorus, "Night" by Rheinberger. Violin Solos. A. "Romance" by Sinding. B. "Praeludium-Allegro" by Pugnani-Kreisler, Miss Hildegarde Nash.

Interpretive Dance, "Will o' the Wisp" by Miss Bertha Godfrey, accompanist, Mrs. Golden.

Chorus, "Recognition of Land" by Grig. The chorus singing will be conducted by Mr. George A. Burdett.

Dancing will follow the entertainment from 10 until 12 in the lower hall. The ushers will act as hostesses and the dance will be as well chaperoned as any given at a private residence and everything possible will be done to make the occasion most enjoyable.

Bond's Orchestra will be in attendance with an excellent up-to-date program of dance music and fruit punch will be served between the dances.

Further particulars may be obtained by addressing Mrs. Norman Marshall, 107 Chestnut street, West Newton, Telephone 366-W Newton West.

THE BOSTONIAN ENTERTAINERS

The Bostonian Entertainers, who are to appear at the Newton M. E. Church, Dec. 6, are known as one of the best concert companies travelling at present. This organization does not consist of one "star" artist supported by a number of indifferent performers, but each artist is of the star calibre. This entertainment is a most interesting one on account of the prominence of the artists and also the attractive program they present, their sections varying from Grand Opera to the better class of ballad music.

HUNNEWELL CLUB

The Thanksgiving Assembly on Tuesday evening attracted a large number of members and guests. The following ladies poured, Mrs. E. O. Gruener, Mrs. Mylert Bruner, and Mrs. J. R. Simpson.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Carl F. Monk of Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, to Moses Shapiro of Boston, Suffolk County, dated May 12th, 1915, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 3968 page 176, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Saturday, the eighteenth day of December, 1915 at three-thirty o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described substantially as follows: "Two certain lots of land with the buildings thereon situated in Newton in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and being lots numbered thirty-five (35) and thirty-four (34) as shown on a plan drawn by C. H. Gannett, dated March 3, 1913 and recorded with Middlesex South District Registry of Deeds, bounded and described together as follows: Beginning on the southwesterly side of Woodward Street at a point one hundred and two (102) feet Northwesterly from the corner of Pine and Woodward Streets, thence the line turns and runs in a southeasterly direction along lot 33 ninety-five (95) feet to Pine Street; thence the line turns and runs in a northeasterly direction along Pine Street one hundred and forty-six (146) feet to Woodward Street; thence the line turns and runs in a northeasterly direction along Woodward Street one hundred and two (102) feet to the point of beginning and containing twelve thousand two hundred and fifty-five (12,255) square feet of land more or less according to said plan. The above premises are conveyed subject to restrictions of record and subject to the restriction that no house shall be built less than twenty (20) feet from Pine Street; subject also to a first mortgage for $5,000 given by said Monk to Mary Isabel Waterhouse recorded with said Deeds."

Said premises will be sold subject to the above mentioned mortgage and accrued interest thereon, subject to the restrictions above mentioned or referred to, and subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax-titles, assessments, betterments, or other municipal liens if any there are.

Three hundred dollars will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, other terms will be made known at the time and place of sale.

MAX M. GINSBURG, Assignee and present holder of said mortgage.

MOCK TRIAL

"Fun Night" attracted a large audience and the members of the Central Club proved themselves first class entertainers, when they presented the "Mock Trial," on Monday evening in the parlors of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville.

Rev. Dr. William E. Strong found it his painful duty to preside over a Breach of Promise Case, and Dr. Strong appeared as a very dignified and austere judge.

Professor Lewis E. Moore who was the fair plaintiff, acted the part of a very demure young lady seeking balm for her wounded feelings; she was stunningly gowned in the latest fashion and wore a large picture hat and was a most conspicuous figure as her counsel pleaded her case.

Mr. Fred E. Mann, faultlessly attired, and with an air of nonchalance, acted the part of defendant, to perfection.

Professor William L. Puffer made an excellent "Clerk of the Court," and Mr. Edward C. Wyatt, was decidedly a winner as "High Sheriff." Messrs Williams and Patey were exceedingly good in the role of "Deputy Sheriffs." Mr. E. W. Hanna was witness for the defendant and Professor Percy Stiles, Assistant for the defendant.

The witnesses for the plaintiff were Professor Irving O. Palmer and Mr. C. W. Davidson.

Mr. Albert M. Lyon was leading attorney for the plaintiff and pleaded his case with great ardor, assisted by the "Junior Council" Mr. Fred L. Edmands.

Mr. Clarence McDavitt was attorney for the defense and Mr. Maurice M. Moore was junior council for the defense.

Professor M. C. Taylor was foreman of the jury and the jurors were Messrs. G. Lyman Snow, Charles R. Lynde, Robert Boyden, B. F. Kenney, Arthur Pierce, H. Belden Sly, Shepherd M. Crain, Fred W. Rust, A. Auryansen and John Byers.

It was a very sensational court-room scene and after much wrangling between the lawyers the verdict was brought in for the plaintiff, allowing her 75 per cent of the earnings of the defendant during the remainder of his natural life.

The trial was extremely funny and the audience was laughing most continuously.

The entertainment was given under the direction of a committee composed of members of the Central Club, under the chairmanship of Mr. Fred E. Mann.

Twins.

One strange prejudice is that which the Kaffirs entertain against twins, that are held to be most unlucky, although, oddly enough, a twin is always expected to be clever. So pronounced is this dislike that in the old days a woman who had twins for the second time was put to death.

Other Folk's Children.

Nature takes care that the maternal instinct shall remain tremendously strong in every class. Even in childless individuals there is seldom a real decay of it. For proof of this statement note that in every civilized community the persons who love best and work most for other folk's children are mature single women.

Fruit as Food.

Fruit is a most important food, not so much on account of the nourishment it contains, for it is nine-tenths water, but because of its valuable acids and organic salts. It is nature's medicine. That is why some say they "cannot eat fruit." It physics them—cleans house. These people should persevere until they are able to eat fruit. Then they will know that their blood is comparatively pure.

NEWTON WELFARE BUREAU

Organized in February, 1915, for the purpose of promoting co-operation among the philanthropic workers in the city.

Its offices are in the rooms formerly occupied by the Newton Associated Charities, Claffin Block, Newtonville, and are open from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M., the secretary, Miss Margaret C. Rich, being personally present between 10.30 A. M. and 12 M.

Any one interested in work of this character or who know of cases of need are invited to notify the secretary.

POLICE NOTES

Sergeant Clay, Liquor Officer Goode, and Officers McAleer and Condrin raided the premises of Nicola Yodoniso on Adams street, Nonantum, on Sunday afternoon and seized two cases of beer, three quarts of ale and one empty keg. In court Wednesday morning before Judge Bacon, Yodoniso pleaded guilty and was fined $75 which he paid.

TRUE PURPOSE OF PRESS

The newspaper that is merely the snapper-up of inconsiderate trifles has no excuse for being. It is a waste of the community's energy, and that of the editor.

The newspaper that stirs up dissension between individuals or classes, that causes disrespect for authority or religion, that wounds without purpose, that never plants a seed without desire of bruising thorn, that panders to personal prejudice, political preference, or financial gain, but not only has no excuse for being, but its editor stands everlasting a debtor to society—to you and to me.

But the newspaper that strives without wearying to unify the community's interests, to promote true culture by broadening the horizon of its readers, to stimulate the good and repress the bad that so closely lie in the sons of men, to arouse a wholesome pride in those things which make men and women and children happier, in short, to make each line of brevity spell service before another purpose—Ah, here in lies the beginning but not the end of the true vision of the newspaper!—From the Kansas Editor.

THE REV. IRL R. HICKS 1916 ALMANAC

The Rev. Irl R. Hicks 1916 Almanac is by far the finest, largest and best ever before printed. The Hicks storm and weather forecasts for 1915 again have proven their truth and value, and this splendid almanac for 1916 should find its way straight into every home and office in America. The Rev. Irl R. Hicks Magazine, Word and Works, and his unique Almanac should always go together, both for only one dollar a year. The Almanac alone is 35c. prepaid. Send to Word and Works Publishing Company, 3401 Franklin Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

LODGES

The members of Fraternity Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of Newtonville, have just received their enlarged pictures, arranged artistically about the offices of the lodge in the center of the photo. The picture has been hung in the lobby of the hall.

MOTHERS' SOCIAL

On Monday evening, November twenty-second, the first of a series of Mothers' Socials was held at the Stearns School. Seventy mothers were present. A short program of music and reading was given by the Misses Carter of Newtonville. After this, the new vocational work of cooking, sewing and household economics, that has been introduced into the Stearns School for girls, and printing, sloyd, carpentry and furniture repairing and practical arts for boys, was described and its purpose explained to the mothers. Coffee and cake were served and the evening closed with games and a Virginia Reel.

The next meeting was set for December thirteenth and a committee of the mothers was appointed to have charge of the refreshments for the meeting.

In addition to the pleasure of the occasion, these socials give a splendid opportunity for the mothers and teachers to become acquainted and also a chance to discuss some of the vital problems that confront both the school and the family.

LODGES

There will be a mass meeting of the Masonic Fraternity of Newton on Monday evening, November 29, in Masonic Hall, Newtonville, at 8 o'clock to discuss matters of vital interest to all Masons.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—Truth and timeliness are the conspicuous virtues which recommend "The Battle Cry of Peace," which on Monday next enters its fifth week at the Majestic theatre, to the great body of patriotic Americans who are flocking in large numbers to the performances every day. The exact portrayal of our condition with reference to withstanding a foreign foe is graphically set forth. The actual operations of the war units and the fighting machines which are at work in war-torn Europe today are conducted with painstaking fidelity to detail. Torpedoes, aeroplanes, cavalry, infantry and artillery, long-range siege guns, bombs, mines and shrapnel, all are employed liberally by the 25,000 soldiers and officers shown in the pictures. An intelligent reading of the war news from day to day is hardly possible without having seen "The Battle Cry of Peace." Furthermore, every American who values his family, his home, his city and his nation can find enduring profit in the vivid exposure of America's unpreparedness. During the engagement, performances will be given twice daily, at 2 and 8 P. M.

APPEALS 12c VERDICT

The Middlesex & Boston Street Railway Co. has filed an appeal from the decision of Associate Justice Copeland of the Newton Court, who a few weeks ago awarded Charles R. Darling, a Newton Centre attorney, a verdict of twelve cents against the railway and the Norumbega Park Company. Mr. Darling sued to recover fourteen cents. This was the amount of his cartage to Norumbega Park and return and two cents for a stamp which he used in protesting against the fare. He was given eight cents, which was the admission to the park, as the theatre was closed, but the company refused to return the cartage.

THE BLUE FLOWER

A French scientist has proved by experiment that a garden full of flowers is more fragrant when shadowed by a cloud than when bathed in sunshine. And you know how sweet is the odor of the lilacs and the old-fashioned flowers when evening comes. Who knows but that your fragrance and your sweetness are the result of the sorrows and the dark days that have been yours?

GRAND OPERA

"The most finished," "the most engrossing," "the most dramatic," "brilliant and gorgeous," are some of the opinions of the critics concerning the wonderful performances of the Boston Grand Opera Co. and the Pavlova Imperial Russian Ballet which is now completing the first half of the operatic season at the Boston Opera House. The assembling of so many grand opera artists of world wide reputation, the great power and beauty of the choral and orchestral units, the acting, the marvellously exquisite dancing, the marvellously exquisite effects and a perfection of ensemble such as has never before been seen in this country. "Madama Butterfly," with the Japanese prima donna; "The Love of Three Kings"; the new mimodramatic opera, "The Dumb Girl of Portici," "I Pagliacci," "Rigoletto," "Otello" and "Boheme" are some of the operas to be seen the coming week while on Saturday evening Mlle. Pavlova and her beautiful dancers, who appear in evening and matinee performance will be seen in a complete program of striking ballets and diversissements at popular prices.

THE BRAVEST FLOWERS

December is not all bleak winter here, by any means. The earlier days are often mild and pleasant, and the harder reminders of the garden year take prompt advantage of any sun-encouragement. During the first week of the month I have found scabious, candytuft and gillardsias in comfortable bloom. Of course I expect to see pansies opening every month in the year, and have not often been disappointed. Then the wallflowers, bless them! do not regard winter as of any importance until at last Jack Frost repeatedly freezes them into insensibility. And on Christmas day, in one of the happy Breeze Hill garden years, I have found and glowingly taken to the home-guests assembled, flowers of the pansy, the English daisy and the wallflower. These latest flowers are doubly appreciated, and have an appeal not possessed by the great, rich greenhouse roses one buys.—J. Horace McFarland in The Country-side Magazine for December.

CASTLE SQUARE—Th marked success of "Within the Law" when it was acted last spring, together with the requests from many who wished to see it again, has induced John Craig to make a revival of the strongest of modern melodramas at the Castle Square Theatre, for one week only, beginning next Monday. Its dramatic intensity have brought it immediately to popularity wherever it is acted, and it has proved itself one of the greatest triumphs of recent years. Mary Young will act Mary Turner, the heroine, for the first time, and the entire company of the Craig Players will be in the cast.

CLASSICAL HIGH SCHOOL

The school session closed at twelve o'clock Wednesday, the periods being shortened to thirty minutes each, with no recess.

The same day the three upper classes were excused from the last two recitations, in order that they might be present at the exercises in the Assembly Hall. Governor Walsh's Thanksgiving Proclamation was read by Mr. Adams. Following this, Mr. Mills of Colorado, who has traveled extensively in the Rocky Mountains, gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the subject of “Grizzly Bears.” Mr. Adams then closed the exercises by announcing that no home lessons would be assigned for the following Monday. This fact made the short vacation all the more welcome to the pupils.

The German Club will meet in the library every third Friday at two o'clock. At these meetings only German will be spoken. Later in the year two entertainments are planned. The officers of the club are as follows: Warren Blake, president; Miss Evangeline Huntley, vice-president; Miss Vera Montague, secretary-treasurer.

Tuesday noon Mr. Adams called a meeting of all the pupils who wished to join the school orchestra.

The November issue of the “Review” appeared Friday, Nov. 19.

The girls' hockey team will play the Alumnæ team at Cabot Park Friday morning, November 26.

As a result of the unexpected tie between Newton and Brookline last Friday, the football situation in the Triangular League has been left in a very unsatisfactory condition. The rain-soaked field and the driving wind were the chief causes of Newton's failure to win the championship. The game was called off six minutes before the full time had elapsed, with the understanding that it would be played over Monday or Tuesday of this week. When Newton tried to arrange the contest, however, the Brookline management absolutely refused to meet the orange and black Tuesday or on any other date. This means that no settlement of the championship will be possible. It does not seem quite right that Friday's storm should be allowed to deprive Newton of its third consecutive football title.

TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Emily G. Balch, professor of social and political science at Wellesley College, spoke to the Seniors and Juniors Wednesday morning. Miss Balch was last year a delegate to the Hague Peace Conference, and had the opportunity of visiting several of the European nations, where she met and talked with the men highest in the governments of these countries. Besides relating some of her very interesting experiences, Miss Balch spoke of the effect of the present war in Europe, and of the apparent acceptability of the peace idea in the countries which she visited.

At the Senior Assembly last Friday morning, several members of the class furnished entertainment by acting out a number of the popular songs.

Tuesday morning the Freshmen assembled in the hall where a short entertainment was given by several members of the Junior Class. This entertainment consisted of a few oral themes by chosen pupils, and songs by Smith, Sullivan, and Cowry.

Eight of the Senior girls have recently taken the Civil Service examination in stenography typewriting. The results of the examination have not yet been announced, but inasmuch as in Senior Classes of previous years this examination has been successfully taken by over fifty girls, over half of whom passed with high honors and received Civil Service appointments, there is every indication that the members of this class have attained high standards.

—Mrs. Margaret McCammon, the wife of Mr. John McCammon, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon at her home on Nonantum street, as the result of a shock. Mrs. McCammon, who has been a resident here for over thirty years, was 65 years of age. She is survived by her husband and one son, Mr. Walter L. McCammon of Auburn-dale. Funeral services were held from her late home yesterday afternoon. Rev. H. Grant Person, pastor of the Elliot Church officiating, and the interment was at the Newton Cemetery.

The Lauriat Company has just issued a very interesting holiday catalogue, which, even aside from its practical value as an aid in selecting books for the season's gifts, appeals to any booklover for its many literary notes, and for the appealing array of books of all sorts which it describes. Incidentally the company's handsome store is crowded these days by buyers wise enough to make their selections early, while the full benefit of the company's unrivalled service can be secured.

Before me,

JAMES B. MELCHER,

Notary Public.

Is the Church Worth While?

THE CHURCH, as an institution, is put on the defensive by some modern thinking. There are those who believe that it has outlived its usefulness; but others are even more assured that it has not. Next Sunday morning the ministers of Newtonville will speak on, “The Church: What it Can Do for Our Day.” If you are inclined to doubt the Church's usefulness, will you not give one of them an opportunity to change your mind?

Mrs. Caleb will give a dinner dance at Brae Burn on Saturday, December 4th.

ELMENDORF LECTURE

Boswell, in his "Life of Johnson," says—"A man who has not been in Italy is always conscious of an inferiority from his not having seen what is expected a man should see." Today, through the invention of the travel lecture and the motion picture camera, one has but to sit in a comfortable opera chair to view the wonders of nature and the works of man in this sunny land.

Dwight Elmendorf has made the way easy. With a selective photographic trip such as he offers, one is enabled to talk freely of the countries visited, which is, after all, one of the primary purposes of travel. At Symphony Hall on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon, Mr. Elmendorf will conduct his hearers on a leisurely trip through "Northern Italy," beginning at the Simplon Pass and continuing through the Italian Lakes to the chief places of interest in the Trentino and Lombardy, before the journey is brought to a close amid the relics of modern and ancient Rome. The subject of the next and last lecture in the course will be: "Southern Italy and Sicily."

BENEFIT CONCERTS

The committee on Concerts of the Frances E. Willard Settlement, of which Mrs. Frederick S. Blodgett of West Newton is chairman has arranged for two concerts with the best of talent to be held at the Copley-Plaza, Boston on Thursday afternoons December 2 and 16. At the first concert, the artists will include, Mme. Louise Homer, one of the greatest of American contraltos, and one who is so well known that her name is sufficient to attract a large audience. Miss Ada Sassoli, who belongs in the ranks of the world's musical geniuses for her mastery and poetical renditions of the music of the harp, will be on the same program with Mme. Homer, and both will be assisted by Mr. Timotheus Adamsowski, the violin soloist for so many years of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

At the second concert on Dec. 16 the artists will be Mme. Marie Rappold, soprano, Miss Aline van Barentzen, pianist and Mr. Hugh Allan, baritone.

INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

Fraternity Lodge A. F. & A. M. installed new officers at its meeting held Friday evening, at the Masonic Building, Newtonville. Mayor Childs being installed as Junior Deacon of the lodge. The ceremonies were in charge of Dr. William O. Hunt, District Deputy Grand Master, assisted by Fred M. Blanchard as Grand Marshal.

The new officers of the lodge are as follows:—
Edward M. Hall, WM; Dwight L. Woodberry, SW; Frank F. Lamson, JW; J. Edward Masters, T; Charles H. Florence, S; E. E. Snyder, SD; Edwin O. Childs, JD; Harry E. Bryant, SS; J. Ellis Gammons, JS; George F. Nudd, IS; A. Sidney Bryant, T; George H. Benyon, M; Rev. Harry Lutz, C. William S. Osborne, the retiring master, was presented with a past master's jewel and apron.

DR. WILKINS' FUNERAL

Funeral services for the late Dr. George H. Wilkins, for some years a practicing physician at Newtonville, were held Saturday morning at 11:30 o'clock from the home of his brother, Mr. Charles L. Wilkins on Page road, Newtonville, and there was a large attendance of relatives and friends. The service was conducted by Rev. Jay T. Stocking, D.D., of Montclair, N. J., formerly the pastor of the Central Congregational Church in Newtonville, which Dr. Wilkins had been a deacon. Dr. Stocking's ministrations were supplemented by several hymns, sung by a quartet. Following the service, the body was taken to Amherst, N. H., for burial.

ANNUAL MEETING

The 32nd Annual Meeting of the Auburndale Village Improvement Society was held in Society Hall, on Wednesday evening. President W. H. Nash in the chair. The meeting was very well attended and was one of the most satisfactory of recent years. The reports of the various committees showed a large amount of time and effort expended for the benefit of Auburndale.

Mr. J. H. Gordon for the Trees Committee reported that careful study had been given to the condition of our public trees. There are 1818 of these along our streets. Some of them should be removed, others trimmed, and with the co-operation of the City Forester the committee hope to see this done another season. 105 new trees of choice kinds have been set along our various streets during the past year.

Mr. E. J. Winslow of the Mosquito Committee submitted an exhaustive report, illustrated by a special map of Auburndale and indicating much painstaking labor and study of this vexing problem. As a result of this study the committee recommended appeal to the city authorities for certain much needed action in this matter, and a resolution to that effect was adopted and ordered sent to the Mayor and Board of Aldermen.

Mr. W. J. Spaulding for the Playground Committee reported that the new playground would be ready for use next spring, and that they hoped to secure bathing privileges in the river near by. Also that the playground for smaller boys at the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Islington road was in process of construction.

The entertainment committee reported a very successful course last season, and that for the coming season every seat had already been sold for the entire course with calls for more. The need of a larger hall for this growing village was strongly emphasized and it is hoped that action toward that end will soon be taken.

It was reported that "Clean Up Day" was duly observed with very beneficial results in the way of a clean, attractive village. The success of this was due largely to the hearty co-operation of the Auburndale Woman's Club, which took the lead in the good work. $22.77 was spent in the work, a considerable amount of it on private property where the owners failed to keep their premises properly clean. Complaint was made of bicyclists riding on our sidewalks and a resolution was adopted calling upon the Police Department for proper action in the matter.

Other matters of interest and improvement were discussed and further action planned. The following officers were elected for the year ensuing:

President, W. H. Nash; vice-presidents, Dr. C. P. Hutchinson, Prof. E. J. Winslow, Mr. W. S. Wagner; secretary, Dr. J. H. Forbush; treasurer, Mr. H. G. Hildreth; Executive committee with above, G. F. Howland, H. E. Goodman, G. W. Hollis, H. W. Knowlton, H. B. Morse. All of the several committees were reappointed by the president. President Nash in closing urged all present to endeavor to secure new members, both men and women, as the co-operation of all is needed for many desired improvements.

"BACHELOR" DINNER

The Imelda Club of Newton, a group of young women gave a farewell bachelor dinner to one of their number, Miss Barbara Stillman, at the Quincy House last Monday night, and after dinner surprised her with a "novelty shower".

Those present were Miss M. A. Burns, Miss M. G. Cannon, Miss A. M. Clifford, Miss M. A. Farrell, Miss A. M. Frazier, Miss M. H. Hanron, Miss H. L. Leonard, Miss M. E. Hodges, Miss M. M. McDonough, Miss A. C. Stillman and Miss S. J. Heyworth.

AWARDED THEIR LETTERS

Football letters have been awarded this week at the Country Day School to the following players, Capt. Robert Stone, Francis Shepard, Reddington Fiske, Jr., Sumner Roberts, Edward Clark, Charles Thorndike, Paul Cabot, Richard Hollowell, Buckingham Butterfield, Philip Newton, Norman White, Francis Cummings, Alfred Freunig, Alfred Douglass, Harry Atkinson, Charles Cabot, James Arnold Lowell, Jr., Harry Harris, Philip Parker and Manager William Clafin.

TREMONT THEATRE—"The love story of a business man" is the way that "Quinn's" is characterized, the new English play opening at the Tremont Theatre on next Monday night. "Quinn's" is both a novel and a play. The background, the antique shop, with high lights on handsome pieces, is unusual and effective as seen in the theatre. The love story of Quinn and his wife is said to be one of infinite tenderness and always perfectly natural, while in later years his devotion to her and to his daughter is unceasing. The English company which will be seen here includes Frederick Ross, Margaret Watson, Peggy Rush, Arthur Grenville, Cathleen Nesbitt, Cecil Fletcher, Herbert Evans and Cyril Griffiths. There will be the usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

CELEBRATE WITH LIGHT

Next week is Electrical Prosperity Week. It is the culmination of the biggest National campaign ever undertaken in this country. Its idea is to stimulate the interest of people in things electrical, get them to ask questions so that they will know how much electricity will do for them in all the lines of activity, and to take advantage of this wonderful development of electricity for their own comfort, convenience and saving in expenses.

We are enjoying an unheard of prosperity in this country. One of the best ways to show that we appreciate how much that prosperity means for all of us, is to celebrate Electrical Prosperity Week with light.

Too many times people imagine that the only way to celebrate an enterprise or an occasion of any sort is to do something big and wonderful, but everyone can participate in this celebration. Everyone who uses electric light can enjoy a part in the observance by simply, for example, leaving the piazza light burning each night during Prosperity Week.

Every merchant will want to brighten up his store and light up. If he does nothing more than to clean his lamp shades and put in fresh lamps, he will add to the general celebration and to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Above all, people should not forget that it is only a few weeks to Christmas time and "Shop Early" is the best way to help the tired clerks, the overworked merchant, and for their own interest to get the best selection.

The motto everywhere should be "Shop Early" and "Do It Electrically."

MADAME COUDERT AND PASQUALE AMATO

The concert in Symphony Hall next Sunday afternoon, November 28th, will present two distinguished singers, one of whom is new to Boston and the other a favorite of many years standing.

These are Madame Clarisse Coudert, mezzo-soprano, and Pasquale Amato, the principal baritone of the Metropolitan Opera House. Madame Coudert, a member of the distinguished Coudert family of New York and the wife of Mr. Conde-Nast, the publisher, is making her first appearance in this city. She has been making a specialty of songs and is said to sing them with much distinction.

Mr. Amato has not been heard in Boston for a year. The beauty of his voice and the skill of his singing long since built up a very considerable public for him here.

WOMEN'S CLUB

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

On Wednesday, Nov. 17, Dr. John C. Ferguson gave before the Social Science Club a "Survey of Chinese Art," which presented it to the members in an entirely new aspect. During his long residence in China he has made an exhaustive study of the subject, so that he was able to bring to his audience the message of the true spirit of Chinese art. It is only during the last ten or fifteen years that such knowledge has been brought to the western world and the fault is ours that we have not known it earlier. Our idea has been that their art is commonplace, rudimentary and tawdry, which is not at all the case. It would be quite as fair to judge the Chinese people for those who come over her, as it is to judge of the Russians and of Italians from those whom the traveller encounters in merely passing through a country. The art expression of the Chinese is the expression of the few. There is a long list of illustrious men in art and the literature is a large one. Scholars are constantly amazed at the immensity of the field.

We have failed to appreciate the fundamental principle of Chinese art, like that of Greece, namely, the interrelation of art and literature. In China no one is ignorant of the traditions of his people and the artist sees the real soul and draws out the essential spirit. In the beginning they attempted to idealize the forces of nature about them. In their philosophy they place man not at the head but at the foot of the universe and make him subordinate to the forces of nature, hence in much of their art representation man is the inconspicuous object in the landscape.

Dr. Ferguson showed photographs of examples of the early bronzes and referred to the fine collection to be seen in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. These show fine lines in form and excellent workmanship. They were first used for food and national ceremonies and later in household for decorative purposes. It is the duty of the Chinese to express himself artistically as well as accurately, and the very writing of the Chinese is a fine art. The process and its difficulty was described. A bad handwriting is the mark of an uneducated or illiterate person. Another expression of their art is found in the stones, but sculpture has never reached a very high state, their highest ideal being to express in writing. Hand in hand with writing came painting. Landscape, which is of late development in the west, came in China at a very early age. In representing the human figure they consider what is individual not of so great importance as that which belongs to the class, so if they were representing a portrait of a man or a statue, they set forth not the individual likeness, but the characteristics that all men hold in common. The great men of China have always been art patrons; often the great artists have been the men of public affairs. Today the best painter in Peking is attached to the Board of the Interior; the good scholar is often the good painter also.

Brief reference was made to the pottery and porcelains and Dr. Ferguson closed by enumerating the three great underlying principles, restraint, suggestion and the appeal to the permanent elements of human character.

A lecture on "The Family Budget" was given before the Woman's Club on Monday, Nov. 15, by Mrs. Harriet L. B. Darling. After defining the word "budget" as an estimate or tentative division based on past expenditures, Mrs. Darling showed charts relating to the division of income and talked particularly of incomes ranging from one to five thousand dollars. She said that according to Mr. Chapin's estimate nine hundred dollars was the smallest income which could provide the essentials of life for a family of five living in New York City. This she felt would be equally applicable to those living in any large city, while in a rural community the same amount would provide a much more comfortable living. Income comprises more than salary or profits; all resources, including even garden produce, must be classed as income. The principal division of income are those for shelter, food and clothing. About one fifth of the budget is devoted to shelter and this proportion does not vary greatly in the incomes considered, while the proportion devoted to food varies inversely to the size of the income so that from an income of $1000 one fourth should be apportioned to food; while from that of $2000 or more, only one fifth should be devoted to the purchase of raw material. The expenditure for clothing would naturally vary, but one sixth of an income of $4000 would be a fair proportion for this division. Another sixth should be allotted to operating expenses under which are classed service, light, fuel, etc. The rest of the income must be apportioned to cover insurance and other forms of savings and investments, philanthropies, religion, recreation, and education, the last item having little place in the budget of $1000 or less.

Since women spend from eighty to ninety per cent of the family income, each woman should regard herself as an efficiency engineer and have for her ideal in the division of income the welfare of each member of the family. At the conclusion of Mrs. Darling's lecture, Mr. Horace Hall, Supervisor of the Newton Public Markets, explained the aims of the city in regard to the operation of the markets and told of their growth in the last six weeks from one vehicle on opening day to twenty-nine wagons and trucks last week. Mr. Hall answered all queries to the very evident satisfaction of the club members.

Mrs. Harry C. Walker, the hostess, was assisted at the tea which followed by Mrs. Herbert R. Lane and Mrs. Charles C. Blaney.

UNION CLUB DAY

On Monday afternoon the five small clubs of Newton Highlands together with the Pierian Club of Upper Falls united to observe what has been known for several years as Union Club Day. The thought of organizing one large club is growing, but as yet nothing further than this has been done. Notwithstanding the inclement weather the vestry of the Congregational Church was well filled and a delightful informal social atmosphere prevailed. The women were received by the six different clubs, Mrs. Durbin of the Epworth Reading Circle, Mrs. Eastbrook of the Pierian Club, Mrs. Marshall of the Monday Club, Mrs. Keith of the West End Literary, Miss Dorr of the C. L. S. C., and Mrs. W. J. Bicknell of the Shakespeare.

Mrs. L. H. Marshall presided over the program, which included violin selections by Mr. Emory Leonard and songs by Miss Margaret Elgee and an address by Mrs. Irving O. Palmer on "The Evolution of the Club Woman." Mrs. Palmer quoted from an old dictionary the definition, "Woman, the female of man. See man." Today she is no longer merely the female of man, but the richest person in the world, with the world as her opportunity. Since the industries have been gradually taken out of the home and she has obtained a new leisure; the word home, once referred to as the "deserted workshop," has taken on a new meaning. Woman has found in this larger home of the community many opportunities for this leisure and thus has inevitably been drawn into social service. With this enlarged opportunity for education, and for service, it has been natural that organizations have sprung up and hence the woman's club. The early inscriptions give evidence in Greece and in Africa of something of this sort. In colonial times Anne Hutchinson was banished among other reasons for daring to form such an organization, but it was not until after the Civil War that real women's clubs came into being. Sorosis in New York and the New England Woman's Club in Boston being both organized in 1869. In 1889 instead of two there were ninety-seven scattered over the country. At first they were training schools for self-culture, but gradually they have found work outside to do and today the world realizes the power of the whole movement. Mrs. Palmer traced the growth of the movement, the formation of the various Federations and gave a brief description of the last Biennial convention of the General Federation. In closing she quoted Julia Ward Howe's words, the motto of her life, "To learn, to teach, to serve and to enjoy," as one which all women may make theirs.

A social hour followed, representatives from four of the clubs presiding over the tea table, Mrs. Eastbrook, Mrs. Keith, Mrs. Durbin and Miss Dorr.

CATHOLIC UNION BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Catholic Union of Newton Wednesday Nov. 17, in Temple Hall, Newtonville, was a pronounced success. More than 200 members and guests were present. The guests and speakers were Rev. Fr. Slattery, P.R., who recently became pastor of the Church of Our Lady, Newton; Mayor Childs, Rev. Fr. A. S. Malone, James S. Cannon, Street Commissioner George E. Stuart and Ernest Hermann, superintendent of Playgrounds. The presiding officer was the president, Edward H. Mitchell, and the toastmaster was Warren Clear. All the speakers were given an enthusiastic welcome.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Mr. Fred B. Leavitt, a life long resident of Newtonville, died last Saturday morning at his home with his sister, Mrs. F. A. Barrett on Washington park, as the result of injuries received the afternoon before, when he was struck by an automobile. Mr. Leavitt who is employed by the Newtonville Post office special delivery business was crossing Newtonville square about five o'clock with a gale blowing at the time, when he was struck by an automobile owned by J. A. Farmer of Waltham and driven by Lewis A. Brown of that city. The accident was probably due to the fact that Mr. Leavitt was hard of hearing and the driving rain obscured the vision of the driver of the automobile. Mr. Leavitt was taken home, where it was learned that his liver was badly hurt causing internal hemorrhages. He was 48 years of age, and a son of the late O. B. Leavitt. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Barrett and Mrs. Harry W. Bingham of Watertown.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Frederic A. Barrett, on Washington park.
An impressive service was conducted at quarter past two by Rev. Rufus Dix, pastor of the First Universalist Church.
Miss Marie Sladen, of the Universalist Church quartet, sang “Crossing the Bar,” and “Beautiful Isle of Somewhere.”
There was a large attendance among them, a delegation from the Salvation Army of which Mr. Leavitt was a member.
The burial was in the family lot in the Newton Cemetery.

—Twelve Waban girls have been organized and taken the name of Onaway Camp Fire Girls and Mrs. John B. May of Waban avenue is their guardian. Meetings are now held at the home of Mrs. May.

—Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Conant of Moffatt road entertained Mr. and Mrs. Newton Stanley and daughter Thelma of Newton, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Conant of Wellesley over the Thanksgiving holiday.
—A surprise party on Tuesday evening took the form of an old-fashioned donation party to Rev. J. C. Sharp, many of the parishioners attending and enjoying the event of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

—The children of the Roger Wolcott School sent out 12 boxes on Wednesday each containing a complete Thanksgiving Day dinner for as many different families in other parts of Newton. This has become an annual custom with the school and the collection of money and vegetables gives much pleasure to the teachers as well as the pupils.

—Mrs. J. Earle Parker's class of boys of Union Church Sunday School are enjoying the series of parties held semi-monthly at the homes of members, each of the dozen boys taking their turn in entertaining. Dudley Rhodes entertained last Saturday evening and Chester Scott will have the boys at his home Saturday, December 4th.

—At a fire early Tuesday morning in the residence of Mrs. Ann Kenney on Beacon street, Mrs. Kenney who is an invalid and 90 years of age, was taken from the house by her two sons. The fire started on the stairs leading to the cellar. The building filled with smoke, and, though it is but a story and a half high, the occupants were trapped on the upper floor. Only by groping their way down a stairway that escaped the flames did the men succeed in getting their mother to safety. The damage to the building was several hundred dollars.

—On Tuesday of this week a meeting of the women of Waban was held in the Union Church vestry, the meeting being called by Mrs. Kimball, President of the Waban Women's Club, Mrs. Parker, President of the Sewing Circle of the Union Church and Mrs. Winchester, President of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Good Shepherd. Mrs. Angier was elected chairman and it was voted to act as a branch of the Newton South Allies' Relief Association. The three organizations mentioned above have, or will each appropriate a sum of money for the work and meetings will be held in the Union Church vestry on Tuesday of each week, at which time the ladies will sew for the work.

—Over two hundred enjoyed the excellent turkey supper served by the ladies of the Union Church last Friday evening at the second sociable of the season, a corps of thirty under the leadership of Mrs. Joseph Congdon giving very good service. Following dinner a talk on the Panama Canal was given by Mr. Edward Sherman illustrated by stereopticon, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Isola. This was very interesting coming from a neighbor possessing intimate knowledge acquired during a two-year residence; Mr. Sherman being one of the engineers engaged on the work at that time. Mr. Sherman's pictures were very good and to his interesting talk were added bits of humor as in his description of rapid vegetable growth and some of the domestic animals.

THE YOUNG MUSICIANS CLUB

The Young Musicians Club held its first meeting this season on Saturday, Nov. 20th at the home of Miss Helen Douglas, Bowers street, Newtonville. The following officers were elected: Miss Gertrude Barry, president; Miss Dorothy Eames, vice-president; Miss Hazel Cunningham, secretary and Mr. Herbert Stevens, treasurer.

An interesting program was enjoyed by members and friends present. Those taking part were Eleanor and Jennette Martin, Paul James, Esther Stiles, Herbert Stevens, Helen Dodge, Elsa Haase, Miss Hazel Cunningham, and Miss Evelyn Burnham. A social hour followed the program.

WINS LAST GAME

In the final game of the season Newton High beat Wellesley, 6 to 0, yesterday forenoon.
Although lighter, Wellesley gave Newton a hot argument and the touchdown was a piece of luck. In the second period, after his team had been thrown back twice for a loss, then penalized half the distance to its goal, Capt. Finnerty tried to punt from behind his goal line. He was forced to hurry the kick and missed the ball. In the scramble, Dorney fell on it for a touchdown.
All through the visitors held Newton even and at one time took the ball on downs when within six yards of the goal line.

FURS AND FUR COATS

For Men and Women

We have the largest stock of Furs and Fur Coats at Moderate prices this season that we have ever shown.

We contracted for our furs last spring when prices were the lowest that we had seen them for years. These were all delivered to us in the late summer.

Since we received our furs the prices have advanced from 50 to 100%.

We are NOW selling Our Furs at Retail for less than we could purchase them at wholesale today. This is a Fur Year when it will pay you to look around before you buy.

WE SPECIALIZE IN MEN'S AND ### WOMEN'S RACCOON COATS

Quality COUNTS in nothing so much as FURS. Furs of quality are different. One does not Buy Furs often. The kind we sell last a lifetime. Our Reputation back of Furs counts in their wear.

REMEMBER—Cost is not what you pay, but what you get in value for your money. Come in and look them over; there's no obligation to buy. It's a Pleasure to Show Them.

leading cities of America and Europe.
Mr. Liggett applied his co-operative plan to the tobacco business in 1905 when he organized the National Cigar Standards Company, and extended it in 1908 with the organization of the United Druggists' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, through which United Drug Company stockholders co-operatively insure their own property. In 1909 he first became a power in the retail drug field by organizing the Louis K. Liggett Company.

Later he consummated the biggest deal in the history of the drug business by purchasing for the United Drug Company the assets of the Riker-Hogeman-Jaynes chain of more than 100 stores, thus making the United Drug Company the largest manufacturing, importing, wholesale and retail organization in the drug field.

As head of the United Drug Company Mr. Liggett controls a business totaling more than $35,000,000 annually.

He is a director in 20 concerns, among them the American Trust Com-

REAL ESTATE

William J. Cozens of Newton and Newton Highlands has sold the estate at 291 Bellevue street, Newton, for Charles Edward Riley of Newton to
F. W. Pierce of Newton, who will occupy the same in the near future. The property is assessed on $3000 of which $4300 is on the house and $1000 on the land.

The same broker has sold a lot of land on Read Court, Newton Centre, for Herbert I. Ordway of Newton Centre to Jane K. Milliken of Waban, who will at once commence the erection of a dwelling thereon. The lot, which contains five thousand square feet, is assessed on $1000. William J. Cozens also reports the following rentals:—
284 Lake avenue, Newton Highlands for Mrs. Virginia King of Newton Highlands to Ernest N. Stevens of Boston.

989 Boylston street, Newton Highlands to J. C. Loughrey of Allerton.
1157 Walnut street, for C. E. Cline of Frederick, Maryland, to Irving J.
Burns of Newton Centre.

lands, for H. P. Grey to Mr. F. Hunter.

SHUBERT THEATRE—The profitable association of Henry Blossom and Victor Herbert as writers of musical comedy will be happily renewed at least, so far as playgoers of this city are concerned, at the Shubert Theatre, beginning next Monday, Nov. 29, when their latest musical comedy success,
"The Only Girl," which ran for over three hundred performances in New York, last winter, at the Lyric Theatre, will be revealed for the first time here. Victor Herbert, assuredly our leading light opera composer, together with Henry Blossom, forms the only American partnership which can be mentioned when the discussion shifts comparatively speaking, to Gilbert and Sullivan. With "Mlle. Modiste," "The Red Mill," and "The Prima Donna" already to their credit, their latest product, "The Only Girl," looms up as one of the most delightful efforts of their collaboration. "The Only Girl" is said to sparkle with gay, dashing, melodious and swinging music, and to be of such delightful quality that it alone would have assured great success, even if Henry Blossom had not written such a beautiful libretto.

PARK SQUARE THEATRE—All good things must find an end to their goodness, all roads lead to somewhere, and the pleasantest of visitors must at some time depart. This leads to the announcement that "Twin Beds" is due to leave the Park Square Theatre, Boston, in a fortnight. It is many years since a farce has made such a record of unflinching success as has this merry play of Margaret Mayo and Salisbury Field. Week after week has seen a succession of crowded houses, and many have been so enamored of its delights that they have witnessed it over and over again. There are many reasons for this state of popularity, chief among which is its absolute cleanliness in presenting scenes provocative of rollicking hilarity, the extreme efficiency of its company of farceurs and the excellence of the production provided by Selwyn & Co.
Matinees are on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

MANY ROUTINE MATTERS

that its employees be exempt from vacation ordinance, on request of school committee that city messenger have charge of flags on school buildings, and on the offer to purchase land of city on Washington and Putnam streets.

Curbing assessments were levied on Adams and Beech streets, and sidewalk assessments on Lincoln street, a sewer was authorized to be laid on Commonwealth avenue, permission granted Catherine Richardson to take part in an entertainment in Players Hall, $395.50 authorized for fire extinguishers in sloyd school rooms, a pole location on Newtonville avenue granted the Edison Co. a grant of $12,290, made for city expenses, Workmen's compensation granted to Patrick McCarthy at $17.92 per week, a transfer of $861 made to Public Property maintenance and the city treasurer authorized to receive $144 on account of ornamental posts in Nonantum square.

Alderman Forknall, who dissented from the report leave to withdraw of the Public Works committee on the proposed change of name of Newton-ville avenue, said that he had intended to oppose the adoption of the report but had been advised by the petitioners that they did not care to press the matter any further. He said that the petitioners represented a taxable valuation of over $500,000 while the remonstrants represented only $93,000 and he believed that the petitioners had some rights in the matter. He regretted the fact that he could not continue the fight and denied that he had used any influence with the board on this matter. Alderman Early said that the committee had given two hearings on the matter and the most careful consideration. The petition called for a new name for only part of the street.

This would require a change in street numbers at the Newtonville end of the street. The name of Newton-ville avenue now gave the impression that it was a thoroughfare to Newtonville, as it was. The movement in favor of a change had been started by a new corner on the street which had had some difficulty in having packages left at his residence. The name of Mount Ida road as proposed would conflict with the names of two other streets and the difficulty would only be transferred to others. There was also the objection made by conveyancers to the change of name and the ensuing additional work made necessary on all real estate transfers. The board then accepted the report leave to withdraw.

Alderman Hollis opposed the order for $85 for placing stalls in the urinals at the Hyde school, saying that one third of the school buildings in the city were in a similar condition. If the thing is an evil it ought to be remedied in all the schools. If it is not an evil why should the Hyde school be favored with an unnecessary appropriation. Alderman Cox said that as the city had adopted a policy of stalls for automobiles it ought to continue along that line even for urinals. He saw no harm in doing the work if the parents wanted it and favored having all the schools equipped in a similar fashion. Alderman Hapgood said the matter had been strongly urged by the residents of Newton Highlands, the master of the school and the school committee. The order was then adopted with Alderman Hollis voting in opposition.

Alderman Bartlett explained the order for $500 for settlement of sewer taking claims at Chestnut hill by saying that the matter was now in court and might involve damages ranging as high as $3000. The committee and the city solicitor believe it best to settle for $500, and the order was adopted.

Alderman Bartlett stated that the order for $400 for repairs for the Barnard school was for the purpose of preparing a place where the class of backward children now housed in the third story of the Old Clafin school house, might be accommodated and would probably lead to the re-opening of the Barnard school for the next school year. The order was then adopted.

Orders were introduced for a petition to the Legislature for legislation to prohibit the transportation of liquor into No license territory, and for $450 for snow guards on the roof of the Emerson school, both of which were referred to committees.

Alderman Bartlett explained the resolution offered by a joint committee requesting the new mayor for 1916 to consider the appointment of a clerk to keep records of all purchases and to investigate prices paid by the city. He said that there was hardly enough evidence to warrant the board to ask for legislation to establish the office of Purchasing agent and it was deemed best to have an investigation made of the whole matter by the incoming mayor. The resolution was then adopted.

An order for $1200 for shower baths at the Bowen school was passed after President Blanchard had stated that it had been endorsed by the board of health and school committee and was intended to give residents of Thomp-sonville accommodations similar to those furnished at the Stearns school, Nonantum.

The board adjourned at 10.43.

BELGIAN RELIEF CONCERT

The net proceeds of the concert given at the Players Hall, West Newton, 29th October last, by Belgian artists, in aid of the Cercle Esperanza organization for Belgian relief amounted to $233.24. While the talent of the performers was of a very high order, and all present were greatly pleased with their efforts, credit is due Mr. P.
W. Carter, Rev. E. M. L. Gould, and Mrs. Carl Whittemore for the large sales of tickets made by them. Those who enjoyed the concert will be glad to know that there is a probability that the same artists will give another concert in the Newtons in the spring.
